Letter from the Superintendent of Schools Dr. Malinda Cobb

Dear Richmond County School System Families,

Welcome to the 2026-2027 school year!

Whether your children are taking their very first steps into Pre-K, entering a new grade, or preparing for high school graduation, we are honored to take this journey alongside your family.

We enter this year with fantastic momentum. Thanks to the hard work of our community partners, the Richmond County School System made remarkable progress. Together, we reduced chronic absenteeism by nearly three percentage points, keeping more students connected and engaged in the classroom. Furthermore, the historic Class of 2026 earned more than $41 million in scholarships, unlocking doors to higher education, careers, and military service.

As we carry these successes into the new school year and continue implementing our Strategic Plan, our focus remains absolute: improving student achievement and ensuring safe, welcoming learning environments for everyone.

We are incredibly excited for all that lies ahead and look forward to another year of growing together. Thank you for your continued partnership and for being an essential part of our school system family.

Wishing you a wonderful school year,

Superintendent of Schools

Mission: Empowering Every Learner, Every Day.

to thrive, adapt, and lead in an ever-changing world.

TALENT SPOTLIGHT

A Day In the Life

Yvette Ferrell
School Nutrition
Manager
A. Dorothy Hains
Elementary School

After 22 years with the Richmond County School System, including 18 years as the school nutrition manager at A. Dorothy Hains Elementary School, Yvette Ferrell still finds joy in the small things: a morning hug, a student's smile, or the chance to help a child start the day feeling cared for and ready to learn.

Each day, Ferrell helps serve breakfast and lunch to more than 380 students, knowing that a healthy breakfast can set the tone for a successful day of learning. More than a place to eat, she sees the cafeteria as a space where students feel welcomed.

By 5:45 a.m., Ferrell is usually already at school with a smile on her face and music playing as her team begins preparing meals for the day. She takes pride in the work that happens behind the scenes, baking, cooking, washing dishes, cleaning, and preparing everything students need for breakfast and lunch.

Ferrell's care for students often shows up in quiet, personal ways. Whether she is helping a child clean up before lunch or providing a warm coat on a cold day, she is always looking for ways to meet students' needs. She keeps extra clothing and shoes on hand for children who may need them, ensuring they feel comfortable, cared for and ready to learn.

"My bishop taught us to always look out for one another," Ferrell said. "It doesn't have to be your child."

Ferrell credits her team for helping make the cafeteria feel like family. After more than two decades of service, she still sees her work as a blessing, one full belly, one hug, and one smile at a time.

Serving Up Success: Chef Kanesha Roberts

2026 RCSS Teacher of the Year
Top 10 Finalist for Georgia Teacher of the Year

What started as an ordinary school day at George P. Butler Comprehensive High School quickly became one Chef Kanesha Roberts will never forget.

Surrounded by her colleagues and culinary arts students, Roberts learned she had been named one of the Top 10 finalists for the 2027 Georgia Teacher of the Year during a surprise visit from State Superintendent Richard Woods. The recognition places Roberts among the state's most outstanding educators after completing a rigorous, multi-stage selection process that evaluates classroom excellence, instructional leadership and the ability to serve as an ambassador for public education.

"Chef Roberts represents the very best of what it means to be an educator in the Richmond County School System," Superintendent Dr. Malinda Cobb said. "Being named a Top 10 finalist for Georgia Teacher of the Year is a remarkable honor, and we are incredibly proud to see her passion for students recognized at the state level." Roberts was named the 2026 RCSS Teacher of the Year during the school system's annual banquet in September.

Set Your Child Up for Success: Parent Tips That Work

- 1 Encourage regular attendance every day: Regular attendance at school is directly tied to academic success. Studies show that students who do not attend school regularly struggle with daily assignments. That impacts grades, grade-level promotion, graduation requirements, and workforce readiness for the future.
- 2 Attend Parent/Teacher Conferences: Schools host parent/teacher conferences in the fall and spring semesters. These are great times to connect with your child(ren)'s teachers and chart their path to success. Parent/Teacher conference periods are included on our academic calendar at rcboe.org/calendar. Reach out to your child(ren)'s school for specific dates.
- 3 Navigate Your Child(ren)'s Learning with Canvas: Canvas is our online learning platform where teachers post lessons, assignments, and helpful resources to support classroom learning. We offer a free online orientation to guide families through the process. Visit rcboe.info/CanvasCourse to take the orientation for students and parents.

- 4 Monitor Grades and Behavior in Infinite Campus: The Infinite Campus Parent Portal isn't just for communication. You can view your child(ren)'s grades, attendance, and daily behavior through the Spotlight behavior management system. Visit rcboe.org/spotlight to learn more.
- 5 Prepare for Virtual Learning: Our academic calendar includes two virtual learning days where students will complete assignments on their school-issued devices. Support your child in using their devices responsibly by taking the PowerUp for Parents Course at rcboe.info/powerupparents.

High School Programming & WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

We Help students build real-world skills and earn industry-recognized credentials before graduation. These career pathways combine academic courses with hands-on learning in fields like construction, cybersecurity, health science, and more. With more than 30 CTAE pathways available across our schools, students in middle and high school can explore careers they're passionate about while preparing for college or the workforce.

Visit rcboe.info/ctae-curriculum-map to see a full list of course offerings and contact your school counselor to learn which CTAE pathways are offered in your child(ren)'s school.

Work-Based Learning & YOUTH APPRENTICESHIP

Many of our high schools offer programs that combine classroom learning with productive, structured work experiences to help high school students pursue their career goals.

Contact your school counselor to learn more about program offerings and requirements.

TALENT SPOTLIGHT

Tristen Brucke

*RCSS Communications Intern
Academy of Richmond County*

Hello Richmond County! My name is Tristen Brucke, and this summer, I've had the incredible opportunity to serve as an intern in the RCSS Communications Department through the Students2Work program. When I first applied, I wanted to get some experience under my belt while getting a jump-start on my professional career. After getting over my initial interview jitters, I was thrilled to be selected for the role.

Our journey began with a week of professional training, where we learned essential workplace skills like collaboration, team building, and professional networking. Putting those lessons into practice at the central office has been an incredibly smooth and exciting experience.

Day-to-day, my responsibilities include coordinating photo shoots and interviews for our summer camps, editing photos, and learning the ropes of video production. Getting to master professional tools like Adobe Photoshop and Lightroom has been fantastic, but my absolute favorite part of the job is working alongside and learning from some of the most talented individuals in Augusta.

Looking ahead, I plan to keep evolving my craft, expanding my personal photography portfolio, and building on everything I've learned here. If you are looking for a way to grow your skills and your confidence, I cannot recommend the Students2Work program enough.

A Place to Belong, EXPLORE & GROW

Chrissonna Flint: 2025-2026 Media Specialist of the Year

At Pinehill Middle School, the media center began as a room where students learn but has grown into a place where children become thinkers and dreamers. Under the leadership of Chrissonna A. Flint, M.Ed., the media center has fostered a community where everyone is encouraged to discover who they are.

Flint, who has served as Pine Hill's media specialist for three years, was named the RCSS Media Specialist of the Year, an honor she describes as both humbling and meaningful.

"Being named Media Specialist of the Year reflects my passion for helping students develop a love for reading and grow as learners," Flint said. "Knowing the important role media specialists play in shaping how students experience reading, research, and learning makes this honor even more special."

For Flint, the work begins with belonging. She believes students need spaces where they feel free to be themselves. In her media center, students can find books that reflect their own experiences and help them feel connected to the world around them.

Through literacy initiatives such as Paws to Read, First Chapter Friday, Book Tastings, and monthly themed Beanstack challenges, including the March Madness

Reading Tournament, Flint creates opportunities for students to engage with reading in fresh and memorable ways. Competitions such as Comics & Cookies and Poetry Slam provide students with additional outlets to explore their creativity, build confidence, and share their voices.

"Moments like these remind me how important it is to create experiences that make reading meaningful and engaging," Flint said.

Beyond books, Flint's work supports the broader mission of Pine Hill Middle School and RCSS. The media center functions as an active learning lab where, by doing research with fellow students, they learn how to collaborate, evaluate information and develop their critical thinking without the need for traditional drills.

Driving Engagement: POWERED BY GOLF

New This School Year!

The Richmond County School System is expanding opportunities for students through Driving Engagement: Powered by Golf, an initiative that uses golf to support physical education, leadership development, STEAM learning, and student wellness. Through partnerships with First Tee of Augusta, the TGR Foundation and other community organizations, students will gain access to engaging learning experiences that build confidence, teamwork, perseverance, and lifelong healthy habits.

Beginning with pilot schools, the initiative introduces a structured K-8 golf curriculum designed to connect classroom learning with real-world skills and career exploration. Students will develop golf fundamentals while exploring concepts in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics, as well as learning valuable lessons in sportsmanship, goal setting, and personal growth.
