TSA (Technology Student Association) State, National Award Winners
Requested Action
School Board Recognition of TSA State, National Award Winners
Summary Explanation and Background
Creekview High School students earned top honors at the TSA (Technology Student Association) State Leadership Conference and advanced to the national competition. Through the annual events, students compete in engineering, technology, and leadership skills contests. Congratulations to our state award winners: IMPACT AWARD: Nate Hancock, who served for the past year as Georgia TSA President. This award honors the organization's top graduating senior for contributions to the organization. Nate also earned the Silver Achievement Award. FIRST PLACE: Samantha Barbre, Nate Hancock, Emmaline McKinney, and Kolbie Sikes, for Fashion Design; and Nate Hancock, Emily Hendrix, Hudson Price, and Karl Curtis Smith for the Emory Spark VR competition. The chapter also earned the state CARES Award for its extraordinary community service projects raising funds for Relay for Life and collecting toys for CHOA Urgent Care. At the national competition, their chapter advisor, Career Pathway engineering teacher Terri Hancock, was honored with the Distinguished Alumni Award!
