📍 SDCOE, Linda Vista Campus

June 16 and 17, 2027

📍 NCREC, Comm Labs

Join us for a two-day professional learning session in June as we build our knowledge about how to teach students in grades K-5 to become skilled writers. The Best Practices for Elementary Writing Instruction is facilitated by author, dyslexia practitioner, and reading clinician Dr. Katherine Casey Spengler.

FACILITATOR: Dr. Katherine Casey Spengler, author, dyslexia practitioner, and reading clinician

GOALS FOR LEARNING

- Learn about the five strands of The Writing Rope
- Understand the importance of developing automatic transcription (handwriting/ keyboarding) skills
- Learn evidence-based instructional strategies to teach the strands of syntax and text structure, with an emphasis on the importance of explicitly teaching sentence structure and paragraph structure
- Explore how to integrate language standards within explicit writing instruction
- Experience the power of connecting writing instruction to the texts and topics taught during reading instruction

• COST $100

The content is the same for both 2-day sessions. Includes breakfast, lunch and materials.
