Wilson Area School District
Flexible Instruction Day (FID) Expectations
2026–2027 School Year

When necessary, WASD students and staff will participate in a Flexible Instructional Day (FID). Flexible Instructional Days count as regular school days and will be used in place of traditional snow/emergency closure days when appropriate.

Student Expectations

- Students should log into Google Classroom by the scheduled start time for their grade level.
- Teachers will post assignments, directions, Zoom/Google Meet links, and instructional materials by the beginning of the school day.
- Students are expected to be on camera, participate in all live instructional sessions, and complete assigned asynchronous work.
- Students should communicate with teachers if they experience technical difficulties, have questions, or need additional support.
- Attendance will be based on logging into the first class, present on camera, and participation in instructional activities.

Teacher Expectations

- Teachers will provide synchronous (live) instruction according to the district FID schedule.
- Assignments and instructional resources will be posted in each teacher's Google Classroom.
- Teachers will be available during FID hours to answer student and parent questions via email or Google Classroom.
- Teachers will communicate clearly regarding assignment expectations and due dates.

Attendance and Participation Expectations

If a student is unable to participate in a Flexible Instruction Day, parents/guardians should follow their school's regular attendance reporting procedures. Students who are absent will be provided opportunities to make up missed assignments in accordance with district policy.

Technology Expectations

- Students should ensure devices are charged and ready for use prior to a potential FID.
- Students should use appropriate digital citizenship practices during all virtual instruction.
- If technical issues occur, families should contact the school office or classroom teacher for assistance. If further assistance is needed, families can contact the Technology Department at 484-373-6018 or support@wilsonareasd.org.
