COMPREHENSIVE NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The Continuous Improvement Cycle

A Comprehensive Needs Assessment (CNA) is a data-driven process that looks at student performance, broken down by student groups, and reviews district practices and policies. The results help the district set goals, choose strategies, and make decisions about resources in the improvement plan.

Adapted from USDE

Probing Questions

Demographics - What is driving enrollment decline & how do we combat this issue?

Student Learning - What strategies do you feel are working well regarding student learning and where are opportunities for growth?

District Processes & Programs - How can we further the district's efforts in delivering innovative programs?

Perceptions - Is there a correlation between the student's connection with their teacher and learning outcomes? Explain.
