B. Chula Vista Educators

President Rosi Martinez addressed the Board and encouraged members to consider the work of teachers and staff behind the CAASPP, Dashboard, and Rigorous Learning for All data. She acknowledged the dedication of educators in meeting increased academic and behavioral challenges while continuing to support students.

She reported on continued collaboration with the ISS Department to strengthen Dual Immersion through expanded training, planning, and the Biliteracy Consultation Committee. She also urged the Board to minimize budget reductions that directly impact students and emphasized the importance of mental health supports and ongoing advocacy for adequate school funding.

The CVE President highlighted Community Schools as a proven, long-term strategy and requested the District's continued commitment beyond the current grant as negotiations continue. She also raised concerns regarding rising health benefit costs affecting staff well-being and retention.

Finally, she thanked the Policy Committee for revising the Closed Campus language to reflect a Safe Campus approach and expressed appreciation for the Board's focus on student and staff safety.

C. Administrators Association Chula Vista

President Theresa Corona AACV President Theresa Corona addressed the Board to express AACV's disappointment with the revision of the closed campus Board Policy. She noted that the Board's prior unanimous action led principals to engage in significant implementation efforts in good faith, including community outreach, supervision planning, and staff reallocation. She stated that reversing course after implementation had begun undermined confidence in the governance process and placed principals in a difficult position, as they remain legally and professionally accountable for student safety.

She added that AACV believes secure or closed campuses during arrival and dismissal align with current safety practices used in neighboring districts and throughout California, and that screening tools alone do not fully mitigate safety concerns. She emphasized that AACV's position does not reflect a lack of commitment to family engagement, but rather concern for safety, clarity, and consistency. She concluded by stating that AACV remains committed to working collaboratively with the District and Board, but requested that the record reflect AACV's disappointment and its concerns regarding the impact of the decision on school safety, implementation stability, and administrator working conditions.
