

Parent/Student Policy Handbook

2026-2027

The Carroll School Parent & Student Handbook (the “Handbook”) is published and distributed to members of the Carroll community for the purpose of providing information on aspects of student and campus life so that students may gain as much as possible from their experience at Carroll School. Students, parents/caregivers and families as well as faculty, administration, and staff should all read and be familiar with the contents of the Handbook so that each member of the community knows and understands our expectations. While policies in this Handbook will generally apply, the Carroll School may take actions that it determines to be in the best interests of the school, its faculty, and its students. This Handbook does not limit the authority of the Carroll School to alter, interpret, and implement its rules, policies, and procedures before, during, and after the school year. This Handbook is for informational purposes only. It is not intended to create, nor does it create, a contract or part of a contract in any way, including, but not limited to, between Carroll and any parent, guardian, or student affiliated with or attending the Carroll School. Carroll School may, in its sole discretion, add, revise, and/or delete School policies before, during, and after the school year.

Campus-based student services include division head, assistant division head, academic department heads, admissions, counseling, speech and language, Multis, nursing, technology and Building and Grounds support. Shared administrative services are located as follows: Head of School is on the Lincoln campus, Business Office and Advancement are on the Wayland Campus, and the Communications Director is on the Waltham Campus.

Carroll School Mission Statement

Carroll School empowers children with language-based learning differences, such as dyslexia, to become academically skilled students who are strong self-advocates and confident lifelong learners. Carroll is an inclusive community committed to embracing diverse strengths, identities, and lived experiences in order to give each child what they most need to thrive.

To fulfill its mission, Carroll School:

- Utilizes both proven instructional methods and innovative approaches founded in emerging scientific research;
- Meets individual student needs in small, supportive classroom environments;
- Teaches students skills that enable them to become responsible active learners who understand that their success is a direct result of their effective effort;
- Contributes to the understanding of language-based learning differences, such as dyslexia, by offering professional development for Carroll School faculty and educators worldwide, and collaborating with other professionals in the field;
- Conducts innovative research projects, and actively creates and distributes new instructional approaches;
- Serves a culturally, ethnically, and economically diverse population, and believes that multiple points of view enrich the School's community;
- Celebrates the unique gifts and perspectives of individuals with language-based learning differences, such as dyslexia.

Additionally, Carroll School and the Carroll Cognitive Intervention and Research Department reach outside the student environment through research projects, professional associations, programs of parental support, and teacher training. Consistent with the lifelong nature of learning, Carroll School seeks enduring relationships with all its constituencies.

History of Carroll School

Dr. Edwin Cole, a prominent neurologist on the staff of Massachusetts General Hospital, had the initial vision for Carroll School. In 1967, Dr. Cole, Samuel Lowe, and F. Gorham Brigham, Jr. founded a school to address the needs of bright children with dyslexia. From the outset, the School used the approach developed by neuropsychiatrist, Dr. Samuel Orton, and educator, Anna Gillingham.

Initially, the school was located in West Newton, where it acquired the property of The Miss Carroll School, a private school dating back to 1882. The three founders became the first Trustees of the new school. The first Head of School was Dean Roberts, who had been Head of the lower school at Browne and Nichols. Teachers were recruited and several professionals were hired from Massachusetts General Reading Clinic. The school opened in September 1967 with seven students, and by year-end, there were twenty-eight students.

The School's enrollment expanded quickly, and it soon outgrew the small building in West Newton. When the first Head of School left, the Board hired William Adams under whose leadership the School purchased property in Lincoln and moved in 1971. Built in 1907, the property had been the summer residence of the Storrow family. The Storrow's mansion, its Gate House, and the surrounding woods were wonderful new spaces for the expanding school. The first new building was a yurt built in 1971, followed by the Comeau Gymnasium in 1973. In 1995, a new building containing classrooms and the Spaulding Performing Arts Center was carved out of the wooded hillside. Needham Station, a shelter for students waiting for pick-up, was built in 1999 to honor Tom Needham, the fifth Head of School.

In 1971, Michael Stratton, "Strats," came to Carroll and developed the Bounders Program to provide a physical outlet to balance the demands of the language curriculum. Strats based the new program on the concepts developed by Kurt Hahn as implemented in Outward Bound Schools throughout the world. The gardener's shed became home for the Bounders Program and provided the beginnings of the Bounders experience.

In 2010, Carroll expanded to two campuses, with the Lower School grades 1-5 located at 1841 Trapelo Road in Waltham and grades 6-9 located at 25 Baker Bridge Road in Lincoln.

In 2012, Carroll launched the 9th grade program. The mission of this program is to provide students with LBLD a high powered, college preparatory curriculum. In the fall of 2017, the new 8th grade students and ninth graders moved to the new Wayland Campus, located at 45 Waltham Road.

Throughout its nearly 60 years, the School has remained committed to the mission and vision of its founders. Today, there are approximately 450 students who come daily to all three campuses from many cities and towns in Massachusetts as well as from New Hampshire. The School has a staff of approximately 200, including over 150 teachers and tutors.

With the development of better methods of identifying learning differences, Carroll now enrolls students as early as first grade and applicants are accepted through grade nine.

Summer@Carroll is designed for children with language-based learning differences. Our five-week, full-day program provides reading, writing, math, targeted cognitive intervention, and enrichment classes. Classes are formed according to age and skills, with an average class size of 8 students. Students entering grades 1-7 receive language tutoring daily from tutors trained in the Orton-Gillingham approach. Our teachers, tutors, and counselors come from the Carroll School and a variety of other Greater Boston area schools, colleges, and high schools. After a morning of academic classes, students break into small groups led by experienced counselors. These groups stay together throughout the five weeks, forming friendships and developing group skills. The afternoons are full of activities such as indoor and outdoor games, arts and crafts, and water activities.

An Independent School

Carroll is accredited by the Association of Independent Schools in New England (AISNE).

The decennial accreditation process requires a school to undertake rigorous self-evaluations of curriculum, programs, employee procedures, facilities, and finances and an exhaustive site visit by a team of peer educators. In addition, AISNE accreditation is dependent on adherence to prescribed principles of good practice in administration and operation.

At the core of those principles is a commitment to equal access and opportunity, which incorporates Carroll's prohibition on discrimination on the basis of race, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, national origin, or other classifications protected under law in employment practices, admission of students, and administration of its educational programs. Carroll School received its most recent re-accreditation from AISNE in 2023.

Carroll School is a member of the National Association of Independent Schools (NAIS) and a founding member of the Association of Learning Disabilities Schools (ALDS). Carroll School is a member of the Academy of Orton-Gillingham Practitioners and Educators (OGA) as well as an accredited instructional program in schools through OGA.

Governance

Carroll School is a non-profit, 501(c) (3) organization governed by a voluntary Board of Trustees. The Board includes members nominated by its Governance Committee. The Board elects its Chair, Vice Chair(s), Treasurer, and Secretary. Ex-Officio members of the Board include the Head and President(s) of the Carroll Family Association. Trustees bring a wide range of expertise from the professional, business, civic, and educational communities. Our Board includes current parents/caregivers, parents/caregivers of alumni, alumni, and community members and meets regularly throughout the school year.

The Board of Trustees establishes policy for the School, generates resources for the School's operation, hires the Head, and supports the Head's administration of all school programs.

Giving

Carroll is most grateful for the generosity shown by our community each year to support and strengthen our program. Gifts to the Carroll Fund combined with earnings from the endowment and revenue from Summer@Carroll fund operating expenses not covered by tuition.

The generosity from our parents/caregivers, alumni and friends directly impacts Carroll's mission to giving each student what they most need to thrive. Financial support to the Carroll Fund is used toward priorities such as financial assistance, salary enhancement and professional development for our employees, curricular innovations, and campus enhancements. Carroll School celebrates the many donors, volunteers, and champions as part of our "culture of giving" that transforms the lives of our students and families every day.

All members of the Carroll community - the Board of Trustees, parents/caregivers, alumni, parents/caregivers of alumni, grandparents, friends, and faculty and staff - are asked to join together by making a gift that is meaningful and appropriate for them. Every gift helps enrich our community and makes a difference for our children.

Beyond the Carroll Fund, the Board is focused on capital planning and expanding our campus in Wayland, building the endowment to provide sustained support for our educators and students, building our research and outreach program, and maintaining unrestricted support to be nimble and responsive to the needs of our community.

Carroll School Family Association

The Carroll Family Association (CFA) partners closely with Carroll School administration to cultivate a warm, inclusive, and welcoming community for all Carroll families. Every parent and caregiver is automatically a member of the CFA.

The CFA's mission is to support the school's programs and activities, foster community among parents and caregivers, and promote meaningful volunteer opportunities.

The CFA is committed to:

- Supporting new families as they transition into the Carroll community
- Creating inclusive and purposeful ways for parents and caregivers to get involved
- Coordinating expressions of appreciation for our dedicated faculty and staff
- Organizing and sponsoring community events and social gatherings that bring families together in fun and informal settings

Each spring, a leadership team is formed to plan and coordinate the CFA's annual events calendar. We deeply value the ideas, energy, and talents of our parent and caregiver community—and we invite you to get involved in any way that feels meaningful to you.

Whether you have a little time or a lot, your participation matters and is always welcome!

School Cancellations (Snow Days/Severe Weather)

Carroll will be using the School Messenger alert system to notify employees and parents/caregivers when there is a change in the status of a school day. Severe weather can occur during any season, not just during the winter months. This message will go to the number you provided.

If your cell phone number needs updating, please email techsupport@carrollschool.org. You can also check the Carroll School website as a source of our status, www.carrollschool.org.

On rare occasions, the School may close early due to inclement weather. The School contacts transportation companies and parents/caregivers in the event of early closing. No child is released from school outside regular hours without parent notification. For this reason, it is imperative that the School receive notification of all transportation arrangements and/or changes in daily routine. More information can be found by campus below. However, should there be any change in pick up please use the form found here. The deadline for submitting this form is 1pm.

Enrollment Contracts

Enrollment contracts are typically sent to returning families in February. Returning families will receive a contract if all financial obligations are current. Families are financially obligated to pay full tuition after June 1st, regardless of withdrawal for any reason. Should a family decide to leave prior to this date, the School will refund tuition paid, less the 10% non-refundable enrollment deposit. If a family decides to leave after June 1st and has purchased tuition insurance, a portion of the remaining tuition due may be covered, subject to approval by the insurance provider. Please see the “Tuition Insurance” section below for more information. If a family decides to leave after June 1st and did not purchase tuition insurance, they are obligated to pay the full year tuition.

Carroll School retains the right to delay or to not extend a re-enrollment contract at all if the School determines that such a recommendation is in the best interest of the student and/or the School community. The Head of School, in their sole discretion, makes the final decision as to whether a student will be invited to return for another year. This difficult conclusion is only reached after careful consideration. While parents/caregivers are involved in this process, the School will make the ultimate decision and will assist, if possible, in the process of locating an appropriate alternative school.

Financial Assistance

As stated in our mission, Carroll is committed to helping families with demonstrated need to cover the costs of attendance. Families can access our financial assistance application and more information at <https://www.carrollschool.org/apply/tuition-financial-assistance>.

Tuition Insurance

As noted in the “Enrollment Contracts” section above, families are financially obligated to pay full tuition after June 1st, regardless of withdrawal for any reason. Accordingly, Carroll offers an optional tuition insurance plan. Subject to review/approval of a claim by the insurance provider, the plan will pay 60% of the remaining tuition for a covered loss. The plan is optional, but families are strongly encouraged to participate as the School does not provide refunds. Families must make their decision to purchase/decline coverage as part of the annual enrollment process. Please see the Tuition Insurance brochure for more information.

Tuition Payment Plans

A ten percent non-refundable enrollment deposit is due with the signed enrollment contract. Families select one of three payment plans to pay the remaining tuition balance:

- 1 payment--entire remaining balance due on June 1st
- 2 payments--50% of remaining balance due on June 1st and 50% due on December 1st
- 10 payments--Monthly payments due from April 1st through January 1st

Billing

No student will be permitted to begin School in September unless the tuition has been paid in full or a family is participating in one of the payment plans. The School recognizes that families may experience extenuating financial circumstances. While the School is willing to work with families in these instances, all accommodating payment plans must be approved in writing by the Chief Financial Officer, and payments must be received on a regular basis.

Failure to make timely tuition payments may result in significant consequences, including, but not limited to, the School's refusal to enroll or re-enroll the student or dismissal of the student. An account will be considered delinquent if not paid within 15 days of the due date. A late fee of $40 per month will be assessed on the delinquent balance. The School may refuse future enrollment of the student unless all outstanding payment obligations are met, or satisfactory arrangements for payment are made with the School.

Payments

Parents/caregivers submitting checks to Carroll for any reason should mail or hand them directly to the Business Office on the Wayland campus. All checks received by employees for school business must be forwarded to the Business Office immediately.

GENERAL POLICIES & PROCEDURES

Attendance Policy

Carroll School incorporates small classes and academically specialized developmental programming that requires students to be in regular attendance to take full advantage of the program. Student progress and classroom continuity suffers when students are not in regular attendance, which includes early dismissals and tardies. In alignment with Massachusetts law and school attendance policies, students who miss at least 10% of days enrolled (e.g., 17 days absent when enrolled for 170 school days) are considered chronically absent. National research shows that chronic absenteeism erodes the academic and social skills needed to succeed in school. For each term, this 10% rule will also apply. Terms run approximately 60 days; therefore, 6 tardies and/or absences would equal 10%. If a student reaches this threshold within a term, parents/caregivers will receive a notice to collaborate with leadership.

Students are expected to be in regular attendance throughout the school year. Because occasionally circumstances arise that keep students from attending school, the School makes accommodations for excused absences. The following is a list of excused absences.

1. An absence due to illness
2. An absence due to religious holiday
3. An absence with parental permission that is approved by the School
4. An absence due to disciplinary reason
5. An absence due to cancellation of transportation by a school district

Carroll School reserves the right to respond, formulate corrective plans, and evaluate program participation including continued enrollment as a result of a student's excessive absences within the academic year. This policy is in place to ensure that both students and parents/caregivers understand the effects and importance of good attendance.

Reporting an Absence/Tardy/Early Dismissal

Absence/Tardy/Early Dismissal - Attendance is taken every morning. parents/caregivers are expected to complete a form on our website under “Family Community” to report student absences, tardies, or early dismissals and provide more detail as to the nature of the child’s absence. Please click here.

The appropriate Campus Administrative Assistant will call home or email parents/caregivers if there is no notification regarding a student’s absence. In addition to using the form mentioned above, parents/caregivers should be contacting the Director of the Extended Day Program/Athletic Director.

Planned Absences

Parents/caregivers must contact the Division Head at least two weeks in advance of planned absences, such as school visits, as planned absences must be approved by the School. Once approved, students should speak with their teachers about planned absences and generally teachers will try to make assignments available for students. Upon returning, the student will work with their advisor to make up missed work or tests.

Please avoid scheduling a vacation during time when school is in session. It is disruptive to your child’s learning and compromises our efforts. Note that Middle and Upper students may be given work to complete in the case of a planned absence or vacation.

Emails to Faculty and Staff

To reach anyone at Carroll by email, type the first initial and last name of the person you want to communicate with @carrollschool.org (i.e. jdoe@carrollschool.org). This is the best way to communicate with faculty as teachers do not have easy access to telephones during the day.

Campus Coordinators can be reached each morning when important messages need to be delivered and when access to the Division Head is needed:

Lower School	781-314-9827	Middle School	781-314-9707	Upper School	781-314-9709
--------------	--------------	---------------	--------------	--------------	--------------

After School Plans

Parents/caregivers should notify the School of any changes in their child’s regular after school plans, including a change of carpool, if the student is going home with another child, or if someone different is picking up the child. PLEASE NOTE: without a formal notification, the student will go home by the usual means. Please use the form found here. Changes in pick up are due by 1 pm (Monday through Thursday) or 10 am (Fridays). Also, remember to inform transportation companies when you have a change in plans.

Transportation

Because parents/caregivers, carpools, or transportation companies transport students, parents/caregivers must inform the School and their child’s driver if there is a change in the student's regular transportation plan. Remember, parents/caregivers are responsible for informing transportation companies if there is a change in your child's status.

Extended Day and Friday Programs

Extended Day and Friday afternoon programming is offered throughout the school year. Parents/caregivers can enroll their child in these programs through the family community on the Carroll website.

Lower School Extended Day is offered through a partnership between Carroll School and Kids Corner. Middle and Upper School offerings are exclusively hosted by Carroll at this time but subject to change in the future.

Monday - Thursday, the extended day offerings run until 6 pm at the Lower School and 4:45 pm at the Middle/Upper School. Friday's offerings run through 3:30 pm, with extended care coverage offered for all students in all divisions (subject to availability) at the Lower School until 6pm. This is a change from previous years.

Daily Drop in: For families who need occasional after school for their child in a pinch, we offer a daily drop in option for $25.00 at the Middle/Upper School. Please note, this is subject to availability. Middle School families please contact Amber Kuntz (akuntz@carrollschool.org).

Please note: We realize that every attempt is made to pick up students on time. However, on a rare occasion should a ride home run late for Middle/Upper School students, there is a fee for picking up your child after 5 pm. Families will be charged $35.00 for pick ups that occur between 5 and 5:30pm and $60.00 for any pick up that occurs after 5:30.

Lower School families should contact Kids Corner: Lauren@KidsCornerWinchester.org

Privacy Protection and Data Destruction Laws

Carroll School is required to abide by State and Federal law regarding the use, storage and destruction of regulated personal information. At a minimum, regulated personal information is: last name and first initial combined with any of the following: social security number, driver's license number, bank account information, credit card information, and financial information. There may also be additional information that is considered private and sensitive.

To aid Carroll in protecting privacy, we require that you follow all directions concerning the transmission and storage of data that may contain personal information or other private or sensitive information. If you have any questions about this policy, please contact the School.

Lost and Found

Parents/caregivers should make sure that all clothing and personal items are marked with the child's name. Carroll School is not responsible for lost or stolen property. There is a lost and found in the Gym of the Lower School, the Storrow Lobby of the Middle School, and within the counselor's office at the Upper School.

Research

Advancing the field of education for learners with language-based learning differences is a core part of Carroll School's mission. Through our ongoing research efforts, we aim to deepen understanding and improve educational outcomes—not only for our students, but for all learners who face similar challenges. As a member of the Carroll community, your participation helps support this important work.

At times, we may choose to incorporate assessments or other educational materials that are being developed by researchers into our curriculum. These tools are carefully selected to align with Carroll's instructional goals and offer potential benefits for student learning. When used in this way, they become part of our educational program, while also contributing to the refinement of promising new approaches.

Participation in any research project is always voluntary and guided by our strong commitment to student privacy. All data used for research is de-identified to protect individual identities. If a study involves sharing individual student data outside of Carroll, we will always provide full details and request your explicit permission before proceeding.

Athletics

Carroll's Interscholastic Sports Program for middle and upper school athletes emphasizes developing athletic skills, sportsmanship, leadership, teamwork, confidence, social skills, school spirit, and the ability to compete both physically, intellectually, and emotionally. The Carroll coaching staff, who are all Carroll employees, work to meet each student-athletes skills where they are developmentally and build off these skills. At Carroll, students learn that winning is the way one carries themselves in victory and defeat. The athletic program is available for students in sixth through ninth grades. Student-athletes must be in good academic standing and models of our HAWKS (Honestly, Accountability, Work Ethic, Kindness, Service) Core Values in order to participate.

Facilities Use Policy

There is no use of Carroll School facilities, for any type of personal event, private party, sports practice or other events unrelated to the Carroll School.

Volunteer and/or Intern Services

Through Carroll's Teacher Training Institute and the Master's Program collaboration between Carroll School, Buckingham Browne & Nichols School and Northeastern University Carroll School offers opportunities for teachers in training to intern as classroom teachers and language tutors. Always under the direct supervision of Carroll employees, these interns gain valuable experience in the field of the education of the language learning challenged student.

Carroll School requires all interns and volunteers who may have direct and unsupervised contact with children to undergo criminal history background screening in accordance with state laws. Currently, the School does not require all parent volunteers to submit to criminal background checks, but that may vary depending on the nature of the activities involved.

- Extended day pick up in the Lower School is 6 pm M-F.

Lower School Birthdays

Birthdays are very exciting days for children, and we are happy to celebrate a child’s special day in school. Because we have a very specific food-sharing policy in the Lower School (see Lower School Food Safety Policy), we ask that birthday celebrations do not include sharing food.

In-school birthday celebrations will be held in their homeroom and vary by grade level. Please check with your child’s homeroom teacher if you have any questions.

Lower School Birthday Parties

Coordinating birthday parties outside of school can be tricky to orchestrate, and we ask that you consider the following in making your birthday party plans. Our classes are small communities, and we ask that you strongly consider being inclusive with your birthday invite list. Also, we ask that you avoid picking up the birthday party group at school, as it creates an environment for kids who are not invited to feel excluded. Meeting parents/caregivers of the children invited to the party at a location close to school instead of at school is a more sensitive option. If you have questions or want suggestions, please contact the Lower School Division Head.

Logical Consequences

Carroll is a school that believes in learning from mistakes as we also continue to value our core values of Empathy, Respect, Inclusion, and Kindness (ERIK). We view logical consequences as a way for students to reflect and appreciate the power of their choices. If a student fails to meet expectations during the school day, faculty members may issue a logical consequence that is directly connected to the observed behavior. This may entail a meeting with the faculty member who observes the behavior and a consequence that will allow the student to learn from their mistakes.

Middle School Make a Plan (MAP) System Overview

The Carroll Middle School believes in a structured approach that supports building metacognition, allows students to strengthen executive functioning skills, develop self-awareness, and evolve into independent, strategic learners. The Middle School will employ a non-punitive system that holds students accountable for completing their homework, keeping their materials organized, and being prepared for class. This system also acknowledges students for demonstrating exemplary habits of/active learning skills and encourages them to reflect on their successes and challenges. This system will help teachers and students recognize patterns that demonstrate an area of need so that they can work together to “Make a Plan” (MAP) to address the challenge and build underlying skills.

Middle School MAP System Components

1. Regular check-ins - Teacher supported check-ins at the end of each day during the NCLU (No Child Left Unorganized) time will ensure that students organize materials, understand homework expectations, and prioritize tasks as needed.
2. MAP Logs and Notices - Teachers will write MAP notices to record challenges with homework completion and organization. MAP notices will be recorded in a log that is shared with the student. Students and teachers will use MAP notices to look for patterns and/or concentrated areas of challenge in order to goal-set and build an action plan. Advisors will communicate student MAP notices to parents/caregivers when a pattern of missing or incomplete work emerges.
 - a. Examples of MAP Notices:
 - i. Homework not done
 - ii. Homework incomplete or showing lack of effort
3. Individualized MAP meetings - If a pattern of challenge emerges, a student and their advisor will have a MAP meeting. Together, they will identify the challenge and “make a plan” by setting realistic goals. The action plan may include: working with an advisor to develop time management skills and awareness, attending lunch study, or participating in an after school study hall. The goal is for students to learn to recognize patterns and understand the reasons behind their challenges in order to address the lagging skill or difficulty and move forward. Other adults may be involved in MAP meetings based on the pattern/reason (eg. academic teacher, counselor, speech language pathologist, parent via the phone). In order to create a collaboration between school and home while still maintaining a student centered system, advisors will contact home after a MAP meeting to share the agreed-upon Action Plan. No further action is required from families unless directly specified in the Action Plan.

Friday Afternoon Work Sessions

Friday Afternoon Work Sessions (Fridays 12:30pm-2:30pm) are offered to students who have been identified by their teaching team as being significantly behind in their homework and/or independent school work. Friday Afternoon Work Sessions may be part of the MAP Action Plan devised to support a student's growth and success.

Having a Friday Work Session is not a punishment, but rather is a time for two hours of supervised study for students who are having significant difficulty with homework completion. Parents/caregivers are responsible for arranging for transportation for these Friday afternoons. Parents/caregivers will be notified if their child is not doing their work before a Work Session needs to be given.

MAP Notices and Meeting

- (1) meant to track homework completion, work quality, organizational skills and overall readiness to learn.
- (2) provide an opportunity for students and teachers to goal-set and create an action plan together when a recurring challenge is recognized.
- (3) to ensure student accountability and help students develop metacognitive awareness and grow into independent learners.
- (4) not meant to be punitive, but instead a form of problem-solving to help students develop skills and build independence.
- (5) designed to recognize student accomplishments and document positive achievements.

Recess Recall

A Recess Recall is given in response to a mistake that violates our HAWKS core values (see Level A and B Behaviors). When a Recess Recall is earned, the student is required to go to the designated grade-level lunch study room to fill out the Recess Recall book. The purpose of this process is to hold students accountable for meeting expectations that have been introduced, practiced, and taught. Advisors will monitor the Recess Recall entries and support students, as needed. The Recess Recall book also helps students and advisors identify any patterns that may emerge that require specific support.

Lunch Reflection

As patterns emerge, students may be asked to complete a Lunch Reflection, which is a tool that aims to build accountability with the student while also supporting them to reflect on their actions and create a plan to ensure their success.

Afternoon Reset

If a student continues to struggle to meet expectations, they will be asked to stay after the end of the academic day to reflect on their behavior. The reflection time may be implemented 3:15-4:00 PM Monday through Thursday, and 12:15-1:00 PM on Friday. If a student is engaged in an after-school or extended day activity during the afternoon reset, then they will miss that activity for the day and arrangements will need to be made for a 4:00 PM pick up.

Logical Consequences

Carroll is a school that believes in learning from mistakes as we also continue to value our core values of Honesty, Accountability, Work Ethic, Kindness, and Service (HAWKS). We view logical consequences as a way for students to reflect and appreciate the power of their choices. If a student fails to meet expectations during the school day, faculty members may issue a logical consequence that is directly connected to the observed behavior. This may entail a meeting with the faculty member who observes the behavior and a consequence that will allow the student to learn from their mistakes.

Athletics/After-School Programs Expectations

Students who choose to participate in after-school athletics or any other after-school programs are held to a high level of conduct. Students who participate in after-school activities are expected to do so in a safe and inclusive manner that embodies the Middle School values of honesty, accountability, work ethic, kindness, and service. If a student struggles to meet these expectations, after-school program leaders reserve the right to recommend a student's temporary or permanent separation from the activity for that trimester/season, with the goal of helping that student build the necessary skills needed in order to participate successfully. Additionally, students who are struggling to meet expectations during the school day and do not demonstrate improvement in meeting behavior expectations may have the privilege of participating in after-school activities revoked until such time as they can show an improvement in areas of concern.

In general, parents/caregivers will be notified about missing assignments roughly every other week in an UP update form.

ACADEMIC MATTERS

Carroll School Belief Statements

Over the past years, the faculty has worked to generate these statements to accompany and amplify Carroll’s mission statement.

1. We believe that our Orton-Gillingham approach and understanding of neuroplasticity drive our diagnostic, prescriptive, multisensory, and student-centered teaching. We give each child what they most need by building on students’ strengths while addressing learning differences.
2. We believe Carroll School is a highly-skilled community of compassionate adults working in concert to guide our students. Combining data and empathy enables us to give each child what they most need while holding each child to challenging expectations. Our goal is to create confident lifelong learners, strong self-advocates, and empathetic global citizens.

3. We believe that social-emotional well-being is essential for both academic and personal growth. We actively create an inclusive community where students feel safe, valued, and connected by acknowledging and celebrating difference. Fostering this sense of belonging enables our students to continuously discover who they are as individuals, within the Carroll community, and beyond.
4. We believe that academic excellence is directly tied to a deep understanding and purposeful engagement in diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging practices. The intersectionality of our identities reflects a variety of cultures, races, ethnicities, family structures, gender expressions, socio-economic backgrounds, and learning differences. We value and lean into the challenging, ongoing nature of DEIB work in order to create an empathetic community that is safe and reflective of the rich and robust diversity of the 21st Century world.
5. We believe that the use of data is a crucial factor that helps tell the story of the whole child and inform their educational path. While at Carroll, the longitudinal profile evolves for each child in partnership with parents, teachers, and students. These data alone are just one chapter of a student's journey that helps to make student growth visible.

Curriculum

Our school integrates DEIB (Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging) into all aspects of our students' learning because we value fostering understanding, empathy and inclusivity. This approach broadens students' worldviews, encourages critical conversations, and equips them for an interconnected world. Therefore, given the mission and ethos of our school, we do not allow students to opt out of any DEIB curriculum.

Academic Honesty

The School expects each student to be committed to their own learning and growth. To this end, each student will produce and submit their own work and clearly reference any other sources or information used in their work that was generated by someone else.

Cheating, copying, plagiarism, or the use of a student's previously submitted materials constitute behavior infractions and will result in activating a disciplinary response.

Homework Philosophy and Expectations

Carroll holds an atypical view of homework. Homework is an opportunity for students to practice what they already know. It is not an opportunity to present work that is new or relatively unpracticed by the student. For most students, and particularly for those in their early years at Carroll, homework is not a time to challenge students beyond their level of comfortable independence. Don't worry, teachers will accelerate homework challenges as a student gains in skills, confidence, and tenacity.

Homework is designed to be a successful experience in which children realize that they know a lot, have control over their learning, and have gained new skills. Further, we do not expect parents/caregivers to do their child's homework with them. Homework is important for all children to practice skills that were directly taught in class. This approach enables teachers and tutors to better understand which skills are solid in a child's repertoire and which require further instruction. Homework provides students with an opportunity to:

- Independently apply what has been directly taught and practiced in class;
- Continue to prepare for the academic rigor that they will face upon transition from Carroll;
- Increase independence as they move developmentally through our program;
- Develop strong work habits and study skills so that they may become increasingly independent and confident learners;
- Become increasingly self-disciplined;
- Learn how to budget time.

Teachers give all students regular homework assignments, which students record regularly and accurately on paper or electronic homework planners. If homework completion deteriorates, alternative homework plans may be put in place. The amount of homework and the type of assignments are dependent on the developmental and academic level of students. Teachers carefully monitor student completion of homework and make adjustments depending on individual needs.

If, for example, a student is spending excessive time on homework, beyond the guidelines specified for their grade in this Parent/Student Handbook, parents/caregivers should be expected to communicate with the teacher, who has the responsibility to work with the parents/caregivers to establish reasonable homework objectives. Although homework is essential for academic development and maintenance of hard earned skills, no child should be so overloaded with homework that it deprives them of adequate play and family time.

As with all aspects of Carroll's academic program, homework is assigned to each child according to what that child most needs in order to thrive. The following chart may be useful to parents/caregivers and students in setting general expectations for homework, but the "Giving Each Child What They Most Need" is always our guiding principle.

All homework should be completed by the start of school on the assigned due date. There is also a quiet study room available in the Upper School for work or study between 7:30 am and 8:15 am.

Note: Students will never be penalized for stopping homework once they have reached the allotted time (105 minutes, grade 8; 180 minutes, grade 9) or for not understanding homework ONLY IF they have emailed their teacher by 10 PM the night before to explain the situation, they have demonstrated reasonable effort to get the assignment done, and they find the teacher before school the next morning for help or to work out a plan for completion.

Field Trips

Many classes go on field trips each year in conjunction with their academic program. Each student is required to have a signed permission slip on file in order to go on these off campus trips. In addition, notification will be sent prior to any field trip. Teachers will partner with the school nurse(s) to ensure all proper medical needs are addressed.

Student Supplies

The “No Child Left Unorganized (NCLU)” project at Carroll School calls for standard materials and consistent routines in order to make it easier for the faculty to establish and maintain fundamental organizational practices with each student.

The School will re-supply all classroom materials, including all required binders, writing implements, paper, tools such as protractors, and any other academic materials the student may need at school. Parents/caregivers are expected to supply dedicated headphones for use during school. Your child's teacher will communicate with you in more detail about the home-school connection at Carroll School nearer to the beginning of the school year.

Please note:

- Your child will need a comfortable backpack large enough for a three-ring binder, books, and other school day-related materials like lunch;
- The School will supply basic materials with which to stock the home "study space."
- Students in 5th grade and up should bring their Carroll-issued Chromebook and power cord to school each day they are on campus. Please have Chromebooks fully charged at home each day before coming to school.

Student Cell Phone and Wearable Technology Use

Student cell phones and wearables in all grades must be turned off and stored in a secure location during the school hours. Calls should not be made during class time or in between class times. Parents/caregivers must contact the school if they need to get a message to their child during the school day and staff personnel will contact parents/caregivers about a need for an early dismissal due to illness or any other reason. Students are not permitted to contact parents/caregivers without adult permission during the school day.

Students in the Middle and Upper Schools are assigned a personal Yondr Pouch at the start of the school year. While the Yondr Pouch is considered school property, it is each student's responsibility to bring their Pouch with them to school every day and keep it in good working condition.

DAILY YONDR PROCESS for Middle & Upper School Students

Arrival:

When students arrive to campus, they will be asked to:

1. Turn their phone off.
2. Place their phone inside their Pouch and secure it in front of school staff.
3. Store their Pouch in their backpack for the day.
4. Late students will "pouch" their phone as they check in at the front desk.
5. Students who forget their pouch, will leave their phones with the campus administrator for the day in a secured location.
6. Advisors will check student pouches during morning meeting to ensure they are properly pouches.

During the School Day:

Cell phones are expected to remain in the Pouch for the entire school day. Parents/caregivers must contact the school if they need to get a message to their child during the school day and staff personnel will contact parents/caregivers about a need for an early dismissal due to illness or any other reason. Students are not permitted to contact parents/caregivers without adult permission during the school day.

Dismissal:

1. At the end of the day, students will open their Pouch, remove their phone and put their Pouch and their phone in their backpack.
2. Staff will provide “the base” for students to “unpouch” their phones as they are leaving the building.
3. Students who are picked up early can “unpouch” their phones at the front desk in the Storow Lobby.

VIOLATIONS

Using a Phone During School

- First Offense - If a student is caught on their phone, the staff member will collect the phone/Pouch, bring it to the Dean of Students, and let the advisor know. The advisor will make a phone call home. The phone will be returned to the student at the end of the day and it will be noted in the Recess Recall log.
- Second Offense - Administration will collect the phone and call home. The phone will be returned to the student at the end of the day. The student will attend a lunch reflection.
- Third Offense - The student will be required to turn the phone into the Dean of Students or Division Head for 10 days. Parents will be notified and a meeting with the Behavior Review Committee will be scheduled. The student will also serve a lunch reflection and may have additional consequences based on the findings from the Behavior Review Committee.
- Damaged or Lost Pouches: Pouches are considered school property. If a student damages their pouch, families are responsible for purchasing a new pouch at $25 through the school.

Forgotten Pouch

If a student forgets their Pouch, their phone will be collected and stored with the campus administrator for the day in a secured location. A phone call home will be made to remind the parent/caregiver of the policy. The phone will be returned to the student at dismissal.

Student Dress Guide (Revised 8/24)

The Carroll School Dress Guide is designed to be gender-equitable, allow for individuality, encourage a neat and clean appearance, and promote a positive educational atmosphere. Students are expected to wear appropriate and sensible clothing to school at all times. The School administration will use judgment to determine appropriate dress. If the School determines that a student’s dress is inappropriate for school, the student will be required to change their clothing and may be subject to disciplinary consequences. If parents or students are unsure of the appropriateness of the clothing item, it should not be worn to school. Students are expected to follow these clothing guidelines:

- All clothing should be clean.
- All clothing should provide adequate coverage. The student should be able to move comfortably without exposure of undergarments, backs, midriffs, chests, and buttocks. Sheer or see-through clothing, holes, rips, and/or tears should not expose any of these areas.
- No clothing should be decorated with messages expressing hateful or vulgar terms; derogatory references to an individual’s identity (i.e., race, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability, etc.); messages or symbols advocating violence, alcohol, drugs, any illegal item or activities; or politically-affiliated clothing.

- Pajamas and slippers are not appropriate and are not permitted.
- Students may wear hats inside as long as the hats do not interfere with learning.
- Proper footwear should be worn at all times and should not mark the floor. Flip-flops are not allowed.

Bounders Participation Dress Guide

Students participating in Bounders will be notified of the clothes they need for their activities. Students must bring a Bounders bag with a season-appropriate change of clothes. This bag is left at school. Parents/caregivers who need support acquiring Bounders clothes should contact their division head.

Dress Guide for PE

All students are expected to wear appropriate clothing for Physical Education and Bounders. Gym and Bounders clothes must be within the Dress Guide for all other parts of the school. Crocs and slippers are not permitted; students are required to wear athletic shoes/sneakers.

Lower School Dress Guide Violation Consequences

Lower School students not complying with dress guidelines will be reminded and sent to the Counseling Office to get proper attire and parents/caregivers will be notified of noncompliance.

Middle & Upper School Dress Guide Violation Consequences

1st Offense:

- Student warned about Dress Guide issue
- Recess Recall
- Students may be asked to change clothes (borrow from a friend, counselor, etc.)

2nd Offense:

- Student warned about Dress Guide issue
- Student changes clothes (borrow from a friend, counselor, etc.)
- Recess Recall
- Phone call home/reminder to parents/caregivers

3rd Offense:

- Student warned about Dress Guide issue
- Student changes clothes (borrow from a friend, counselor, etc.)
- Recess Recall
- Student meets with Dean of Students for an Problem-Solving Meeting
- Phone call home: student required to bring a change of clothes to keep in backpack or locker for rest of year

More Than 3 Violations:

- Individual plan in place - may include a parent meeting

Upper School Dress Guide Violation Consequences

Disregard for these guidelines will be reported to the student's advisor, the school counselor and/or the Division Head. Regular infractions could result in a response from the School commensurate with the level of disregard. Ultimately, dress guide violations are opportunities for the student, the School and the family to work together within our expectations and Carroll's community standards.

Consequences of Upper School Dress Guide Infraction

- Student warned about dress guide issue by advisor or counselor
- Student changes clothes (borrow from a friend, counselor, etc.)
- Student parents/caregivers contacted for assistance in meeting expectations
- Student asked to bring appropriate clothing to school to leave for future issues

ACADEMIC PROGRESS

The Division Heads, Department Heads, teachers and advisors monitor student progress using a variety of evaluations, case conferences, review of testing, and teacher observations. All parents/caregivers are invited to meet with their child's teachers four times a year to discuss their adjustment to the program and the student's academic progress.

Communicating and Reporting to parents/caregivers

Go to our website www.carrollschool.org for:

Electronic Communication

- Trimester reports reviewing academic performance at the end of each academic trimester are accessible electronically via the Parent Portal.
- A weekly Thursday Update newsletter is sent to your personal email account.

Parent Concerns with Student Education or Care

The schedule for addressing educational or other concerns is as follows. When a student or parent has a concern, they should speak with the Division Head. If the Division Head and the student or parents/caregivers are unable to resolve the issue, the student or parent may submit, in writing, to the Head of School, the nature of the problem. The Head of School and the Division Head will meet with the student or parent to work on a resolution to the problem within ten school days or receipt of the written problem.

Parent/Teacher Conferences

Parent conferences will be scheduled four times a year. The child's teachers and/or advisor will be present at the conference. Your appointments will be scheduled by the appropriate Division Administrative Assistant and/or your child's advisor. If necessary, additional conferences may be requested by parents/caregivers or by the School. Parents/caregivers requesting additional conferences should contact the Division Head, Assistant Division Head, or Advisor/Homeroom teacher.

Testing Policy

We administer a variety of standardized and curriculum-based assessments throughout the year in order to measure progress and inform instructional decisions. Year-end test results are shared with parents/caregivers in conjunction with the final report card.

Obtaining Funding from Towns

The Carroll School is not an approved private special education school program under Massachusetts laws and regulations, and any federal law counterparts. Nonetheless, families and districts continue to identify Carroll as the appropriate IEP placement. In all situations, however, Carroll's relationship is established directly with its families, and not any city or town.

As such, Carroll does not participate in the IEP process, or execute legal documents related to pricing, services, or monitoring for students who may receive public funding to participate at Carroll. Carroll's standard annual tuition applies uniformly to all students, and is posted on its website, subject to any individual financial assistance awards. Carroll is certainly willing to provide reasonable information to a family necessary for the District to assess Carroll as a bona fide educational placement.

CONDUCT STANDARDS

The Carroll School is committed to creating a safe, caring, and respectful learning environment. Such an environment precludes behaviors that are disrespectful of, and physically and/or emotionally harmful to others. All students and families are expected to attend to these expectations in order to maintain a healthy and safe school environment for everyone, both on an individual and community level.

Guiding Principles

Core to our philosophy is that (1) it is our responsibility to teach the "learnable" social and emotional skills of being a positive member of a classroom and school community, and (2) behavior is a form of communication. Therefore, we work diligently to understand the context of student behavior in an effort to remove barriers to student success. The faculty is trained in the principles of Responsive Classroom; these principles support the foundation of Carroll's behavior management work. Carroll is a unique social environment of students with similar school experiences prior to Carroll in which they were often misunderstood. Therefore, our efforts strive to promote a happy, healthy, and self-reflective school experience for all students. The unique features of Carroll's environment are the similarity of student profiles in their classes, the student to teacher ratio, and our mission to restore the self-concept of bright children with language based learning difficulties.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE #1: When situations arise, we have a plan for each child involved in the interaction, designed to help each child and build a healthy community.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE #2: We make each situation a learning opportunity for the children, their parents/caregivers, and the educators who work with Carroll children. We seek to incorporate Responsive Classroom principles into our work with children, parents/caregivers, and educators.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE #3: We believe strongly in restorative justice in that we bring children together whenever it is appropriate and possible to make amends with each other, offer their apologies, listen to each other, and make plans for moving forward positively.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE #4: Research suggests that certain approaches to relational aggression interactions are more effective than others. We follow those recommendations whenever possible: “Most Effective” responses to relational aggression are: (1) Integration of a school wide Social-Emotional Learning program such as Responsive Classroom. (2) Staff education and training (3) Bullying education and reporting procedures to address bullying behavior (4) School wide positive behavior support plan (such as supporting pro-social interactions during lunch and recess) (5) Regular opportunities for students to resolve peer conflicts with appropriate staff support. Research suggests that the “Least Effective” responses are: (1) Avoiding contact between bullies and victims (2) Zero tolerance policy with bullies.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE #5: Conflict is a natural part of growing up. We customize our plan for each child when situations arise.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE #6: We attempt to distinguish between planned versus unplanned behaviors. The responses will vary based on the premeditation of an aggressive act versus an unplanned event that occurs in the course of children's interaction.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE #7: We believe it is important to talk with parents/caregivers about these issues while protecting confidentiality.

Discipline

Carroll School’s student conduct guidelines are based on the School’s Mission and reflect our guiding principles and community standards. It is critical that all members of the community understand the behavioral expectations and the Carroll School’s expectations regarding conduct. By joining the community, each student agrees to abide by this Handbook.

Carroll School has the right to impose disciplinary sanctions, including suspension, dismissal, or expulsion, on any student whose behavior, in Carroll’s determination, violates reasonable expectations of conduct or in any way harms or impugns the reputation of Carroll School or its program. Carroll will address, and where needed discipline, both on campus and off campus student behavior that violates the Schools standards and expectations. Such behavior may include, but is not limited to: harassment, bullying, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol, other criminal conduct, vandalism, and other disruptive, unlawful, harmful, or inappropriate behavior on or off campus that has a negative impact on the educational environment or Carroll community.

Consequences

Through each division of the school, Carroll implements a consistent philosophy regarding student conduct, although the outcomes may vary from matter to matter. In a developmentally logical sequence, the details supporting student behavior differ somewhat by division. The Head of School delegates matters pertaining to student discipline to the Division Heads. See Appendix C for detailed information about consequences by division. The Head of School, however, ultimately enforces all discipline policies of Carroll, including imposing disciplinary action instead of the Division Heads or through the Behavior Review Committee procedure outlined below.

Anti-Discrimination Statement

Carroll School is proud of its diverse educational community. Carroll School does not discriminate with respect to educational opportunities and access. Carroll School complies with and adheres to all state and federal anti-discrimination laws with respect to its educational policies, admission policies, financial assistance programs, and athletic or other school-administered programs. At the core of its policy, Carroll does not tolerate harassment or intimidation by any member of the school community evidencing bias on the basis of race, religion, gender, gender identity and/or expression, national origin, family structure, sexual orientation, disability, or any other category protected under state or federal law. Further, conduct that may not violate the federal or state anti-discrimination laws may nonetheless violate Carroll's policies thereby triggering discipline.

Anti-Discrimination Policy

Any student who feels they or any other student has been the subject of harassment or other discrimination should immediately report that information to the Head of School, one of the Division Heads, Director of Culture, Equity, and Inclusion, or any other Carroll employee with whom that person is comfortable sharing such concerns. Reports can be made anonymously, although no disciplinary action will be taken solely on the basis of an anonymous report. All complaints or concerns will be reviewed by a Division Head and the Director of Culture, Equity, and Inclusion. Carroll will promptly investigate all complaints of discrimination or harassment and will implement reasonable corrective measures the facts and circumstances warrant, including imposing discipline on the offending party. Carroll School may also refer matters to the Department of Children and Families, the local police, or other authorities as appropriate under the circumstances.

Bullying, Harassment, Discrimination

Carroll's anti-bullying policies and plan reflect the School's comprehensive efforts to work with students, staff, families, law enforcement agencies, and the community to prevent, intervene, and respond to incidents of bullying and cyberbullying, discrimination, harassment, and any retaliation for good faith reports of misconduct.

Definitions

Source. A student or faculty/staff member who engages in bullying (including cyberbullying), harassment, discrimination, or retaliation towards another person.

Bullying. The repeated use by one or more students or by a member of a school staff including, but not limited to, an educator, administrator, staff member, school nurse, bus driver, athletic coach, advisor to an extracurricular activity or paraprofessional of written, verbal or electronic expression, physical act or gesture, or any combination thereof, directed at another student that:

- causes physical or emotional harm to the student;
- damages the student's property;
- places the student in reasonable fear of physical harm or of damage to property;
- creates a hostile environment at school for the student;
- infringes on the rights of the student at school;
- stems from a power imbalance (as opposed to a peer conflict with no imbalance of power); or
- materially and substantially disrupts the education process or the orderly operation of the school.

Cyberbullying. Bullying through the use of technology or any electronic communication, including but not limited to, any transfer of signs, signals, writing, images, sounds, data or intelligence of any nature transmitted in whole or in part by a wire, radio, electromagnetic, photo electronic or photo optical system, including but not limited to, electronic mail, internet communications, instant messages, or facsimile communications. Cyberbullying also includes:

- the creation of a web page or blog in which the creator assumes the identity of another person;
- the knowing impersonation of another person as the author of posted content or messages, if the creation or impersonation creates any of the conditions laid out in clauses above, inclusive of the definition of bullying; or
- the distribution by electronic means of a communication to more than one person or the posting of material on an electronic medium that may be accessed by one or more persons, if the distribution or posting creates any of the conditions enumerated in the clauses above, inclusive of the definition of bullying.

Harassment or Discrimination. Harassment or discrimination is behavior that is pervasive or severe and has the purpose or effect of: (a) creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment; (b) interfering unreasonably with a student's academic performance; or (c) creating a situation where academic decisions of a student depend on the student submitting to and/or not objecting to the behavior. Harassment and discrimination can take many forms. Examples include, but are not limited to, limiting opportunities to participate in certain clubs, teams, or activities based on certain characteristics, as well as slurs, jokes, statements, remarks, questions, gestures, pictures, emails, texts, or cartoons regarding a legally protected status that are derogatory or demeaning to an individual's or group's characteristics or that promote stereotypes. Harassment also includes sexual harassment.

Hostile Environment. A situation in which bullying causes the school environment to be permeated with intimidation, ridicule or insult that is sufficiently severe or pervasive to alter the conditions of the student's education.

Retaliation. Retaliation is any form of intimidation, reprisal, or harassment directed against a student who reports misconduct (including, but not limited to, bullying, harassment, or discrimination), provides information during an investigation, or witnesses and/or has reliable information about such misconduct.

Target. Any student against whom bullying (including cyberbullying), harassment, discrimination, harassment or retaliation has been perpetrated.

Reporting Complaints

A student who is the target of interpersonal misconduct, or who has witnessed such an incident or any incident of retaliation, or who otherwise has relevant information about conduct prohibited by Carroll School is expected to report the matter promptly (either orally or in writing) to their Division Head, the Head of School, or to any other administrator or faculty member with whom the student is comfortable speaking. If a student is uncomfortable contacting one of these individuals, the student may ask an advisor, another adult, or a classmate to help. Carroll School staff members are required to report immediately to the Head of School or Counselor any instance of interpersonal misconduct or retaliation the staff member becomes aware of or witnesses.

Parents/caregivers of a student who is the target of interpersonal misconduct, or of a student who has witnessed or otherwise has relevant information about such conduct, are urged to immediately notify the Division Head or Head of School. Furthermore, any parent/guardian who has witnessed interpersonal misconduct, or has relevant information concerning such an incident or any incident of retaliation, is strongly encouraged to contact one of these administrators immediately.

Responding to Complaints

The goals of an investigation, and any disciplinary or other remedial process that is imposed following that investigation, are to determine whether a violation of Carroll's policies has occurred and, if so, to correct the situation to the extent reasonably possible and to take steps to prevent repetition of the incident and retaliation. When a complaint is brought to the attention of the Head of School or the Head of School's designee, an assessment is made to determine the initial steps appropriate to protect the well-being of the students involved (including both the alleged targets and aggressors) and to prevent disruption of the learning environment while the investigation is undertaken.

The Division Head or other appropriate school personnel, and sometimes with the assistance of outside resources, as Carroll may determine is necessary based on the circumstances, will conduct a fact-finding investigation of the complaint. This investigation may include (but is not necessarily limited to) interviews with the complainant, alleged target(s), alleged aggressor(s), and any other witnesses or parties who have information relevant to the alleged incident. Carroll School may consult with faculty, the parents/caregivers of the alleged target(s) and/or the alleged aggressor(s), or any other person deemed to have knowledge about, or circumstances surrounding, the complaint. Carroll School neither tolerates nor engages in retaliation against an individual for filing a complaint about interpersonal misconduct or cooperating in an investigation of such a complaint. Carroll School will not take adverse action against a student for making a good-faith report of interpersonal misconduct. An individual who is found to have engaged in retaliation against a student for filing a complaint, or participating in the investigation of a complaint, may be subject to disciplinary action. Upon completion of the investigation, the Division Head will generally make the following determinations:

- Whether and to what extent the allegation of interpersonal misconduct has been substantiated.
- Whether any disciplinary action and/or other remedial action is appropriate and, if so, how it will be implemented.
- Whether counseling, or a referral to appropriate services, should be offered to targets, aggressors, or family members of the affected students or targets.

At the discretion of the Division Head (in consultation with the Head of School and Director of Human Resources), the Behavioral Review Committee may be convened to investigate and make recommendations.

Anti-Bullying Policy & Plan

Bullying can include, but is not limited to, remarks, rumors, threats, gestures, physical contact, the display or transmission of images, written, verbal or electronic statements, or other acts that are unwelcome or demeaning to a student, including with respect to appearance, gender, gender identity, race, religion, ethnic origin, sexual orientation, disability, or other characteristics. Carroll's prohibition on bullying and cyberbullying includes the definitions under Massachusetts law.

Carroll's policies and plan also take into account that certain students may be more vulnerable to becoming a target of bullying or harassment based on actual or perceived differentiating characteristics, including but not limited to race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, citizen status, sex, socioeconomic status, homelessness, family structure, academic status, gender identity or expression, physical appearance, pregnancy or parenting status, sexual orientation, mental, physical, developmental or sensory disability, or by association with a person who has or is perceived to have one or more of these characteristics.

Students and employees of Carroll whose statements or actions, on or off campus, constitute disrespect, mockery, intimidation, harassment, or bullying (including cyber-bullying) of any member of our community are subject to disciplinary action and in some instances must be reported to law enforcement officials. Prior to the start of each year, the School will communicate with local law enforcement about the implementation of a plan to notify police in the event the School has reason to believe that an incident of bullying or retaliation may result in the pursuit of criminal charges. Nonetheless, the School is not required to report all allegations or incidents of bullying or retaliation to law enforcement, particularly where the School determines that an incident can be handled appropriately within the School.

Bullying is prohibited on school grounds, property immediately adjacent to school grounds, at a school-sponsored or school-related activity, function or programs whether on or off school grounds, at a school bus stop, on a school bus or other vehicle owned, leased or used by the School, or through the use of technology or an electronic device owned, leased or used by the School. Bullying is also prohibited at a location, activity, function or program that is not school-related or through the use of technology or an electronic device that is not owned, leased or used by the School, if the bullying creates a hostile environment at school for the victim, infringes on the rights of the victim at school, or materially and substantially disrupts the education process or the orderly operation of the School.

By this policy, Carroll makes clear to students and staff that bullying will not be tolerated and will be grounds for disciplinary action up to and including suspension and expulsion for students.

The disciplinary actions that may be taken against a perpetrator of bullying or retaliation include the full range of disciplinary sanctions for other forms of misconduct. In taking disciplinary action, the School will strive to balance the need for accountability with the need to teach appropriate behavior. If the School determines that a student or employee has knowingly made a false accusation of bullying or retaliation, the School will take appropriate disciplinary action.

Reporting Bullying Students: Any student who feels that they or any other student has been the subject of bullying or retaliation should immediately report the matter to their Division Head or to any other staff member or teacher with whom they would feel more comfortable making the report. The staff member will record an incident report. If a reported bullying incident involves the Division Head, the report of bullying should be directed to the Head of School. If a reported bullying incident involves the Head of School, the report of bullying should be directed to the Board of Trustees Chair. Student reports of bullying can be made anonymously, although no disciplinary action will be taken against a student solely on the basis of an anonymous report.

Parents/Caregivers: Any parent or guardian who feels that any student has been the subject of bullying or retaliation should promptly report the matter to the classroom teacher and/or appropriate Division Head. The staff member will record an incident report. Such reports of bullying may be made anonymously, although Carroll School is prohibited from taking any disciplinary action against a student solely on the basis of an anonymous report.

Faculty and Staff: Any faculty or staff member of our school community who has witnessed or otherwise becomes aware of any bullying or retaliation must, by law, report it to the appropriate Division Head. If a teacher or staff member witnesses an act of bullying, cyberbullying, or retaliation in progress, the teacher or staff member is expected to take reasonable steps to stop the act by communicating directly with the person where behavior is considered unacceptable, offensive, or inappropriate. Employees may NOT make reports under this policy anonymously.

School Response to Allegations of Bullying or Retaliation

Once any allegation of bullying or retaliation is received, a prompt investigation of the charge will be conducted by the appropriate Division Head or the Division Head's designee. The nature and extent of the investigation will depend on the circumstances. When applicable, a behavior/bullying plan will be created.

Unlike traditional bullying, most cyberbullying takes place off-campus, most typically in the child's home. The fact that cyberbullying takes place predominantly off-campus means that the behavior/response plan is a different process. While behavior that takes place at school is clearly under the jurisdiction of teachers/administrators, behavior that takes place at home is usually viewed as being under the jurisdiction of parents/caregivers.

One important clarification is that off-campus bullying behavior can be a “real threat” or “substantial disruption” upon the school climate and a student’s school performance. Given this, all reported incidents of cyberbullying are investigated and are reported to parents/caregivers.

An incident is reported through the Teacher/Student/Parent incident reporting process.

- For each cyberbullying incident, teacher/administrators must decide if the cyber behavior is making a substantial disruption upon the school climate or the child’s school performance. All incidents are investigated by the School and reported to parents/caregivers.
- If the incident is deemed disruptive, the Behavior/Bullying Management plan is put in place. If the incident is deemed not specifically disruptive to the school environment, all parties are spoken to by the School and the consequences and dangers of cyber communication are discussed.
- If the incident warrants, outside authorities are notified.

If the Division Head of the Lower, Middle, or Upper School, in consultation with the Head of School and Head of Counseling, determines that bullying, cyberbullying, harassment, or retaliation has occurred, they will:

- (i.) notify the local law enforcement agency, if he/she/they has a reasonable basis to believe that criminal charges may be pursued against an aggressor and document the reasons for the decision to notify law enforcement;
- (ii.) determine and take appropriate disciplinary action;
- (iii.) promptly notify the parents/caregivers of the aggressor;
- (iv.) notify the parents/caregivers of the target, and to the extent consistent with state and federal law, to advise of any action taken to prevent any further acts of bullying or retaliation;
- (v.) assess the target’s need for protection and take appropriate steps as necessary to restore a sense of safety for the target; and
- (vi.) in consultation with the School Counselors or others as appropriate, refer aggressors, targets, and appropriate family members of such students for counseling or other appropriate services.

If a reported incident of bullying or retaliation involves students from another school, Carroll will promptly notify the appropriate administrator of the other school so that both may take appropriate action. If an incident of bullying or retaliation occurs on school grounds and involves a former Carroll student under the age of 21 who is no longer enrolled in a school, Carroll will contact law enforcement if necessary consistent with the law.

Support for victims of bullying may include the following:

- Safety & Comfort Plan – A Safe Person in school is identified by the child and the child has the freedom to go see their Safe Person at any time.
- School Counselor Check-ins – Regular check-ins are scheduled between the child and the school counselor.

All relevant personnel are notified by counselors and/or Division Heads about the situation between the children involved. They are made aware of the potential for misbehavior or bullying and increased supervision during both structured and less structured times.

Education and Instruction Regarding Bullying

Carroll strives to create a safe, supportive environment for all students and adults, including vulnerable populations in the school community. Carroll provides all students an ongoing educational program to build skills, knowledge, and strategies to prevent or respond to bullying and harassment that may interfere with a safe and effective educational environment. Carroll is committed to support this philosophy in all aspects of the school community, including curricula, instructional programs, staff development, extracurricular activities, and parent or guardian involvement. Responsive Classroom is a program that promotes social, emotional, and academic growth while fostering a strong and safe school community. Research strongly supports the use of such school-wide programs as an essential part of preventing and reducing bullying behavior.

As educators, we make a commitment to dedicating time to inform and engage children in responsible use of digital technology. Beginning in the fourth grade, children are educated in discussions about cyber communication and safe practices, and specific consequences are explicitly taught. Parent presentations may also be conducted on this topic to better equip parents/caregivers to manage cyber communication at home. It is the School's position that children between the ages of 6-15, are not developmentally prepared to manage the complexities of social networking or unlimited/unsupervised texting. We work with parents/caregivers to learn the tools and options to control and monitor their child's use of electronic communication devices.

Information and Record-keeping

Carroll will maintain records of any complaint and/or investigation concerning an incident of bullying or retaliation. All records shall be maintained in the counseling office by both the name of the target and the name of the aggressor. The records shall remain confidential and only be disclosed to those within the School with a legitimate reason to know of the information. The School shall not disclose information from the records to a parent unless the information is about the parent's own child. The School may disclose information in the record to local law enforcement without the consent of the student or the parent, but will take reasonable steps to maintain privacy and confidentiality to the extent practicable. The School may also disclose information in the record in connection with a health or safety emergency if necessary if the School determines that there is an immediate and significant threat to the health or safety of the student or other individuals.

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

General Expectations

Our goal is to foster in all students a strong sense of individual responsibility and a clear understanding about how they are expected to treat others. Each division has developmentally-appropriate positive behavior support systems to support behaviors. In instances where students are not displaying expected behaviors and following conduct guidelines, consequences including disciplinary action may be appropriate.

Carroll reserves the right to impose discipline, up to dismissal, for any on-campus or off-campus behavior, whether or not related to a school-sponsored activity, that Carroll determines could have a detrimental impact on the general welfare of teachers, staff, other students, or the school in general. This includes discipline of any student who interferes with or fails to cooperate with any investigation conducted by the Head of School or other administrative staff. Carroll also reserves the right to impose discipline for any behavior that Carroll determines may impair or negatively impact the reputation of the school. The Head of School reserves the discretion to determine any such violation and to impose any discipline based upon the facts and circumstances of each specific case.

The Head of School has the final authority in all disciplinary matters. The Head of School reserves the right to dismiss or to require the withdrawal of any student at any time if the Head of School determines such action is necessary and required for the good of the school community. The procedures outlined below in no way undermine the Head of School's authority to determine and implement in all cases of any violation of school rules, either minor or major, whatever disciplinary decision is necessary, which discipline where appropriate in the discretion of the Head of School may include immediate suspension, dismissal, or referral to legal authorities. Carroll need not follow the procedures set forth in this policy if, in the sole reasonable discretion of the Head of School, intervention by the Head of School is warranted, including the need for immediate action. Likewise, the procedures set forth below are only guidelines. This policy and the procedures do not create any contractual rights in favor of any student or family, or impose upon Carroll any legal obligation.

Definitions Of Disciplinary Consequences

Detention: Students will be assigned detention by their Division Head. Detentions are scheduled after school, half- or full-day, or Friday.

Probation: Probation represents a warning to a student that any future serious offense will likely result in suspension, dismissal, or expulsion. A student placed on probation may be prohibited from serving as a class officer, Student Government representative, team captain, or a holder of any other school leadership position. Students who violate Carroll's expectations while on probation place their enrollment at Carroll in jeopardy.

In-School Suspension: Students who serve an in-school suspension report to school for regular hours but are restricted to a designated location. Students generally remain in a room to complete any school work, to take tests assigned that day, and/or to complete work hours. Students may not participate in any school activities or attend school functions.

Suspension: Students on suspension are not allowed to be on campus or attend school events for the duration of the suspension.

Dismissal: A student who is dismissed is no longer a member of our community and may not be present on campus without the permission of the Head of School or Division Head. A dismissed student may be given the option to apply for readmission after the passage of a designated amount of time and the completion of such preconditions as the Head of School deems appropriate or necessary.

Expulsion: A student who is expelled will have no option for readmission and may not be present on campus without the permission of the Head of School.

Disciplinary Procedures

The Division Heads are primarily responsible for discipline. In all disciplinary matters, the administration considers the student's school record and the particular circumstances of an infraction. As is appropriate, the administration may also consult with the student's advisor and/or teachers. Since the disciplinary experience should result in learning and growth, this process is very important.

As outlined in Appendix C, disciplinary infractions are linked to particular consequences. The specific Lower School, Middle School, Upper School behavior management system is outlined in Appendix C. In all disciplinary matters, Carroll School may, at its own discretion, and in its best judgment, vary from these procedures or impose such penalties as it deems appropriate. Only in matters related to dismissal or expulsion may decisions be appealed to the Head of School.

Behavior Review Committee

At the discretion of the Division Heads, the Behavior Review Committee (BRC) (generally consists of three faculty members - one being a representative from the student's team - and the Division Heads) may hear cases involving very serious misconduct. In such cases, the committee will recommend appropriate disciplinary action. Composition of the BRC team may be organized by the Division Head according to the unique aspects of each situation. When it is appropriate, the student may appear before the BRC (for younger children it may often not be appropriate). As an advocate, the student's advisor (or homeroom teacher) will accompany a child who appears before the BRC. Often a member of the counseling team may be involved, as warranted.

Prior to the meeting, the student's parents/caregivers will always be informed that a BRC involving their child has been convened. Parents/caregivers are not invited to attend BRC meetings, although the Division Head has the authority to include parents/caregivers when beneficial to the process of determining the "true description" of relevant antecedents of the behavior or conflict.

The role of the Behavior Review Committee is to understand the broad range of issues that are involved in a student's behavior and performance. Often the BRC will hear from the students (when appropriate), ask questions so that BRC members can understand what happened, and ultimately make a decision about whether school rules were broken and what the consequences should be.

BRC is not a courtroom or a trial. The rules of evidence do not apply. The BRC members may receive and consider all evidence and information that it determines may be important to its decision. Students are not entitled to be represented by legal counsel at a BRC proceeding. Students are not entitled to conduct cross-examination of witnesses, or to ask any questions unless permitted by the BRC. The BRC is part of the school's efforts to ensure a safe learning environment for all members of its community and to reach fair decisions about whether school rules have been broken. The BRC will determine whether the student more likely than not committed the infraction alleged based on the information presented. The BRC will then recommend responses and consequences to the Head of School who makes the ultimate decision about responses and consequences. The BRC and the Head of School can choose to take guidance from responses and consequences in prior matters involving similar infractions and facts, but are not bound by prior determinations or results. The BRC aims to be fair and to treat all of the participants with respect.

Carroll reserves the right not to convene a BRC to hear and decide a case depending on the facts and circumstances of each specific matter. Instead, the Head of School may choose to decide responsibility and discipline for any infraction. Further, in all cases, the Head of School retains sole discretion over discipline matters, including all punishment. Students and families do not have any right to appeal the decision of the Head of School not to convene a BRC. Likewise, students and families do not have any right to appeal the decision of the Head of School concerning responsibility or any discipline sanctions imposed. In all cases, the decision of the Head of School concerning all matters of discipline shall be final.

The appointed moderator of the BRC meeting reserves the right to remove any persons from the hearing if the BRC determines that their behavior impairs the ability of the BRC to fulfill its role.

The BRC will provide ample opportunity to hear multiple perspectives and to review the summary of facts based on information collected prior to the BRC.

Often student descriptions of incidents differ from others' accounts in some ways, so the BRC will ask clarifying questions so that the committee can understand what happened.

Potential Results of a BRC Meeting

A Behavioral Review Committee meeting may result in:

- Detention - (after school, 1/2 day or full day, or Friday)
- In-house suspension (1/2 day or full day)
- Probation
- Recommended counseling
- Meeting with Division Head (with or without parents/caregivers)
- Restitution and reparative justice engagement
- Natural/logical consequence - as determined by BRC team
- Other consequences as deemed necessary

HEALTH & SAFETY

Medical/Health Forms

State law requires that the School have on file a report of a complete physical examination and immunization record. Carroll School requires a physical examination annually for each student.

Each new student and all returning students must have a medical report/physical exam signed by a licensed healthcare provider, dated within 13 months of the start of the school year on file before the student can attend class. Parents/caregivers will provide such medical forms (and any additional forms required for medical conditions - medication/treatment orders, emergency action plans, individualized health care plans, etc.) annually via the Magnus Health portal during enrollment each summer.

Accident Procedures

A School Nurse is available during regular school hours on all campuses to provide first aid, to administer medication, and to monitor children who feel ill during the school day. The school nurses/School Nurse Manager will train, supervise and oversee unlicensed personnel on campuses without a full-time nurse to provide first aid, administer medications and monitor students who are ill. There are various faculty and administration members that are certified in First Aid and CPR on all campuses. In the case of an accident at school requiring medical treatment beyond first aid, an attempt will be made to reach parents/caregivers directly. The child may be transported to the nearest medical facility via EMS based on the School Nurse's clinical judgment.

A form authorizing emergency medical treatment is part of each student's file. These forms are completed by parents/caregivers in Magnus in August. The School Nurse files all accident reports in the Division Head and Head of School's offices.

Communicable Diseases

If a child has been diagnosed as having an infectious or communicable disease, the parent or guardian must inform the School Nurse immediately. This includes: chicken pox/varicella, shingles, measles, mumps, pertussis, conjunctivitis, strep throat, impetigo, COVID-19, flu and mononucleosis. If a student has a communicable disease, the school community will be notified of the case as appropriate and advised of the incubation period and symptoms. The ill child's physician must inform the school in writing when it is safe for the child to return to school.

Illness during School Hours

Per Carroll School's Illness Policy, parents/caregivers are requested to keep their children home if they suspect illness. In the case of students who are judged to be contagious or incapable of staying in class, the School Nurse will contact the parents/caregivers, who will be required to take their child home immediately.

Students with symptoms of viral illness (Symptoms may include but are not limited to: chest discomfort, chills, cough, decrease in appetite, diarrhea, fatigue/tiredness, fever (100 degrees F or higher) or feeling feverish, headache, muscle or body aches, runny or stuffy nose, sneezing, sore throat, vomiting, weakness, wheezing), must remain home until they have been fever-free for 24 hours (without use of fever-reducing medication) and their symptoms have improved significantly. Please consider taking additional precautions recommended by the CDC and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health for the 5 days after they return to school.

Students must also remain out of school for at least 24 hours after the last episode of vomiting or diarrhea. Students must remain out of school until they have completed at least 24 hours of antibiotic treatment for communicable illnesses such as strep throat, impetigo and conjunctivitis. Students with undiagnosed rashes should not attend school until they have consulted with a physician and have received written clearance to return.

Carroll School may also choose to implement other health and safety protocols, that can change from time to time, to address communicable illnesses such as coronavirus, or any derivations or mutations thereof, even if not mandated by federal, state, or local health authorities. Compliance with all other protocols adopted by Carroll School shall also be a condition of enrollment or continued enrollment.

For avoidance of doubt, termination of a student's enrollment, either voluntary or involuntary, for non-compliance with any health and safety protocols required by the School shall not alter the unconditional payment obligations outlined in the Enrollment Contract.

All Carroll School Health & Safety protocols will be revisited periodically and are subject to change at any time.

Student Leaves of Absence

If a student's ability to make academic progress or otherwise function in the School community becomes compromised by physical, emotional and/or psychological issues, the School will work with the child's parents/caregivers, doctors and therapists to address the child's educational programming needs. However, Carroll School is not a therapeutic institution and does not provide ongoing treatment or health care resources. Counseling services are limited to assisting a student with educational matters. When a student's need for support goes beyond modification of homework obligations, reasonable time away from school for treatment, and/or check-ins by the nursing and counseling staff to permit the child to perform academically, the School will consider granting or requiring a student's leave of absence from school. Decisions to grant a leave and/or to permit a student to return to class after a leave will be made by the Head of School. Any decision by a family to withdraw a student is subject to the terms and conditions of the enrollment agreement. Students who are on a leave of absence from Carroll School may not participate in any school activities, including field trips, after-school programming, or other school sponsored events, until they have been formally cleared to return to school.

In certain circumstances, Carroll may require a student to take leave for personal health reasons that may be impacting the educational environment. Although there can be no absolute rules about when Carroll School will place a student on leave, the following considerations will generally be used in considering whether a leave is appropriate.

Physical Conditions

In the case of purely physical conditions, the School will typically place a student on leave when:

- The student is suffering from a condition that will prevent them from attending class regularly, and the duration of that condition is expected to exceed 10 consecutive school days;
- The student is susceptible and has been exposed to, or is infected with a communicable disease, the incubation period of which is greater than seven days.

Emotional and Psychosocial Conditions

When the issues of concern relating to a student's ability to stay in school are primarily emotional and/or psychosocial in nature, the School will typically place a student on leave when one or more of the following conditions apply:

- The student has expressed thoughts or exhibited conduct which leads the School to conclude, after consultation with qualified mental health consultants, that there is a risk that the student will injure themselves or other members of the Carroll School community;
- The student has acted in such a way as to lead the School to conclude, after consultation with qualified mental health consultants, that the psychosocial issues affecting the student are interfering significantly with the student's ability or willingness to be an active participant in the educational program being offered to them at the School;
- The student's activities lead the School to conclude, after consultation with qualified mental health consultants, that those activities are manifestations of an emotional and/or psychosocial condition and that the student's continued presence within the School community creates a risk of injury to and/or serious disruption of the lives of the other members of the Carroll School Community.

Medication Procedures

- The professional Registered Nurse (or delegated trained school personnel under the supervision of the school nurse) must administer all prescription and Over the Counter (OTC) medications in the school setting, pursuant to Massachusetts General Law.
- Please review the Carroll Medication Administration Protocol (below).
- Scheduled medications that need to be administered for 10 days or more require a written medication order from a licensed prescriber and an electronically-signed parent authorization form.
- Please log in to Magnus via the parent portal to update your child's Magnus health record: upload the written provider's medication order to the Prescription Medication Order Form area and electronically complete a Parent Medication Administration Authorization form. These documents will be reviewed by Carroll nursing staff and a medication administration plan will be developed before the medication can be given. The school nurse will contact you as needed to discuss the administration plan
- ALL medications (prescription and over the counter) must be delivered to the Health Office by a parent, guardian or responsible adult. Prescription medications must be in a pharmacy-labeled bottle and over-the-counter medications in manufacturer's packaging. Students SHOULD NOT carry any medications other than emergency medications (epinephrine auto-injectors, inhalers) pre-authorized and arranged with the school nurse.
- Certain OTC medications can be administered by school nurses when necessary as ordered by our Consulting School Physician. Parents can provide authorization for these medications by completing an Over The Counter Medication Authorization form in the Magnus Health Portal during enrollment each summer.

Carroll's Medication Administration Protocol

1. The professional Registered Nurse (or delegated trained school personnel under the supervision of the school nurse) must administer all prescription and Over the Counter (OTC) medications per 105 CMR 210.

2. Other than in an emergency situation, the school nurse is not authorized to administer any type of medication to school children unless all of the following conditions are met:

A. A written order signed by a licensed prescriber: physician, dentist, nurse practitioner or physician's assistant is provided for all prescriptions. Medications prescribed for 10 days or less may be administered according to the directions on the original pharmacy medication label, in place of a written order. The pharmacy will provide a second labeled container for medication to be administered at school. The school nurse will not accept "As Directed" on prescription labels.

B. Prescription medication provided to the school nurse must be in the original pharmacy container and state:

- a. Child's Name
- b. Medication Name
- c. Dosage / Route / Frequency of Administration
- d. Licensed Provider's Name
- e. Date Prescribed

C. A parent or legal guardian must complete and sign a Medication Order and Parent/Guardian Consent form. This form is available in the Magnus Health portal.

D. The following Over the Counter (OTC) medications (brand name or generic substitutions) are covered by Carroll School physician standing orders: Acetaminophen (Tylenol), ibuprofen (Advil, Motrin), antacids (Tums), hydrocortisone cream/ointment, calamine lotion, bacitracin, sunscreen, insect repellent, ST 37 topical antiseptic, petroleum jelly (Vaseline), benzalkonium wipes, Sting Relief wipes, aloe vera gel, purified water 98.3% ophthalmic solution (Eye Wash), normal saline 0.9% irrigation solution and alcohol-based hand sanitizer. Parent/guardian consent is required for administration of these medications and can be given by completing the appropriate form in the Magnus Health portal each year. This form is completed online during the annual registration process. Please note: A written order by a student's health care provider is not required for the above-named medications unless the OTC medication is to be given in prescription strength.

E. A parent or legal guardian must transport medication to and from the School Health Office.

F. All prescription medication orders must be renewed annually including epinephrine autoinjectors and inhalers.

3. A Parent or Legal Guardian should retrieve all unused, discontinued, or outdated medication when requested by the school nurse. In extenuating circumstances, with Parent/Guardian consent, such medications may be destroyed by the school nurse in accordance with applicable policies of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health's Division of Food and Drugs.

4. Self-administration of medication will be determined on an individual basis after a written and mutually signed Medication Care Plan is developed by the school nurse and parent or legal guardian (and physician, when applicable).

Counseling Team

The counseling team is made up of school counselors and is coordinated by the Counseling Director and the Division Heads. The team works with a consulting psychologist who is available to meet with the team as needed during the academic year.

Team members work with teachers, providing consultation and advocacy regarding individual students, classroom management, and school culture. In addition, team members provide case management, coordinating communication between teachers and families of designated students. Communication may also involve outside professionals and therapists. Finally, the team may offer groups addressing social skills or specific topics.

Individual student services may include academic coaching, school adjustment counseling, and interventions following disciplinary proceedings. The team may recommend that a family seek outside therapeutic relationships for students requiring ongoing counseling services. A referral list of providers is available.

If a student states to anyone at school that she/he/they is thinking about or feels suicidal, that Carroll employee or student hearing the comment should directly contact the counselor and Division Head, who will then make a determination as to its level of severity. They may then call the parent, or speak to the outside therapist. If the situation is determined to be acute, the student is sent with an adult from school, preferably our school nurse, to the nearest medical facility or we will call 911. Parents/caregivers will be called immediately to meet their child.

In order for a student to re-enter school, the School must receive written permission from their physician the day before reentry. On the day that the student returns, parents/caregivers must accompany their child for a meeting with the appropriate school personnel.

Child Abuse and Neglect

Massachusetts law and the School's policy mandate that any employee of the Carroll School must report any reasonable suspicion that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering either abuse or neglect by a caretaker to the Division Head, Head of School, or school counselor, who in turn notifies the Massachusetts Department of Children and Families. In all cases, any Carroll employee may also directly report to the Department of Children and Families suspected abuse or neglect of a child, with follow-up notice of the report to the Director of Counseling so that Carroll may take appropriate steps in response to the report.

Food Safety Protocols

Carroll School is an Allergy Aware entity. Our food safety guidelines are based on recommendations from the Massachusetts DPH and CDC. Food allergies can be life threatening and the Carroll School is committed to offering a safe, inclusive educational environment for all students including students with food allergies and intolerances, diabetes, celiac disease and other food-related conditions. Cooperative efforts between students, parents, physicians, and school staff members can help minimize risks. When a child with a severe allergy or other food-related health condition enrolls, the school nurses will work with the parents and healthcare providers to determine the precautions and procedures necessary to support the child's safety and well-being.

The Carroll School has adopted the following school-wide protocols:

- All school staff will receive annual training on the management of life-threatening food allergies in the school setting, and appropriate personnel will receive epinephrine administration training per MDPH regulations
- There will be no food trading or sharing among/with students
- All students and adults will wash their hands after eating allergen-containing foods (nuts, dairy, gluten, etc.)
- An adult will wash tables and desks with commercial cleaning products after food consumption
- Birthdays and classroom celebrations will not include sharing food. Any shared treats must be non-food items
- Food and food containers/packages will not be used in lesson planning of any kind
- Food/candy will not be used as incentive or reward
- No eating on vans/buses
- During infrequent all school or all-grade special events when food may be served, parents/caregivers of students with food-related health conditions will be notified by the health office and a plan will be made specific to each child
- In common eating areas, allergen-free tables can be designated if necessary for children with allergies

Process for food approval for Carroll School events:

- The event coordinator will submit a form requesting review of the proposed event at least 14 days prior. The proposed menu must be provided to the Health office during the earliest stages of event planning.
- The menu must be approved by school nursing staff prior to final approval and scheduling of the event, and must include food all participating children can consume
- Parents/caregivers of children with food allergies, food intolerances, diabetes and all other food-related conditions will be notified of the proposed menu by school nursing staff or the event coordinator. Accommodations for individual students will be implemented, including change in menu or disallowing of a requested food item

- Food served must be in manufacturer's packaging and individually labeled with ingredients and processing conditions
- Homemade food items cannot be served
- Substitutions or alternatives cannot be served without approval by school nursing staff

Pre-approved Food Items:

- During enrollment each summer, Carroll parents/guardians will be asked to pre-approve some low-allergen foods that may be offered to their students on occasion without additional permission needed
- The list of pre-approved foods will be provided to staff/faculty each year along with a list of students whose parents have declined permission for certain foods
- The Approved Food list has links to the manufacturers' websites for detailed information. No brand/manufacturer/flavor substitutions will be allowed unless approved by parents
- Adults will ensure that all students in the group have approval for the chosen food before planning to serve a food item
- Staff/faculty will submit a special event form and consult school nurses for guidance during earliest stages of planning

STUDENT RECORD ACCESS

Student Records Handling

Carroll limits access to student records information to those within the School on a need to know basis for the purpose of implementing the educational program. All outside requests for records about a current or former student should be referred to the Registrar. Carroll maintains student transcripts or similar records for forty (40) years. Carroll takes guidance from state laws and regulations with respect to access, maintenance, and destruction of all other student records.

Custody Matters

It is Carroll's policy to require both parents/caregivers (or legal guardians where applicable) to sign enrollment agreements, and to permit both parents/caregivers similar access to information about the student's progress and performance. In the case of a student who is in the legal custody of only one parent or guardian, a parent or guardian must provide a copy of the court order or other pertinent legal documents to Carroll. Carroll may restrict a non-custodial parent's access to student records or participation in conferences or other school events. Carroll will determine how best to comply with any legal custody situations in the best interests of the student and the School. Carroll is not responsible for enforcing court orders, such as restraining or stay away orders, or custody agreements.

TECHNOLOGY ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

The Carroll School Computer Network (the "CarrollNet") is established for the educational and professional use of Carroll School students, faculty, and staff ("Users"). This Technology and Acceptable Use Policy (the "Policy") outlines the expectations for all Users when interacting with Carroll School's technology resources, including the school network, devices, applications, and internet access. All use must be consistent with the educational mission and values of Carroll School. Users are expected to demonstrate responsible digital citizenship and conduct themselves with the same high standards of behavior and respect online as they do in all other areas of the Carroll School community. Violations of this Policy will result in the immediate revocation of technology privileges and may lead to further disciplinary action, including but not limited to, suspension or dismissal from the school. The Carroll School reserves the right to report serious offenses to applicable law enforcement agencies.

Carroll School provides access to the global Internet to support learning and professional development. While we utilize filtering and security measures to minimize exposure to inappropriate or harmful content, it is impossible to control all materials on the internet. We believe the vast educational benefits and opportunities for positive interaction on the internet outweigh the inherent risk that Users may encounter content inconsistent with our educational goals. Users share the responsibility for navigating online content safely and ethically.

The successful and secure operation of the CarrollNet depends on the proper conduct of all Users. By signing the Handbook Acknowledgment form (and/or any specific technology agreements), Users and their parents/guardians confirm they have read, understand, and agree to abide by the terms and conditions of this Policy.

Scope and Authority of CarrollNet

This Policy governs the use of all technology resources provided by or accessible through Carroll School, including:

- All school-owned hardware (e.g., Chromebooks, computers, peripherals) and software.
- The Carroll School network, including wired and wireless connections.
- All online services, applications, and platforms utilized for educational or professional purposes, including third-party services that integrate with or extend the school's learning environment (e.g., Google Workspace for Education, specific educational apps).
- Any personal devices (BYOD) when connected to the Carroll School network or used for school-related activities on school property.

The school reserves the authority to manage, monitor, and enforce this Policy across all these technology resources. Parental/caregiver permission, as detailed in the "Parental Consent and COPPA Compliance" section, is integral to the school's ability to provide and utilize various educationally beneficial applications and services for students.

Privileges

Use of the CarrollNet is a privilege, not a right, and must align with the educational mission and values of Carroll School. The school, through its designated administrators, reserves the sole right to determine what constitutes inappropriate use or a violation of this Policy, and to apply appropriate disciplinary action.

All use of school technology and connected Internet resources must comply with this Policy, all other Carroll School policies and practices, and applicable U.S. and state regulations. Prohibited activities include, but are not limited to:

- Transmission, access, or distribution of material protected by copyright, trade secret, or other intellectual property laws without authorization.
- Display, transmission, or distribution of threatening, harassing, obscene, sexually explicit, or otherwise inappropriate content.
- Use for commercial activities, product advertisement, political lobbying, or personal financial gain.
- Any activities intended to disrupt the network, damage equipment, or gain unauthorized access to systems or data.

Violations of this Policy may result in the immediate revocation of technology privileges, suspension or loss of account, loss of Internet access, and/or other disciplinary action as outlined in the student or employee handbook. Serious offenses may also be reported to law enforcement agencies.

No Expectation of Privacy

Due to the nature of providing technology resources for educational purposes, users should understand that there is no absolute expectation of privacy when using the CarrollNet.

The school monitors the use of its technology resources, including network traffic, stored files, and communications on school-provided accounts and devices. This monitoring is conducted to ensure the security and integrity of the school's systems, to enforce this Policy, to comply with legal requirements, and to promote a safe and appropriate online environment for all users.

Carroll School retains the ability to access and review all data and communications on its systems, including the ability to override user-created passwords. This capability is necessary for technical support, system administration, investigations of policy violations, and compliance with legal requests.

To ensure student safety and well-being, Carroll School routinely monitors student online activity, including internet searches and communications using school-provided accounts and devices. This includes activity within Google Workspace for Education and other educational applications. While the school utilizes various monitoring tools, we acknowledge that no system is completely comprehensive. We make reasonable efforts to monitor student online activities and will contact parents/caregivers if we become aware of potentially harmful or inappropriate online behavior.

Parents/caregivers are strongly encouraged to actively monitor their children's use of electronic devices, particularly their internet and social media activities, and to establish appropriate restrictions.

Carroll School is committed to protecting student data and complies with all applicable privacy laws, including the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Security

Maintaining the security and integrity of the CarrollNet is a top priority, especially given the number of users and the sensitive nature of school data. All users play a vital role in ensuring a secure and reliable technology environment.

Users must not engage in any unauthorized access to another user's accounts, files, data, or any CarrollNet system. This includes attempts to bypass security measures or gain unauthorized administrative access.

To uphold the security of CarrollNet, all users must adhere to the following guidelines:

- Report Security Concerns: If you identify or suspect any security vulnerability, unauthorized access, or potential threat to CarrollNet (including its systems, data, or user accounts), you must immediately notify the Director of IT or other designated IT staff. Do not attempt to investigate or resolve the issue yourself.
- Prohibited Access Attempts: Any unauthorized attempts to access CarrollNet systems, accounts, or data, or to circumvent security controls, will result in the immediate cancellation of user privileges and significant disciplinary action.
- Access Denial: Any user identified as a security risk, or who has a history of problems with other computer systems or networks, may be denied access to CarrollNet.

Do not allow anyone else to use your account and do not use another individual's account.

Content and Communication Guidelines

CarrollNet provides access to a vast amount of information. Not all information freely available on the Internet is reliable, accurate, or appropriate for an educational environment. Students and employees are expected to critically evaluate the source and content of information to determine its appropriateness, usefulness, and validity.

Users may not use CarrollNet to access, upload, download, transmit, display, or distribute any material that is:

- Offensive or Harmful: Content that is obscene, sexually explicit, abusive, discriminatory (including racist or hateful), harassing, inflammatory, or otherwise inconsistent with the school's values and educational mission. This includes content promoting illegal activities or extreme ideologies.
- Dangerous or Illegal: Content that provides instruction for constructing weapons, explosives, or other dangerous devices; promotes self-harm; or depicts or encourages illegal acts.
- Threatening or Exploitative: Materials or communications that could lead to contact with unknown individuals who may pose a threat to one's safety or privacy, or that are used to exploit, harass, intimidate, or bully others.
- Violative of Rights: Content that infringes upon copyright, trademark, or other intellectual property rights.

Downloading, loading, or installing any unauthorized software or applications onto Carroll

School computers or systems is strictly prohibited. Unauthorized software can degrade system performance, increase maintenance demands, and introduce security risks like viruses or malware.

Users are prohibited from using unauthorized "instant or private messaging" programs, video conferencing applications, or other direct communication tools for personal or non-educational purposes on CarrollNet. The school provides approved communication platforms for educational use, and all activity on these platforms is subject to this Policy.

If you are ever uncertain whether a site's material or a communication method is appropriate, you must consult your teacher or a member of the administrative staff for clarification before proceeding.

Beyond the prohibitions outlined, all users hold key responsibilities for maintaining a safe and appropriate online environment. Students are responsible for the use of their individual accounts and should take all reasonable precautions to prevent others from accessing their account. Under no conditions should a user provide their password to another person. Furthermore, if a student receives any message or encounters any content that is inappropriate or makes them feel uncomfortable, they are required to immediately inform their teacher or another school employee.

Parental Consent and COPPA Compliance

Carroll School is committed to providing students with the most effective and secure web-based tools and applications for learning. To facilitate this while protecting student privacy, the school must comply with federal regulations, including the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA).

Carroll School utilizes various computer software applications and web-based services, many of which are operated by third-party vendors, to support our educational programs. An up-to-date list of these approved software applications and services, along with links to their privacy policies where available, can be found on the Aspen Class Pages and is subject to change throughout the academic year.

In order for students to use these programs and services, certain personal identifying information, typically the student's first name, last name, their Carroll email address, and username, must be provided to the web service operator. It is important to note that a student's Carroll email address is restricted and cannot be contacted by individuals or parties outside of the Carroll domain, nor are students permitted to email addresses outside the Carroll domain.

Under federal law (COPPA), websites generally require parental notification and direct parental consent before collecting personal information from children under the age of 13. For more detailed information on COPPA, please visit <http://www.ftc.gov/privacy/coppafaqs.shtm>.

By providing consent through the submission of the signed parent and student handbook, Carroll School is legally permitted to act as the parental agent, thereby providing consent to these third-party operators for the collection of the aforementioned limited personal identifying information on behalf of all enrolled students. This streamlined process eliminates the need for individual parental consent directly to each web service operator.

Your signed parent and student handbook will explicitly constitute consent for Carroll School to provide this necessary personal identifying information for your child to the operators of approved web-based educational programs and services.

Google Workspace for Education Accounts

Carroll School provides students with Google Workspace for Education accounts to enhance learning and facilitate communication. These accounts are integral to our educational program, used for:

- Classroom assignment distribution and submission.
- Teacher-student communication.
- Access to various educational software and online learning tools.

Carroll Google Workspace for Education accounts are primarily for educational use and are limited for use within the Carroll domain. They cannot be accessed or contacted by individuals or parties outside of the Carroll domain, ensuring a secure and contained learning environment. All CarrollNet policies, including this Acceptable Use Policy, apply to the use of these accounts. Student accounts are deleted 30 days after students leave Carroll School.

While primarily for educational purposes, students may use Google Workspace for Education tools for limited personal projects outside of school hours, subject to the following restrictions and all other applicable school rules and policies. Accounts may not be used for:

- Unlawful activities.
- Inappropriate sexual or other offensive content.
- Threatening or harassing another person.
- Misrepresentation of Carroll School, its staff, or its students.

Access to Google Workspace for Education is a privilege granted at the discretion of Carroll School. The school maintains the right to immediately withdraw or suspend access and use of Google Workspace for Education accounts when there is reason to believe that violations of law, this Policy, or other school policies have occurred. In such cases, the alleged violation will be referred to the Head of School or other designated administrators for further investigation, which may lead to account restoration, suspension, or termination. As per the school's agreement with Google, Carroll School also reserves the right to immediately suspend any user's account suspected of inappropriate use, pending review.

Use of School-Owned Hardware

Carroll School provides and manages technology resources to support educational and professional purposes. To maintain the integrity and functionality of these systems, users must adhere to the following:

- No Unauthorized Modification: Under no circumstances should a student attempt to modify the existing hardware configuration of any Carroll School computer or device, including opening the case, or changing BIOS or other hardware settings.
- Report Damage: Students are responsible for reporting any damage discovered on school-owned computers or devices to their teacher immediately.
- No Unauthorized Connections: Students, staff, and visitors are not allowed to connect personal computers, laptops, notebooks, personal digital assistants, or any other electronic device to any Carroll School computer or to the CarrollNet without the expressed knowledge and written consent of the Director of IT or their designee.

Student Chromebooks (Lower, Middle, and Upper School)

Carroll School provides Chromebooks to support student learning across all divisions. Specific policies regarding ownership and responsibility apply:

- Lower School Chromebooks: All students in the Lower School program receive a Chromebook for use during the academic year. These Chromebooks remain the property of Carroll School and must be returned annually.
- Middle and Upper School Chromebooks: All students entering the Middle or Upper School program receive a Chromebook for their exclusive use throughout their time at Carroll. These Chromebooks are purchased by the student's family and are not returned yearly. Students are responsible for the safekeeping, appropriate use, and any damage to their Chromebook.

The student and their family are solely responsible for any repair or replacement costs incurred due to damage, loss, or theft of the device. This responsibility extends to all components and accessories.

Middle and Upper School students are responsible for the appropriate use and storage of their family-purchased Chromebooks over the summer. While students are enrolled at Carroll, their Chromebooks remain subject to all existing school policies, including this Technology Acceptable Use Policy.

Preservation of Resources

CarrollNet resources, including disk drive space and network bandwidth, are finite. To ensure equitable access and optimal performance for all users, the following guidelines apply:

- No Unauthorized Software/Information Storage: Neither programs nor information may be stored on CarrollNet systems without the explicit permission of the Director of IT or designee.
- No Software Loading: Users are not permitted to load any software onto school computers or devices.
- File Quotas and Purging: Each user is allocated reasonable space for email, web, and personal files, as determined by system file quotas. Carroll School reserves the right to require the purging of files to regain disk space without prior warning. Priority of resource space will be given to users with the most pressing educational or professional needs.

Borrowed Equipment

For the convenience of the Carroll School community, loaner equipment (such as computers, digital still cameras, digital video cameras, and other devices) may be available for student use.

- User Responsibility: Users are fully responsible for any equipment they borrow, including all accessories, and must use it in accordance with this Policy.
- Accountability for Damage or Loss: If borrowed equipment is damaged or lost while under the user's responsibility, the user will be accountable for the fair replacement value of the equipment.

Responsible Online Conduct & Digital Citizenship

Users are expected to conduct themselves with the highest standards of respect, integrity, and ethical behavior when using CarrollNet, reflecting the values of the Carroll School community. This applies to all online interactions, whether within the school domain or on broader internet platforms, including social media and personal websites and blogs.

Users may not use CarrollNet for purposes of harassment, intimidation, bullying, or any form of abuse towards others, whether within the Carroll School community or the broader Internet. This includes, but is not limited to, using foul, abusive, discriminatory, demeaning, or sexually explicit language; attempts to "fill" electronic mailboxes; posting obscene images or texts; or engaging in "flames" or other disruptive acts. Users must also never give out personal identifying information (e.g., address, phone number, personal email, passwords, etc.) about themselves or others, including any information that could lead to inappropriate contact with strangers or compromise safety. If a student receives any message or encounters any content that is inappropriate or makes them feel uncomfortable, they must immediately report it to their teacher or another school employee.

Finally, users must abide by accepted rules of network etiquette. This includes being polite, using appropriate language (avoiding vulgarities or inappropriate language), and not using CarrollNet in a way that disrupts its use by others.

Social Networking Sites

While Carroll School respects the right of employees, students and families to use social media and networking sites, as well as personal websites and blogs, it is important that any such personal use of these sites does not damage Carroll School's reputation, its employees, or its students or their families. Student use of social networking sites is prohibited on Carroll distributed laptops; for students, these guidelines are intended to be applied for personal computer use outside of school. All users should exercise care in setting appropriate boundaries between their personal and public online behavior, understanding that what is private in the digital world often has the possibility of becoming public, even without their knowledge or consent.

Carroll School strongly encourages all employees, students, and families to carefully review the privacy settings on any social media and networking sites they use (such as Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Instagram, Snapchat, TikTok, or any other social media platform), and exercise care and good judgment when posting content and information on such sites. When using a social media site, an employee may not include current students as "friends," "followers" or any other similar terminology used by various sites. If an employee has a community that extends to persons who are parents/caregivers, alums, or other members of the Carroll School community, they must exercise good judgment about any content that is shared on the site.

Additionally, employees, students, and families should adhere to the following guidelines, which are consistent with Carroll School's community standards on harassment, student relationships, conduct, professional communication, and confidentiality:

- Users should not make statements that would violate any of Carroll School's policies, including its policies concerning discrimination or harassment;
- Users must uphold Carroll School's value of respect for the individual and avoid making defamatory or disparaging statements about the School, its employees, its students, or their families;
- Users may not disclose any confidential information of Carroll School or confidential information obtained during the course of their employment, about any individuals or organizations, including students and/or their families.

Carroll School has a strong interest in promoting a safe and supportive learning environment, as well as maintaining a positive reputation in the community. If the School believes that a student's activity on a social networking site, blog, or personal website may violate the School's policies or otherwise may have a detrimental impact on the learning environment, the School may request that the student cease such activity. Depending on the severity of the incident, the student may be subject to disciplinary action. Carroll School reserves the right to impose discipline, up to dismissal, for any behavior on or off campus that Carroll determines may impair or negatively impact the reputation of the School.

Intellectual Property, Plagiarism & Copyright

Users must always acknowledge and respect the intellectual property rights of others. Information obtained through CarrollNet, including from the Internet, that is part of a research project or used in any context, must be properly attributed to its source using standard citation methods. Students may not violate copyrighted material or otherwise use another person's intellectual property without their prior approval or proper citation.

Specific Prohibitions

To maintain a secure, functional, and productive learning environment, users are specifically prohibited from engaging in the following activities on CarrollNet:

- Unauthorized Downloads & Software: This includes downloading any unauthorized files, especially music and videos, from the Internet, unless the material is explicitly free for commercial use and royalty-free. Users are also prohibited from installing any applications or software onto Carroll School computers or devices, or transferring and/or storing music files or other unauthorized media from personal devices to CarrollNet systems.

- Unauthorized Access & System Interference: Users may not attempt to disable or modify any running tasks or services on CarrollNet systems, use proxies, VPNs, or other means to bypass content filtering systems or defeat any settings that prevent access to material flagged as inappropriate by blocking devices. Remote access software or hardware to take control of any network-attached device or workstation is also forbidden. This also includes attempting to log onto the network as a system administrator, disrupting CarrollNet's use by other individuals by connecting to other Carroll School networks to perform any illegal or inappropriate act, such as an attempt to gain unauthorized access to other systems on the network. Users are prohibited from violating the integrity of private accounts, files, or programs, deliberately infecting a computer with a "virus" or other malware, or attempting "hacking" using any method.
- Prohibited Communication Schemes: Engaging in phishing emails, pyramid schemes, forwarding or replying to "contests" or "fast cash" schemes, mass cross-postings, and uninvited mass mailings is forbidden.
- Gaming & Non-Educational Use: Playing games, including Internet-based games, at any time on Carroll School computers is prohibited, unless specifically directed by a faculty or staff member for educational purposes.
- Physical Tampering & Vandalism: Removing license decals or inventory control tags attached to CarrollNet systems is forbidden. Vandalism, defined as deliberate attempts to damage the hardware, software, or information residing on CarrollNet or any other computer system, will result in the person who committed the act being charged for the damage.
- It is the responsibility of each user to comply with the terms and conditions for the acquisition and use of software found on the Internet. Carroll School will not allow the copying or storing of illegally acquired software on CarrollNet.

Policy Enforcement & Consequences

Use of CarrollNet is a privilege, and failure to abide by the terms of this Policy will result in serious disciplinary action. Carroll School reserves the right to impose discipline, up to and including dismissal, for any behavior on or off campus that Carroll determines may impair or negatively impact the reputation of the School or the learning environment.

Willful damage to Carroll School computer hardware, software (including the deletion of programs and/or files), and computer networks will result in the student being responsible for the current repair and replacement cost of the damaged software and/or equipment. As outlined in the Hardware and Devices section, any damage to family-purchased student Chromebooks is the sole responsibility of the user and their family. Complaints received from other sites or parties regarding any of our users' online conduct will be fully investigated by Carroll School.

Any student violating the terms of this document will receive appropriate disciplinary action, as defined by the terms of the student handbook and/or the Consequences for Misuses document shared with students. This may include, but is not limited to, loss of CarrollNet privileges, detention, suspension, or expulsion. Finally, any user identified as a security risk or having a history of problems with other computer systems may be denied access to CarrollNet.

Use of Artificial Intelligence (AI)

As AI technologies become increasingly integrated into education and daily life, Carroll School is committed to guiding their safe, effective, and responsible use for student learning. We have established the following core principles:

- Academic Integrity: AI tools may only be used ethically as aids to learning and research, not as substitutes for original thought and effort. All work submitted must remain the student's own, and any use of AI tools must be properly cited and acknowledged according to teacher guidelines.
- Privacy & Security: Any AI use approved by Carroll School must adhere strictly to regulations and best practices protecting student data privacy, safety, and accessibility. Users should only use AI tools explicitly approved by the school, as unapproved tools may not meet our privacy standards. Approved tools include: Google Gemini, Notebook LM, MagicSchool.ai, AI features incorporated into Google, and AI features incorporated into sites and apps otherwise approved for educational use.
- Classroom Guidelines: The restrictions provided by the technology team represent the most open-ended usage of AI that will be seen at Carroll. Grade level leaders, department leaders, and individual teachers may set additional rules for their classrooms, as long as they do not conflict with the rest of this policy. Decisions made within one class do not affect the policy in other classes.
- Clear Communication: Teachers shall indicate what AI use is acceptable on a given assignment or in a given class. This will fall into three broad categories, described below. Teachers are encouraged to use these labels, but may use other language to provide additional clarity.
 - Red: Students may not use AI on this assignment.
 - Yellow: Students must follow the teacher's specific limits for AI. For instance, only using a specific tool, or only using AI for one part of a project.
 - Green: Students may use any AI tools that are considered acceptable at Carroll, and must cite the tools they use.
- Critical Evaluation: Users are responsible for evaluating the accuracy, potential biases, and appropriateness of any content generated by AI. AI outputs should always be viewed critically and verified. Teachers introducing a tool to students should provide guidance on how to evaluate what that tool produces.
- Continuous Evaluation: The tech department will work with campus-level leadership teams to routinely audit AI use, updating policies, training, and approved tools as needed to adapt to emerging technologies.

Waiver of Warranties; Limitation of Liability

Carroll School provides CarrollNet and its associated technology resources on an "as-is" basis and makes no warranties of any kind, whether express or implied, concerning these services.

Carroll School shall not be held responsible for any damages suffered, including but not limited to the loss of data, resulting from delays, non-deliveries, missed deliveries, service interruptions, or errors and omissions. Appendix A - Student Gender Diversity Guidelines

Carroll School values the commonalities that unite us and celebrate the diversity which we believe makes this community stronger and more vibrant - a diversity that embraces, but is not limited to: race, religion, age, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, learning style, physical ability, family makeup, and socioeconomic status.

At Carroll, we believe that all students need a safe and supportive school environment to excel academically and developmentally. Administrators, faculty, staff, and students each play an integral part in creating and sustaining that environment. These Student Gender Diversity Guidelines are intended to assist the School in helping students and their families navigate Carroll's practices that may uniquely impact transgender and gender non-conforming students. These Guidelines do not anticipate every situation that might occur with respect to gender diverse or transgender students; the needs of each student will continue to be assessed on a case-by-case basis. For questions about these Guidelines please contact the Director of Culture, Equity, and Inclusion.

Definitions

This is not an expansive list of all gender spectrum community language. However, this is a strong reference guide.

Gender Identity: How a person experiences their gender internally, the innate internal feeling of being a woman, man, something beyond or a combination of these.

Gender Expression: How a person communicates their gender to the world through visual cues and personal style (such as clothing, makeup, jewelry or hairstyle).

Gender Conforming: An adjective to describe a person whose gender expression is perceived by others as fitting in with traditional gender stereotypes.

Gender Non-Conforming: This term describes people who have, or are perceived to have, gender characteristics and/or behaviors that do not conform to traditional or societal expectations. Also referred to as 'gender expansive'.

Gender Fluid – Gender expression and roles that are more free and expansive than masculine or feminine stereotypes.

Non-Binary: A person with a gender identity that does not align with their sex assigned at birth and identifies as a gender other than male or female. Other terms that can have similar meanings include gender diverse, gender fluid, or gender expansive.

Sex: A person's assumed combination of anatomy, chromosomes, and hormones designated at birth.

Sexual Orientation: Physical desire or attraction towards others, if any. Common terms used to describe sexual orientation include, but are not limited to, heterosexual, lesbian, gay, and bisexual. Sexual orientation is distinct from sex, gender identity, and gender expression.

Cisgender: An adjective used to describe a person whose gender identity aligns with their sex assigned at birth. Sometimes shortened to ‘cis’.

Transgender: An adjective to describe a person whose gender identity does not match or align with the sex assigned at birth. Sometimes shortened to ‘trans’.

- Transgender Woman or Girl – a person who experiences themselves internally as a woman or girl but was assigned male at birth. Sometimes shortened to ‘trans woman’ or ‘trans girl’.
- Transgender Man or Boy – a person who experiences themselves internally as a man or boy but was assigned female at birth. Sometimes shortened to ‘trans man’ or ‘trans boy’.

Transition: The process a person takes to shift their body and life to be in alignment with their gender identity. Transition is a process that is different for everyone, and it may or may not involve social, legal, or physical changes. There is no one step or set of steps that an individual must undergo in order to have their gender identity affirmed and respected.

Guidelines

In order to create and promote a safe and supportive educational environment, Carroll adopts these guidelines to address the needs of gender diverse students:

- Bullying, Harassment and Discrimination

Carroll does not tolerate verbal or physical behavior that constitutes bullying, harassment, or discrimination on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. Such misconduct is prohibited on the School’s campus and property immediately adjacent to School’s grounds, on School vehicles and at School-sponsored events, activities, athletic contests, and off-campus trips. In addition, such misconduct is prohibited at a location, activity, function, or program that is not school-related or through technology, if such conduct substantially interferes with the student being targeted’s ability to participate in or benefit from the services, activities, or privileges provided by the School. Carroll seeks to provide all students, including transgender and non-binary students, with a safe school environment and promptly address complaints of bullying, harassment, or discrimination. If your student is the subject of bullying, harassment or discrimination, immediately report that information to the Head of School, your student’s Division Head, or the Director of Culture, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging.

- Names and Pronouns

According to Massachusetts law, school personnel should use the student's chosen name and pronouns appropriate to a student's gender identity, regardless of the student's assigned birth sex. Furthermore, schools should accurately record the student's chosen name on all records, whether or not the student, parent, or guardian provides the school with a court order formalizing a name change. Carroll faculty and staff will address students with their chosen name and pronoun. While inadvertent slips or honest mistakes in the use of chosen names or pronouns may occur, Carroll will not tolerate intentional and persistent refusal to respect a student's gender identity by using the wrong name and/or pronoun. The School may communicate with a student's family about a request to use a chosen name or pronoun at school. When contacting the parent or guardian of a transgender or non-binary student, Carroll will strive to adhere to the student's preferences regarding name and pronoun use for such communications.

- Student Privacy

Carroll seeks to ensure that all personally identifiable and medical information relating to all students, including transgender and non-binary students, is treated confidentially in accordance with applicable laws and the School's policies. In the rare instance that Carroll needs to disclose a student's transgender status, the School may provide the student an opportunity to make that disclosure first.

- School Records

Carroll maintains official student records. If a student requests that a chosen name and/or gender be used on school documents and records, Carroll will strive to comply with that request. This may include, but is not limited to, updating school transcripts, schedules, attendance records, class rosters, school IDs, recommendation letters, email addresses, and diplomas. Carroll is sensitive to the private nature of discussions and documentation regarding students' names and/or gender and is committed to protecting students' confidentiality by restricting the use of, and access to, this information in accordance with applicable law. Records with the student's birth name and gender will be kept in a separate, confidential file. Carroll may be required by law to report a student's legal name or gender, in which case Carroll will follow practices to avoid the inadvertent disclosure of such information.

- Access to Gender-Specific Areas

All campus restrooms are gender-neutral and considered single stall. The Middle School gym has designated changing facilities for girls and boys. Any student who has a need or desire for increased privacy may access the single stall restroom, regardless of the underlying reason. No student, however, shall be required to use these options or to use gender-segregated facilities that are inconsistent with their gender identity.

- Dress Code

Students may dress in accordance with their gender identity and expression, within the constraints of Carroll's dress guide.

- Athletics and Extracurricular Activities

Upon request, Carroll allows students to participate in athletics and extracurricular activities in a manner consistent with their gender identity. Students will be permitted to compete in interscholastic athletics in a manner consistent with their gender identity, to the extent that their participation complies with the rules and bylaws of the athletic associations and leagues in which Carroll competes.

- Other Gender-Based Activities, Rules, Policies, and Practices

As a general matter, Carroll evaluates all gender-based activities, rules, policies, and practices — including classroom activities, school ceremonies, and school photos — and maintains only those that serve an important educational purpose. Carroll allows students to participate in any such activities or conform to any such rule, policy, or practice consistent with their gender identity.

- Community Training and Ongoing Education

In order to help promote a safe and supportive school environment, Carroll seeks to incorporate gender diversity, anti-bullying and non-discrimination programming into its curriculum and professional learning opportunities for its employees.

- Transitioning

While some students may come to Carroll after they have affirmed their gender identity, others may socially or medically transition while attending the School. Carroll recognizes that each individual has a unique process for transitioning. Regardless of if or when a student chooses to transition, students at Carroll can expect the School's support. Carroll will work with each transitioning student and, as appropriate, the student's family to create an individualized transition plan and help promote a successful, safe, and supportive environment for the student's transition. Carroll may also work with a student's family to help support the student's social and emotional development at school. Students ready to socially transition should initiate a process with the School to change their name, pronoun, attire, and access to preferred programs, activities, and facilities consistent with their gender identity. Transition plans may include, but are not limited to:

- The date the transition will officially and formally occur (i.e., the date that the student will change their gender expression, name, and pronouns, and/or begin using the restroom and locker room associated with their gender identity);
- How, and in what format, the transitioning student's teachers and fellow students will be made aware of the student's transition;
- What, if any, information will be shared with the transitioning student's fellow students and/or teachers regarding that student's transition; and/or
- What updates may be made to the transitioning student's records, and when they will be made.

If students or their families have any questions about creating a transition plan, they should contact the Director of Culture, Equity and Inclusion.

APPENDIX B: Positive Behavior Supports/Management System

Lower School Behavior Management System

At the Lower School, we use practices from Responsive Classroom to build a strong, respectful learning environment, and draw on Restorative Justice to repair relationships and strengthen our community when harm occurs. Our approach is grounded in a commitment to nurturing a safe and inclusive learning community. We believe in learning from mistakes as we develop our core values of Empathy, Respect, Inclusion and Kindness (ERIK).

Level A: Procedural Offenses – behavior that breaks basic rules.

- Dress Guide – The student is reminded of the proper dress guidelines and requested to change into more appropriate clothing or sent to a counselor for an appropriate alternative, if necessary.
- Walk in Hallway - the student is required to go back and walk
- Bathroom rules - only 1 person in a bathroom at a time. The student is reminded to wait in the hallway for their turn to go in.
- Gum –the student is reminded that gum is not allowed and asked to throw it out.
- Electronic wearable devices/cell phones – The student is reminded that no device use is allowed during school hours and the device is turned off and stored in their locker/cubby/backpack. Repeated use will result in the teacher or administrator taking the device from the student.
- Inappropriate use of playground equipment/not following rules of play activity – student requested to make another choice for the remainder of recess.

Level A: Consequences

Logical consequences are applied to Level A offenses. A repeated pattern of Level A behavior moves up to a Level B consequence and a call to the parent. If the behavior continues, it is reported to counselors and administration and an appropriate response is created.

Level B: Moderate Offenses – behavior with disregard to the Lower School community's expectation of Respect = Respect Yourself, Respect Each Other, Respect School Property.

- Disrupting the learning of others – (calling out, loud noises, talking to neighbor)
- Disrespect
- Rudeness
- Offensive language
- Careless hurtful remarks
- Verbal or written teasing, name calling
- False accusations of bullying type behavior
- Minor destruction of property
- Violation of classroom behavior expectations
- Repeated pattern of level A offenses

Level B: Consequences/Direct Response

First Offense: (within a class period or with the same teacher.)

- The teacher provides a verbal reminder.

Second Offense:

- Takes a Break (TAB) - the student takes a break from instruction, in the designated space in the classroom or out of the classroom.
- If the student TAB and rejoins class appropriately, the student receives positive reinforcement for correcting their behavior.

- If a student is unable to take a break in the classroom, they take their break in a buddy classroom, or the teacher reaches out to the counseling team to support the student's break.

Third Offense:

- The student takes a break (TAB) in the buddy classroom, and the teacher reaches out to the counseling team to support the student.
- The student spends the next recess in the classroom with their teacher or another adult and reflects on their behavior, completes a Reflection Sheet in written form or verbally (with support, when necessary). The Reflection Sheet walks students through the process of reflecting on their actions, the impact on the community, and what would be a better choice going forward.
- The teacher documents the incident on the Reflection Sheet.
- If time permits, the student takes a movement break before the next block.
- Parents/caregivers are notified and copied on the Reflection Sheet, which is sent home for parent signature. A copy is also sent to the counseling office and entered into the Aspen student database. An administrator, the counselor, and the teacher discuss any follow-up with the student.

Level C: Significant Offenses – behavior that jeopardizes the well-being of students or others.

- Verbal or written taunts
- Taking or damaging someone's property
- Physical threat
- Harassment/Bullying
- Physical contact
- Offensive language directed to someone
- Fighting
- Arguing with strong emotion – loud and threatening voice
- Major destruction of property
- Repeated pattern of Level B offense

Level C: Consequences

Consequence/Direct Response: TAB outside the classroom, Counseling Office paged and reports directly to the Head of Lower School.

- The child stays either with the Counselor, the Lower School Division Head, or another administrator until the behavior is addressed and the child is ready to return to class.
- The incident is investigated by the Counselors.
- The Reflection Sheet is completed, the parent is notified, and the Reflection Sheet is sent home for parent signature.
- Reflection sheets are sent to a counselor to document the incident in the Aspen database and to collaborate with teachers for any behavior plan follow-up.
- Next recess – spent performing community services. Recess monitors are determined by the Lower School Division Head.

Second Offense

- TAB response (as above)

- Counselors investigate the incident, and an appropriate response is created with the teacher, the counselor, and the student. The possibility of outside support is explored.
- Parents/caregivers are called, and a meeting is scheduled.
- Reflection Sheet completed.
- If the 2nd offense is close to the 1st offense, then the child may go home for the remainder of the day (discretion of Lower School Division Head).
- A counselor documents the incident on the Reflection Sheet and then enters the sheet in the Aspen database.
- A student spends 2 days of snack recess and lunch recess performing community service. Recess monitors are determined by the Lower School Division Head.

Third Offense

- The Student Support Team is called by the Lower School Division Head who, with appropriate teachers and a counselor, investigates the incident, and creates an Individualized Behavior Plan with the teacher, the counselor, and the student.
- Additional supports and consequences are determined by the student support team.
- An Incident Report is completed by a counselor or the Lower School Division Head.
- The parents/caregivers are called, and a meeting is arranged for that day - the student may be sent home.

Consequences for Violation of Cell Phone/Electronic Device Policy

Phones are not to be used during school. Every middle and upper school student is assigned a personal Yondr Pouch. While the Yondr Pouch is considered school property, it is each student's responsibility to bring their Pouch with them to school every day and keep it in good working condition.

Upper School Behavior Management System

Expectations

All teachers and students are required to meet both the Community Expectations, which govern how we interact with each other as members of a learning community, and Academic Expectations, which govern how we approach our work.

Community Expectations - Apply at all times

- Treat all members of the community with respect.
- Act appropriately with peers.
- Stay in approved areas at all times.
- Follow the school dress code.
- Refrain from chewing gum without a medical exemption
- Electronic devices turned off and put away during the school day
- Place laptops, binders, and bags in approved locations (Flockers and classrooms).
- Clean up, particularly after meals.

Academic Expectations - Apply in class

- Arriving to all school commitments on time with the necessary materials.
- Demonstrate SLANT (sit-up, lean forward, ask and answer questions, nod your head, track the speaker).
- Keep feet and heads off of tables.
- Focus on academic work in class and refrain from eating or other non-academic tasks.
- Use only a water-bottle with a sealable lid, no cups or mugs in class.
- Participate appropriately in class discussions.
- Work quietly when engaged in independent work.
- Collaborate appropriately with peers when engaged in group-work.
- Follow classroom rules and teacher directions.

Level A: Procedural Offenses

- Tardiness (to class, etc) – Students reminded to make an effort or use strategies to arrive on time.
- Gum - Student reminded that gum is not allowed and asked to throw it out.
- PDA - Students reminded what is inappropriate and asked to stop.

- Minor destruction of property
- Laptop infraction
- Violation of classroom discipline plan
- Being in a place without permission unsupervised/loitering without permission
- Repeated Pattern of Level A offenses

Level A and Level B Consequences: “The Book”

Students who commit a Level A or Level B infraction will be asked to “sign the book.” Either in the classroom or outside of the classroom, the student will take a moment to complete a simple online form noting their name, the date, the reason for signing, and the assigning teacher’s name. Students will also be asked if they would like to immediately discuss/follow up with a trusted adult. A digital copy of the book signing will be sent to the student’s advisor, the assigning teacher, the school counselor and the Division Head. Although the student cannot negotiate when asked to sign the book, he or she will have the opportunity to explain after class with the sending teacher, advisor, or Division Head.

Signing the book is intended to provide a student with a break from a challenging situation and an opportunity to reflect on his or her behavior. Book signings also allow students and their advisors to analyze their behavior and notice any patterns so that they can work together to develop strategies that will allow students to experience more success with the expectations that have been challenging for them. Book signings are not intended to be punitive and should be viewed as simply one of the many tools and strategies that our faculty uses to help students develop their academic skills.

Results for Repeated Signings

Any Upper School student who exceeds the book signing threshold in any given trimester will have his/ her/their parents/caregivers notified and will have a meeting with his/her/their advisor and one or more other faculty members. During this meeting, the reasons for the book signings will be discussed and if deemed appropriate a further consequence will be given. The student will have a chance to explain the infractions and will have input in coming up with reasonable next steps. The possible consequences will vary: there can be consequences ranging from the experience of the meeting itself to a Friday afternoon detention. The teaching team and the Upper School Division Head will have flexibility to ensure the consequence fits the infractions.
