

AI in the Classroom From Toolkit to Practice

This AI-centered workshop is open to all Concordia faculty and external regional educators. This workshop focuses on embedding AI meaningfully in everyday teaching: rethinking assessment, designing for authentic learning, and building frameworks schools can grow with.

Key Topics

How AI is reshaping assessment and the learning process

What authentic learning looks like alongside powerful tools

Practical approaches that hold up as the technology evolves

Fee: US$250 for non-Concordia educators
Free for Concordia Employees.

CISH is excited to welcome back Dalton Flanagan and Cora Yang to our campus!
