

Mehmet Berke Baran, Class of 2024

"The student-teacher relationships I formed with all my teachers have been the most impactful thing for me. This close mentorship has truly shaped me as an individual for the foreseeable future."

Over these past three years, I have explored various courses leading to different specializations and participated in a wide variety of sports and extracurricular activities. I have used MCI's sports facilities to establish a badminton club with my friends, as well as indoor and outdoor athletics. I have also taken AP courses and other university courses offered at the school through MCI's partnerships with local colleges/universities. I have served on both student and dorm councils and am an elected member of the National Honor Society chapter for my school. I have also represented MCI at conferences such as Model United Nations and Youth in Government. It has helped me break out of my shell, mature, and become independent. When you step onto campus, you quickly grasp the institution's rich history and the generations of international students who came before you. Their lasting impact on MCI is palpable for current international students. Their initiatives have opened up opportunities, making MCI a more inclusive space.
