1. Narrative description of the Prop 28 arts education program(s) funded. (2500 character limit).

In the 2025/26 school year, Antelope Valley Union High School District continued to expand the strategic use of Proposition 28 funding to enhance and broaden access to high-quality arts education across its comprehensive and alternative high school campuses. Building upon the foundation established in the prior year, the District continued to strengthen existing programs while expanding staffing, instructional support, and opportunities for students to engage in meaningful arts experiences. In alignment with Proposition 28 requirements, over 80% of funds were directed toward personnel, supporting positions that provide arts education and direct services to students. These included Site Arts Lead Teachers (SALTs), Arts Tutors, Arts Education Instructional Aides, and Industry Professionals. The remaining funds supported materials, supplies, and contract services that enhanced arts instruction and provided students with the tools, resources, and experiences necessary to participate fully in VAPA programs. SALTs continued to coordinate Visual and Performing Arts initiatives at their school sites, collaborate with teachers and administrators, support alignment with the California Arts Standards, and serve as liaisons between school sites and District arts programs. Arts Tutors and Arts Education Instructional Aides expanded direct support to students through individualized and small-group assistance, skill development, classroom support, and preparation and organization of instructional materials and equipment. AVUHSD also continued to expand the use of Industry Professionals, bringing practicing artists and specialized professionals directly into arts programs. These professionals provided students with authentic industry expertise and supported instruction, rehearsals, performances, ensemble development, technical skills, and artistic growth. Professional accompanists also supported music and performing arts programs, enriching rehearsals and performances while helping students develop confidence and performance readiness. Through continued implementation of Prop 28, AVUHSD is building a stronger and more sustainable arts education infrastructure while increasing opportunities for students to explore multiple artistic disciplines, create, perform, collaborate, and develop their talents. The District remains committed to expanding equitable, standards-aligned arts opportunities that respond to student interests and the unique needs of each school.
