RE: School District of Holmen Tax Exempt Status

Dear Vendor/Service Provider:

At times, you are required to have on file verification of special pricing and the tax-exempt status of your customers. In an effort to assist you in meeting this requirement, we are presenting this document. If you have additional needs, please contact Business Services at (608) 526-6610.

Regarding special pricing and sales tax exempt status, I offer the following information:

Qualification for State of Wisconsin Pricing
Per the provisions of the State of Wisconsin constitution (specifically Article X, Section 3, which requires state government to establish free public schools and Article X, Section 1, which vests the State Superintendent of Public Instruction with oversight of the state's free public school) the operations of Wisconsin's public schools may be defined as a state function.

Being an institution functioning as a part of state government, the school district is eligible for all special, discounted, or incentive pricing secured by other state agencies and/or departments. The exception to this would be if at the time such pricing was secured, there were definitions within the specifications that limited the pricing arrangements.

Qualification for Tax Exempt Status
Attached, please find a replication of the School District of Holmen's "Sales and Use Tax Certificate of Exempt Status." This document validates the school district's tax-exempt status as an educational organization.

Respectfully,

Julie Holman
Executive Director of Finance & Operations
