Executive Summary

IMPORTANT UPDATE - The Grants Finance Office has updated its FS-10 form with new certification language. The new form must be used when completing the 2026-27 Consolidated Application for ESSA-Funded Programs. Failure to do so will result in applications being returned to the LEA. The new form may be found here.

The New York State Education Department (NYSED) has developed the online 2026-27 Consolidated Application for ESSA-Funded Programs to support the timely administration of programs funded by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) to local educational agencies (LEAs) across the state. The application is streamlined to focus on the required assurances from Section 8306 of ESSA, as well as fiscal and programmatic information that staff have determined is necessary to properly administer each program. The additional information requested in the application will allow NYSED reviewers to ensure that all LEAs are fully prepared to effectively address key provisions of ESSA regulations. For example, the application includes a significant focus on consultation with required constituent groups in the design of ESSA-supported programs. Even though LEAs will provide assurances that consultation has occurred, NYSED has determined that evidence of that consultation should be provided as part of the application process. Toward that end, documentation of the constituent groups included in consultation, along with an LEA Affirmation of Private School Consultation form, will be required as part of the initial application.

The online format dramatically improves NYSED's capacity to collect and analyze district-provided data in a timely manner, and then utilize that data to provide targeted support to LEAs as part of shared continuous improvement efforts. For example, the format will allow NYSED to quickly review LEA-determined per pupil amounts for Title I, Part A programs to confirm that funds for services are appropriately distributed among eligible public and non-public schools. For LEAs whose calculation methodologies are not clear or are not consistent with ESSA requirements, NYSED program staff will be able to provide immediate technical assistance to ensure the proper distribution of funds.

The online application also supports better coordination among NYSED program offices – furthering the Department's capacity to support continuous improvement through technical assistance. For example, consultation forms and other data related to equitable services to private school students and teachers will be shared with the Ombudsman to help coordinate technical assistance and monitoring efforts between the Office of ESSA Funded Programs and the State Office of Religious and Independent Schools. Similarly, data about an LEA's use of Title II, Part A funds will be easily shared with District and School Review Teams from the Office of Accountability and the Office of Educator Quality and Professional Development to help LEAs maximize the use of evidence-based professional development strategies in identified schools.

ESSA Programs - Transferability

Transferability

As confirmed by the United States Department of Education (USDE), an LEA opting to use Transferability must calculate equitable service shares based on the total amount of funds available under a program after a transfer (ESEA section 5103(e)(1)). Just as an LEA may not transfer funds to a particular program solely to provide equitable services, it may not retain funds solely for this purpose. Thus, if an LEA chooses to transfer 100 percent of its Title II, Part A or Title IV, Part A funds to Title I, Part A, it may not provide equitable services under Title II, Part A or Title IV, Part A.

For more information on Transferability, please refer to the technical assistance document, "Transferability Guidance" in the Documents panel along the left side of this page.

1. In the chart below, please identify funds subject to Transferability FROM either Title II, Part A or Title IV, Part A and the program area to which they are being assigned.

- ☒ The LEA met the goals it set for the previous school year.
- ☐ The LEA did not meet the goals it set for the previous school year.

2. In the space provided below, please describe (1) the specific student needs that impact academic achievement, and (2) how your Title I, Part A program is designed to address those needs. The needs should be identified through a recent needs assessment, include homeless and/or neglected youth as applicable, and provide the basis for coordinated efforts on the part of the LEA to address them.

In determining the Title I status of our schools, we are using the Grade Span option for grades K - 5. This grade span covers our two elementary schools. We believe that early intervention is crucial for helping our students achieve academic growth and meet with success and therefore have chosen to target these funds for our elementary students. At our elementary schools, we have established a program to support students who require academic support to grow and be successful. An area of focus is additional targeted instruction in the area of literacy. The district's Academic Intervention (AIS)/Response to Intervention (RtI) plan provides the criteria and guidelines for providing intervention to these particular students. At the elementary schools students are identified needing additional support in literacy instruction through grade level meetings and through the Instructional Support Team (IST). This team utilizes an array of assessments and data to assess students' needs including: NYS assessments in ELA, standardized assessments, curriculum assessments and teacher made assessments/class work.

Elementary students are administered the NWEA and Teachers College assessments three times a year. These assessments indicate each student's current level of instruction, proficiency and growth. Using all of the beforementioned assessments, students are scheduled for Supportive Reading during the school day. This support service is provided by a certified reading teacher. The reading teacher along with the IST team reviews all of the assessment data and creates a plan of reading support and targeted instruction for each identified student. Throughout the year, there is progress monitoring and reviews of students' progress. When necessary, any adjustments are made.

3. In the space below, please describe the specific goals and/or outcomes the LEA has identified based on the information provided above. The goals/outcomes should be measurable and aligned directly to the above identified needs impacting student achievement.

The goal for our reading support program is for our students who require reading support to improve their literacy proficiency levels by 2 - 5 percentage points. The aim is for this improvement in reading to have a positive impact on the overall academic success of the students.

- ☐ The LEA exceeded the goals it set for the previous school year.
☒ The LEA met the goals it set for the previous school year.
☐ The LEA did not meet the goals it set for the previous school year.

- 2. In the space provided below, please describe (1) the specific student and/or teacher needs that impact academic achievement, and (2) how your Title II, Part A program is designed to address those needs. The needs should be identified through a recent needs assessment, and should provide the basis for coordinated efforts on the part of the LEA to address them.

We are transferring all of the Title II funds to Title I. Our needs assessments have indicated an increase in the number of K-5 students in need of literacy supplemental support. As a result, these funds will be used to pay a portion of a reading teacher's salary. The combined total of Title I ($54,500 - this amount excludes the $300 for Homeless reserves) + Title II ($29,145) will pay 56% of the reading teacher's salary.

In determining the Title I status of our schools, we are using the Grade Span option for grades K - 5. This grade span covers our two elementary schools. We believe that early intervention is crucial for helping our students achieve academic growth and meet with success and therefore have chosen to target these funds for our elementary students. At our elementary schools, we have established a program to support students who require academic support to grow and be successful. An area of focus is additional targeted instruction in the area of literacy. The district's Academic Intervention (AIS)/Response to Intervention (RtI) plan provides the criteria and guidelines for providing intervention to these particular students. At the elementary schools students are identified needing additional support in literacy instruction through grade level meetings and through the Instructional Support Team (IST). This team utilizes an array of assessments and data to assess students' needs including: NYS assessments in ELA, standardized assessments, curriculum assessments and teacher made assessments/class work.

Elementary students are administered the NWEA and Teachers College assessments three times a year. These assessments indicate each student's current level of instruction, proficiency and growth. - 2B. The LEA must prioritize Title II, Part A funds to schools that are implementing comprehensive support and improvement (CSI) activities and targeted support and improvement (TSI) activities under section 1111(d), and/or have the highest percentage of children counted under section 1124(c) (these include students from low-income households and those counted as part of Neglected and Delinquent student counts).

3. In the space below, please describe the specific goals and/or outcomes the LEA has identified based on the information provided above. The goals/outcomes should be measurable and aligned directly to the above identified needs/obstacles impacting student achievement.

The goal for our reading support program is for our students who require reading support to improve their literacy proficiency levels by 2 to 5 percentage points. The aim is for this improvement in reading to have a postive impact on the overall academic sucess of the students.

The students' growth in reading will be measured a number of times throughout the year utilizing the following:

Research indicates that well-implemented PLCs support improvements in practice along with student learning gains. The most successful PLCs have an explicit focus on student learning, increase teacher empowerment and authority in decision making, and promote continuous teacher learning through joint study of research literature.

- ☐ The LEA did not meet the goals it set for the previous school year.

- 2. In the space provided below, please describe (1) the specific student needs that impact academic achievement, and (2) how your Title III, Part A - ELL program is designed to address those needs. The needs should be identified through a recent needs assessment, and should provide the basis for coordinated efforts on the part of the LEA to address them.

TIIIA Needs

The L.I. RBERN Title III Consortium utilizes Title III, Part A funds to strategically supplement CR Part 154 requirements by providing professional learning for teachers of ELLs that specifically addresses and supports methodologies and instruction for the ENL classroom through project and performance-based learning and assessment (PBLA). This ensures that English Language Learners (ELLs) receive high-quality language instruction that bridges performance gaps. For the 2026-2027 program year, instructional design will focus on Integrated Core Content and ENL instruction that emphasizes the development of advanced language and literacy skills within the context of the NYS Next Generation Learning Standards and the NYSED Advanced Literacies Topic Briefs authored by Nonie K. Lesaux, Ph.D. & Emily Phillips Galloway, Ed.D. This will ensure that ENL methodologies are not isolated but instead are deeply woven into core academic disciplines and performance standards.

Project and performance-based learning that is experiential and connected to real-world events is aligned with NYSED's stated interest in PBLA for our schools: "Performance-based learning and assessment (PBLA) is a key component that provides authentic measures of student readiness and informs teaching, learning, and school culture in ways that support high-quality instructional practices, advance deeper learning, and strengthen family and community engagement." (<https://www.nysed.gov/plan-pilot/plan-pilot>) In addition, the NYS Portrait of a Graduate and the CRS-E Framework reference the 21st skills of Critical Thinking, Creativity, Communication, Collaboration and Culture as essential for our students future success." (<https://www.nysed.gov/news/2025/state-education-department-presents-new-york-state-portrait-graduate>)

To meet the needs of the 21st century learner, the Consortium will deliver a multi-faceted professional development program that promotes student inquiry and balances theoretical foundations with classroom implementation. Teachers will design culturally-responsive learning experiences taking into consideration the cultural paradigm each student brings to the classroom, using it as a lever for academic success. The instructional shift toward advanced literacies encourages using multiple texts and different perspectives on the same topic to help English Language Learners (ELLs) build a rich understanding of the world. Projects will provide voice and choice to students throughout the process, so that each will be given the opportunity to express their unique identity through a variety of digital storytelling options related to the theme. Teachers will incorporate ENL strategies and tasks to differentiate instruction for heterogeneous groups of ELLs based on their individual language needs. Title III, Part A funds will be utilized to provide teachers with the tools and training to develop these projects.

Title III Part A funds will also be used to provide a comprehensive suite of digital-age learning resources that will promote and support language development. These resources are essential for the development of advanced literacies, specifically assisting teachers and students in creating digital storytelling narratives that incorporate multiple modalities. The rollout of these tools will be facilitated by Edtech coaches, ensuring that the tools are used to support student-centered learning rather than passive consumption. By increasing access to these platforms, the Consortium fosters the development of cross-cutting skills, including inquiry-based learning and digital literacy which are required for success in a 21st-century society. These tools will empower ELLs to engage with complex, high-level content while building the linguistic and technical proficiency necessary for college and career readiness.

3. In the space below, please describe the specific goals and/or outcomes the LEA has identified for ELLs based on the information provided above. The goals/outcomes should be measurable and aligned directly to the above identified needs/obstacles impacting ELL student achievement.

TIIIA Goals

The Consortium's strategic framework is built upon the P21 Partnership for 21st Century Learning (4C's), but it takes the model one step further to address the specific needs of linguistically diverse populations. The resulting "5 C's" include:

- Critical Thinking: The analysis and evaluation of information to solve complex problems.
- Communication: The effective sharing of thoughts, questions, and solutions.
- Collaboration: Leveraging collective talent and expertise to achieve shared goals.
- Creativity: Employing innovation and invention to approach challenges in new ways.
- Cultural Responsiveness: This fifth "C" serves as the essential lever for academic success, validating the cultural paradigm each student brings to the classroom.

The integration of these five principles into Performance-Based Learning and Assessment (PBLA) provides the Consortium with a mechanism to inform teaching, learning, and school culture. By moving beyond traditional testing, PBLA advances deeper learning and strengthens family and community engagement.

The L.I. RBERN Title III ELL Consortium intends to meet these goals through a multi-faceted approach of providing teachers of ELLs with technology equipment, subscriptions to online instructional tools and programs, and professional development to support implementation through data analysis, professional development sessions and classroom-embedded support.

The year will begin with a 2-hour Orientation session for all L.I. RBERN Title III Consortium members. In the Fall, there will be a series of (3) full day professional development modules, delivered synchronously online and in-person. Each module will be focused on interdisciplinary content and language instruction aligned to the NYS Next Generation Learning Standards for ELA. Throughout the school year, our edtech coaches will provide embedded pd to support member teachers as they examine student data to inform instruction, as well as design learning experiences that integrate instructional technology tools to address student needs. The professional development program will conclude with a 5-hour Celebration of Learning mini-conference featuring a Keynote address and workshop delivered by a current thought-leader in the field of Education. The culminating session will be a showcase of the student learning experiences that were designed and delivered through the school year and will include the innovative uses of instructional technology that they have found to enhance student outcomes. The learning experiences will be collected and published on the L.I. RBERN Celebration of Learning website for all Consortia member teachers to access and utilize. The resources developed in previous years can be found here: <https://sites.google.com/longislandrbern.org/lirbern-title-iii-celebration/home?authuser=0>

An integral component of this professional development program is the classroom embedded support provided by instructional technology and data specialists. Each member district will receive two days of classroom embedded support with a Technology Integration Specialist to support their transformative use of instructional technology and one day with a Shared Data Expert to examine their own ELL performance data and identify ways to address that performance through instruction.

The following are the L.I. RBERN Title III Consortium's measurable goals to ensure that the program described above is carried out effectively.

By August 31, 2027, 50% of Consortium teachers will have attended 50% of in-person professional development offerings.

By August 31, 2027, 100% of Consortium member districts requesting it will receive embedded professional development.

By August 31, 2027, the number of Consortium member ENL teachers contributing one "learning experience outline" to the final "Title III Celebration of Learning" website will increase by 5%.

The District continues to look to improve programming for our students in the area of STEM. This is especially true in today's world where students will need to be competent in 21st Century skills. With the constant advancement of technology and the development of AI, it is increasingly important for schools to act in a responsible fashion toward educating students to be prepared as global citizens equipped to deal with the challenges of the world around them. Toward this, the entirety of the Title IV funds will be used to pay for the multi-purpose tool called KidOYO. This platform provides learning modules in coding and artificial intelligence. The modules for coding include block coding using Scratch, Python, java, C++, and more. The AI platform provides students with a safe environment to learn how to appropriately utilize AI and is EdLaw2-d compliant.
