Principal's Letter

Dear Cos Cob School Families,

Welcome to the 2026–2027 school year!

I hope that summer provided everything your family was hoping for—time to relax, have fun, enjoy one another and make some great memories. Whatever your summer looked like, we are ecstatic to welcome everyone back!

One of the things I love most about Cos Cob is the pride people take in this school. Our students are proud to be here, our staff gives everything they have to their work, and our families show up for us in so many ways. People look out for one another, lend a hand when it is needed, and celebrate the good things happening around them. It really does feel like an extended family.

We are so fortunate to be part of a community that cares deeply about the important things in life; making sure children feel safe and loved, helping them become kind and responsible people, building strong relationships, and giving them every opportunity to succeed. You entrust us with your children each day, and that is something we never take lightly.

This year, we are thrilled to welcome Lindsey Eisenstein as our new assistant principal. Lindsey knows Greenwich Public Schools incredibly well, having served as both a teacher and administrator in the district. For the past six years, Lindsey has been the assistant principal at New Lebanon School. She brings a great deal of knowledge and experience to Cos Cob, but what stands out most from our work together this summer is her deep dedication to children and to the people who work with them. I am really excited to continue to work with her and I know she will quickly become an integral part of our community.

Our goal at Cos Cob is for every child to feel known, supported, and excited to come to school. We want our students to be challenged, to take chances, to learn from mistakes, and to grow more confident along the way. We also know we cannot do any of that without you. When families and school staff communicate honestly and work together as a team, children benefit. That will always be our priority.

You will find important procedures, expectations, and resources in this handbook. Of course, a handbook cannot answer every question, so please reach out whenever you need us. We want to hear from you and will always work with you to do what is best for your child.

Thank you for believing in Cos Cob School and for helping make it a place where people feel connected and children can thrive. We cannot wait to have everyone back in the building and to see what the year brings!

Here's to a great 2026–2027 school year!
