2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	The team analyzed our Georgia Student health survey that included feedback from all stakeholders.
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	The data shows that Loganville Middle school is a 4 star climate rated school. Our stakeholders generally have a good opinion of the school and its function and contributions to the students and community. The perception data indicates three areas of potential improvement that include empowering students to monitor their progress, stylizing targeted professional development that is implemented and monitored, increasing opportunities for family engagement with the school and with student learning.
What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	The team reviewed data teams results, PBIS discipline data, data from our Community Resource coordinator, counselor data, RTI, GCIS/BRIDGE bill process, school calendars, schedules, and benchmark assessments.
What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")	Process data shows that discipline incidents have decreased about 16% in 25-26. Teachers are creating and administering common formative assessments. Students involved with our Community Resource Coordinator are successful with the support given. The school schedule supports student instruction and improvement. Although we have tremendous parent and community support in athletic and club oriented events and parent conferences, we don't receive the same amount of support and attendance when we host family engagement nights. We did host two parent events focused on curriculum and instruction last year.

What achievement data did you use?	The team used MAP, Lennections/Pear Assessment, EOG, and CFA's.

What does your achievement data tell you?	NWEA MAP data indicated that LMS should've maintained the level of achievement on the 25-26 EOG. The results of the Math assessment indicated slight improvements in both 6th and 7th grade math with a higher improvement rate in 8th grade math. ELA NWEA results improved each time we administered the test. Our EL subgroup continue to lag behind regular ed students but our EL students did make gains in 25-26 and we were able to exit 10 students from our ESOL program.

What demographic data did you use?	The team used EOG, survey, attendance and discipline, SWIS, and IC reports on student demographics.
------------------------------------	---

What does the demographic data tell you?	Loganville Middle School's population is experiencing ongoing changes. Our socio-economic status is changing and we have about 55% of our population on free and reduced lunch. Our attendance has improved slightly and there is a small group of repeat offenders who have major historical attendance issues. We did see a better student behavior across the building as a whole in 25-26. ODR's saw a decrease of 16% this year as well as a dramatic decrease in the number of days students spent in ISS.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The trend seems to be that overall academically, LMS students do well academically from an achievement perspective. More improvement is needed in the area of recognizing individual student growth and remediating students individually using real time MAP data. Math, 8th Grade Science and Social Studies will be an area of emphasis for the 26-27 school year.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Positive growth in student culture resulting from PBIS implementation and tier 2 PBIS implementation will continue to be a priority. School leaders can continue to improve school culture by adding the staff portion of PBIS incentives. Leaders should continue to effectively implement the TKES evaluation process.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Our professional development offered to staff has greatly improved as we focused on the three C's and utilized the district instructional coach. Additionally, we ensured there was follow up and monitoring of professional development strategies learned. As our students require more advanced learning strategies to make progress, our teachers need to be trained to support those needs including training for instructional conferencing to inform students on growth, student strengths/weaknesses, higher order questioning, and using technology at a more advanced level for student learning.
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Parents are very involved where their students are involved be it athletics and clubs. Parents also volunteer readily for field trips and classroom activity involvement, but those opportunities are limited. Many parents are also highly communicative with teachers and participate in conferencing when invited. They also do not hesitate to reach out with needs and concerns. Our challenge has been getting parents to attend educational opportunities, such as curriculum or social media awareness nights.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The Georgia Student Health survey indicates that students at LMS are happy and feel safe. Students are being highly supported through PBIS. Teachers would benefit from supportive actions provided through PBIS and school leadership. Historically, school counselors have addressed students' needs as they arise. As the student population and mental health needs increase, a more proactive approach could increase the impact of our counseling department.

Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The school's socioeconomic status is increasing. LMS continues to increase in ethnic diversity. Our SPED population continues to grow and maintain the most students in the county. Our ESOL population continues to grow along with our MOID population.

Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Data shows that LMS started improving from last year to try and get back to where the school was achieving in 2019. MAP data shows solid student achievement levels across the three benchmark assessments for reading and math. Student Growth is an area that needs special attention. SPED and EL subgroups continue to lag behind regular ed students. Our gifted population makes up 29% of the student body, however only about half of them are performing at the highest assessment level on the Georgia Milestones assessments.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3.

Strengths	The quality of our sped staff is a strength for that student population. We have a variety of settings that we use to meet the needs for our students with disabilities. Our sped parents are very involved and advocate for their students' needs. Our EL students are served in a sheltered environment with two full time teachers. They have two classrooms dedicated to them where they can go to feel like they have their own space.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3.

Challenges	LMS needs to continue the improvement in ELA and pay close attention to Math MAP data in order to improve that area as well over the course of the 26-27 school year. It is a challenge to continue to meet the needs of the ED students. 55% percent of our students make up our ED population. Because LMS students typically achieve at a higher level and growth has not been tracked as closely until recently, it poses a considerable challenge for LMS staff.

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

3.1 Stakeholders, Coordination of Activities, Serving Children, and PQ

Required Questions

1. In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders).	Teachers and Staff were surveyed
2. Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	All staff at LMS are highly qualified in the field they are teaching.
