

Kay Rosenblum

Kay Rosenblum is a children's storyteller of funny folktales, imaginative fairytales, and outrageous tall tales. Audience participation is encouraged. She has conducted school residencies throughout Georgia and has led many teacher workshops on using drama in the classroom including GSU Education Dept., Augusta Arts Infusion Conference, Kennesaw State ESL Conference, and Georgia Association on Young Children Conference.

Contact: kayrosenblum@yahoo.com

What if...?

Storyteller, Kay Rosenblum use students' creativity to find out: What if frogs have a party? What if the sun raced across the sky? What if you had an invisible friend, Magalena Hagalena, who "has 10 hairs on the top of her head. Five are alive and the other five are dead!?"

Kindergarten

Insects Are Everywhere!

This fact packed assembly will have your students looking like insects, acting out their life cycle, and "meeting" some of insects' predators (including humans)! Students act out Aesop's "The Ant and The Grasshopper" as they learn how different insects survive.

1st Grade

Kay's Magic Mart

See a factory where magic tricks are made, the magic garden that needs new magic words, and participate in a birthday party with games that illustrate economic principles! Ways of distributing good and services, opportunity, cost, and scarcity and more will all be made clear when the tour is over. But time is scarce!

2nd Grade

Pollution Solutions

Kay's use of puppets, magic tricks and guided improvisations will keep your students involved and learning about pollution in the 5 Georgia regions. Students will discuss how they can make a difference and help the Earth.

3rd Grade

