Strong Fiscal Stewardship in Action

Natomas Unified School District has successfully modernized and maintained school facilities while keeping tax rates far below the maximum approved by voters — the result of careful planning, conservative assumptions, and active financial management.

$49M+	74%	A+
Total taxpayer savings from refinancing since 2008	Current tax rates below combined voter-approved maximum	Independent credit rating trend: upgraded by Moody's

What This Means for Taxpayers

- Over $49 million in total taxpayer savings achieved through refinancing since 2008.
- Recent bond measures delivered millions more for schools than originally projected.
- Current tax rates are approximately 74% below the combined voter-approved maximum.

How the District Does It

- Careful long-term planning using voter-approved bonds, state funding, and developer fees.
- Conservative financial assumptions.
- Refinancing bonds only when it clearly reduces long-term costs.

Independent Recognition

- Moody's upgraded the District's credit rating, citing a strong financial position, prudent fiscal practices, and a growing local economy.

Natomas USD actively protects taxpayer dollars while investing responsibly in safe, modern schools.
