Dear Katy ISD Community,

There is so much that makes Katy ISD a remarkable place to learn, grow and serve.

Each year, thousands of educators, parents and community partners come together with the shared purpose of making this the best year yet for our students. This year's District theme is Excellence in Action, and nowhere is that more evident than in the volunteers who give their time, talents and heart to our students.

Volunteers bring our schools to life. They mentor students, read with young learners, support teachers, open doors through business partnerships and remind every child that an entire community is invested in their success.

Our Partners in Education department invites you to find your place in bringing Excellence in Action to life both in and beyond the classroom. Regardless of whether you have one hour a month, or several hours each week to give, there will always be a place for your one-of-a-kind gifts and talents.

As superintendent, I have seen firsthand the impact that volunteers make every day in the lives of our students and across our community. Thank you for helping make Katy ISD not only an excellent school district, but a caring community where every student knows they matter.

FROM THE DESK OF

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

Karen Lewis

You're invited.

These two humble words hold tremendous power – to open doors, change lives, and build communities.

An invitation says, "You belong here."

An invitation asks us to be present.

This guide is our invitation to join thousands of volunteers who have found their place in our school community.

Within these pages, we hope you will find the invitation that is right for you – to mentor a student, support a classroom, celebrate teachers, strengthen a campus, or simply show up when someone needs you. However you serve, your presence makes a difference.

So welcome in. Stay a while.

Because the moments that shape a child's life begin with someone choosing to be present.

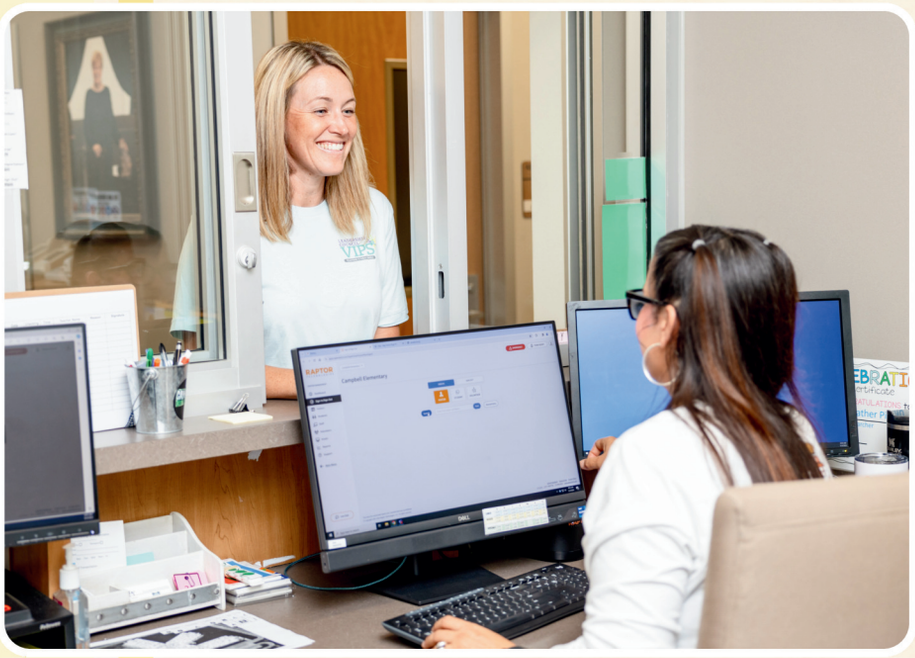

Be present in moments that matter.

And when you find your place here, we hope you'll extend that invitation to others.

With gratitude,
Karen Lewis

Volunteers in Public Schools

Volunteers in Public Schools (VIPS) is our widest-reaching volunteer program. It connects families and community members with meaningful ways to positively impact students on their campus or across Katy ISD. From lending a hand in the library or workroom to serving through PTA, PTO or Booster Club, VIPS volunteers help create strong, connected school communities.

VIPS is your entryway into the world of volunteering. Whether you have 30 minutes a month or lots time to spare each week, you'll find all kinds of meaningful ways to get involved. From helping at an event to providing support behind the scenes, there's something for everyone.

However you choose to serve, you will make a difference. And the best part? Volunteering not only uplifts our students and teachers, but it also boosts your own well-being.

GETTING STARTED

First, complete your Raptor volunteer registration and select the campuses or facilities where you'd like to help. Then visit your school's website or reach out to your campus volunteer leaders to learn about current opportunities.

Each campus has a VIPS Liaison - a staff member who helps manage volunteer efforts and a VIPS Coordinator - a lead volunteer who welcomes and organizes fellow volunteers. Both are there to support you.

I Make a Difference

KEYS Mentoring Program

One mentor can make a lifelong difference for a student.

The KEYS (Keep Encouraging Youth toward Success) Mentoring Program connects students with trusted adult mentors who provide encouragement, guidance, and meaningful one-on-one support throughout the school year. More than a volunteer opportunity, it is built on the power of strong relationships and the lasting impact of simply showing up.

KEYS is not an intervention or behavior support program. It is a relationship-based program designed for any student who can benefit from having a supportive adult in their corner. Whether a student is navigating personal challenges, adjusting to a new environment, building confidence, or simply needs someone to listen and encourage them, KEYS provides a safe space where students can connect, grow, and feel supported.

Mentors commit to spending one hour each week with their student on campus during the school day. They are matched with a student and spend time talking, sharing interests, creating, exploring goals, and celebrating successes.

Whether they are playing a board game, having a conversation about the future, or simply listening, mentors help create moments that matter.

While each relationship looks different, the heart of KEYS remains the same: building trust, creating connections, and reminding students that someone believes in them.

These weekly interactions may seem simple, but over time, they become meaningful relationships that can influence a student's confidence, choices, and outlook for the future.

Throughout the program's history, KEYS has transformed thousands of lives, impacting both students and mentors through the power of one adult making a difference for one student, one hour each week. Many former KEYS students have returned as mentors themselves, continuing the cycle of encouragement and giving back the support they once received.

I Connect
Business & Community Partnerships

At Katy ISD, our Business & Community Partnerships program facilitates opportunities between schools and the local community by inviting companies, organizations, and individuals to join us and make a lasting difference. Business & Community Partnerships welcome both employers and employees, so there's plenty of fun for everyone!

Many of our partners are already part of our school communities as parents, mentors, and volunteers. Through programs like KEYS, VIPS, Junior Achievement, and Promise to Read, businesses are woven into the fabric of our campuses in both big and small ways.

Building lasting school and community relationships that positively impact students and the staff who lead them.

Our partnership program is based on a philosophical handshake between a company and a campus. Sometimes this commitment means donating umbrellas for the car line or supplies for a special project. Other times, it is serving on campus advisory committees, volunteering for career fairs and international festivals, or contributing to the Food for Families program. There is no limit to the ways our partners show up for kids.

Many times, these seemingly small interactions lead to long-lasting relationships, some of which have lasted for years.

Partners are recognized via the Big Biz List, invited to district open houses where they can connect with campus leaders and volunteers, and have the opportunity to support individual schools as All-in-Partners.

These mutually beneficial relationships have the ability to provide long lasting impact on our campuses. We encourage everyone to check with their employer to see if they are connected to our schools.

The time commitment is flexible.
The return? Absolutely spectacular.

WAYS TO GET INVOLVED

BIG 'BIZ' LIST Our directory of community and business partners helps campuses find organizations ready to support students, staff, and schools through partnerships, programs, donations, and volunteer opportunities.

PARTNER PORTAL An online platform that makes it easy for campuses to request support from the community. Campus liaisons can post needs for volunteers, donations, programs, or special events, while registered partners can view opportunities and offer support in ways that align with their interests and strengths.

All-IN PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM This program connects a community partner with a single campus to build a meaningful relationship tailored to the school's unique needs and goals. Each partnership allows businesses and organizations to invest their time, talents, and resources where they can make a lasting impact—going all in for a campus and the students it serves.

Food for Families

Food for Families rallies community support for Katy ISD families in need through the funding of grocery gift cards.

Occasionally, we're called to do more than share our time—we're called to share our resources. That's what Food for Families is all about.

Twenty-four years ago, a small group at the Katy ISD administration building recognized that some families needed extra support during the holidays. Working with campus counselors, they quietly provided grocery gift cards. As word spread, generous individuals and businesses across our community joined the effort.

Since then, in partnership with H-E-B, Food for Families has raised $654,910 to support 11,549 Katy ISD families. Every gift—large or small—helps provide kindness, hope, and meals for families during the winter and summer breaks.

I Read

Promise to Read

Promise to Read brings local business and community organizations into elementary schools each fall, allowing adults to share their love of books and the gift of storytelling.

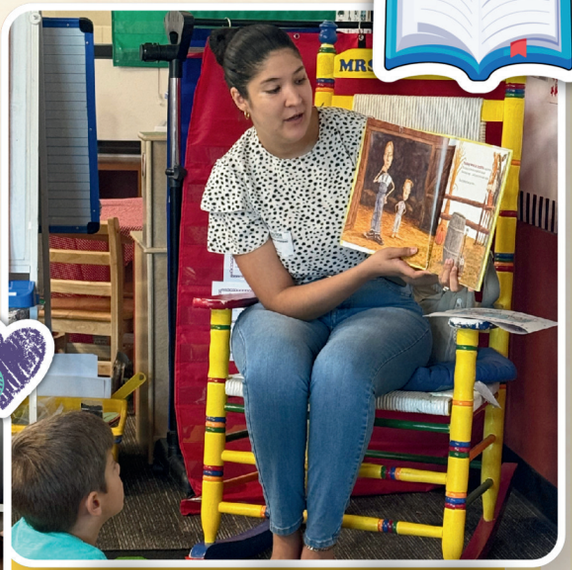

Every November literature-loving, tale-telling community volunteers step into elementary classrooms to read books handpicked by our librarians. At every participating campus, bright eyes shine, big smiles beam, and excited voices bubble up to greet each guest reader.

Promise to Read is a simple way to make a big impact. With just one hour, you can spark imagination, build connections, and brighten a student's day. And give a teacher the chance to introduce a new friend to her students.

Share a great story with some of our great kids; we promise it'll be the best hour you've spent in a while —as you grin at a fox in a box, a mouse in a house, and of the wonder that lives inside a well-told tale.

I Learn

Leadership Katy ISD

A community-based initiative that offeres its members a unique behind-the-scenes look at district operations.

Nearly 25 years ago, as Katy ISD prepared for rapid growth, district leaders saw the need to equip parents and community members with accurate, timely information, empowering them to become ambassadors for our schools. From that vision, Leadership Katy ISD was born.

This initiative provides a behind-the-scenes look into the inner workings of Katy ISD, offering participants a comprehensive overview of every facet of our district. Each year, a diverse group of campus, community, and business leaders are nominated by principals and Leadership Katy ISD alums to participate. The group meets monthly during the school year to learn what it takes to run an enterprise-sized district, exploring areas such as student support services, transportation, curriculum, safety, and finance.

Eye-opening tours of specialized facilities introduce participants to departments and campuses they might not have known existed. Leadership Katy ISD values transparency, with district leaders attending every meeting to answer questions and engage in meaningful dialogue.

Empowered with accurate information, participants return to their campuses, businesses, and neighborhoods to share insights and resources.

Leadership Katy ISD opens the door to awareness, engagement, and connection to build a more informed and united Katy ISD community.

We Grow Together
Sister Schools

Sister Schools was created to make a big district feel a little smaller by pairing two campuses to encourage and support one another.

Each relationship is unique to those two campuses, offering kindness and connection. Sister Schools often share treats or send notes of appreciation to teachers, fostering goodwill across campuses.

While no two Sister Schools relationships are the same, each one benefits staff and students alike. For example, PTAs might gather for fellowship or swap treats for their campus, and principals collaborate and share ideas. Some elementary schools host monthly park playdates, while junior high schools have come together to donate stuffed animals to a local children's hospital. The possibilities are endless.

So find your school's sister, connect with your campus coordinator, and open the door to meaningful connections, community, and joy.

I Inspire
Katy ISD Education Foundation

The Katy ISD Education Foundation unites our community to provide a competitive advantage for Katy ISD students and teachers through targeted investments in our schools.

Imagine a classroom where extraordinary endeavors are the norm, and the creativity of one changes the possibilities of thousands. Since 2013, the Katy ISD Education Foundation has teamed up with big-dreaming Katy ISD teachers to fund that magic.

If your child attends a Katy ISD school, there's a good chance they've experienced the excitement of an Education Foundation grant. With more than $4.5 million awarded through 1,000+ grants, nearly 600,000 students have benefited from the vision and passion of big-dreaming teachers.

The Foundation's Inspiring Imagination grants provide opportunities for educators who, in turn, provide opportunities of discovery for their students — introducing innovative, outside-the-box lessons that spark curiosity and ignite young minds.

The Foundation is a district-level collaboration with volunteer opportunities beyond the campus. Whether it's planning major fundraising events like Fireflies & FoodTrucks, the Limelight Challenge, GROOVE, or Dine Out to Donate, there are countless ways to get involved.

Grants in Action

Our grants have empowered students to explore the world in innovative ways, fostering creativity, critical thinking, and community engagement.

Explore a few examples of recently funded grants and see how these investments are making a difference in classrooms across the district.

Multimedia Marionettes – An Exploration of Music and Motion

Students will create a 3D clay marionette in art, compose a musical motif in music that reflects its personality, and produce a digital GIF of the marionette moving in sync with the music. This cross-curricular project fosters collaboration, communication, creative thinking, critical thinking, problem-solving, student choice, enthusiasm, and self-expression.

Middle School Chronicles

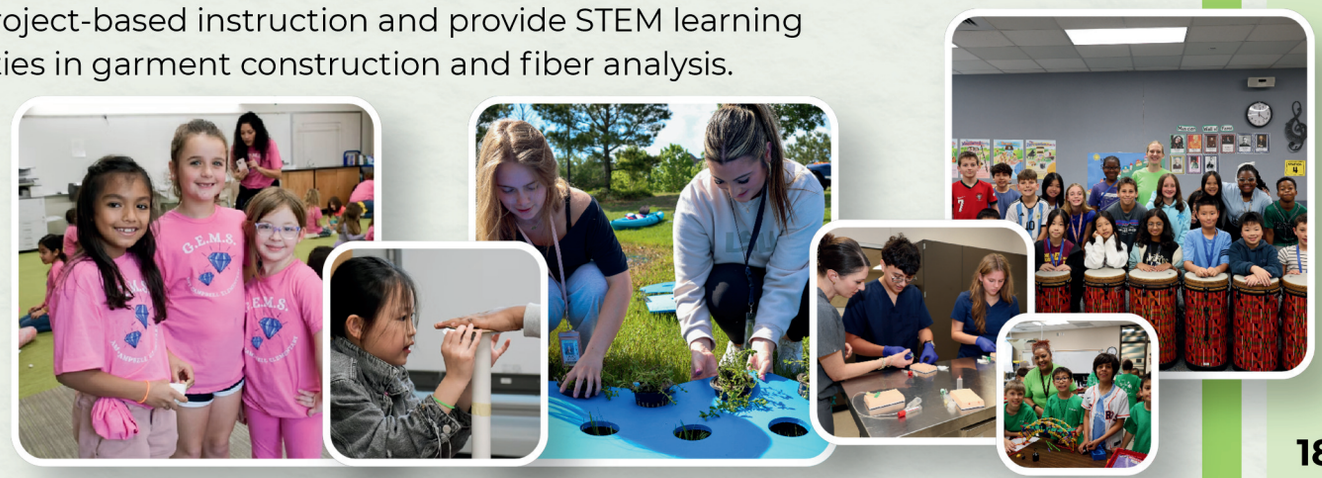

The Middle School Chronicles is a project-based initiative that inspires creativity and strengthens writing skills through the production of a school newspaper. Students serve as interviewers, photographers, designers, editors, researchers, and writers to cover student achievements and school events while building creativity, critical thinking, collaboration, and communication skills.

Beyond the Bin: Reusing Plastic Waste Through Student-Driven STEAM Solutions

This project transforms 7th grade science into a model of sustainability by having students collect and repurpose plastic waste while applying science, engineering, and environmental concepts to real-world problems. Grant funds will support a 3D printer and plastic recycling machine that converts PET bottles into filament, allowing students to design, prototype, evaluate, and create reusable tools while developing critical thinking, collaboration, and problem-solving skills and reducing landfill waste.

Fashion Design: "It's so STEM!"

Fashion Design: "It's so STEM!" provides career and technical education students with hands-on learning in fashion design. Industry-standard equipment, including half-scale dress forms, a wool carding machine, and a yarn winding machine, will enhance project-based instruction and provide STEM learning opportunities in garment construction and fiber analysis.

I Prepare

Junior Achievement

One of Katy ISD's longest and most successful partnerships has been with Junior Achievement (JA). JA programs are offered at select campuses throughout the school year. Lessons provide students with valuable educational experiences in financial literacy, work readiness, and entrepreneurship.

Whether you have a few hours to spare or are looking for an ongoing commitment, there are several ways to get involved and encourage students through hands-on learning. JA volunteers inspire kids to achieve a more fulfilling career and life by contributing professional insights and personal experiences through these programs.

The time commitment for volunteering with Junior Achievement varies, depending on the specific program and school schedule. Volunteers may dedicate one hour per day over five different days, spreading their engagement over a set period, or commit to a single day lasting between four and six hours. This flexibility enables volunteers to select a schedule that best accommodates their needs.

Junior Achievement volunteers make a meaningful impact on students in Katy ISD by equipping them with the essential knowledge and skills needed for a successful future.
