SEAHAWK SPOTLIGHT - CONGRATULATIONS, SEAHAWK WELDERS!

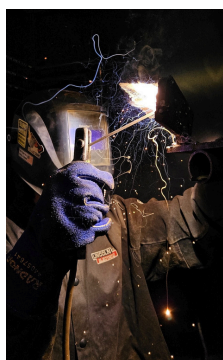

Franklin County Schools Welding Program Earns Statewide Recognition

Franklin County Schools' Welding Technology program has been selected as part of the Airgas High School Welding Education Initiative Class of 2026, a distinction awarded to select programs across the country.

The program is one of only eight high schools in Florida chosen for the honor. As part of the recognition, Franklin County Schools will receive a $6,000 credit from Airgas to purchase welding supplies and equipment, supporting continued hands-on training for students.

The Airgas High School Welding Education Initiative aims to strengthen welding programs by providing resources that enhance classroom instruction and workforce readiness. The recognition highlights the program's commitment to skilled trades education and student success.

Congratulations to instructor Mr. Youngblood and his students on this achievement.
