Before Starting the Home-Delivered Meal Program

A home visit is required and will be conducted once an assessment is completed and eligibility is determined. During the home visit, staff will review the program's guidelines and explain how the Home-Delivered Meal Program works.

Meal Cost

Based on federal requirements of the Older Americans Act, participants are encouraged to make a voluntary contribution towards the cost of the meal. Anyone who receives a meal delivered to their home will receive a monthly contribution summary letter from which they can make their contribution. A self-addressed envelope is sent along with the monthly summary letter. The Home-Delivered Meal Program makes every effort to keep contributions confidential. No participant will be denied a meal if they are unable to contribute.

Delivery of Meals

Meals are delivered approximately the same time each day over the lunch hour. No meal will be left if the participant does not answer the door.

Dietary Restrictions

We do not offer special diets at this time. We offer milk along with your choice of a regular or diabetic dessert. We also offer a meatless entree option.

If you are on a special diet, please consult with your physician or dietitian before starting the Home-Delivered Meal Program.
