THE EASTVIEW STUDENT HONOR CODE

As an Eastview Scholar, I demonstrate Lightning P.R.I.D.E.
by acting with integrity—
doing what is right, even when it is tough.
I understand that integrity builds trust, improves my learning, and prepares me for success
beyond high school.

As an Eastview student, I will

- ALWAYS take responsibility and submit work that reflects my own learning which includes
  - completing work independently and acknowledging collaboration when permitted
  - completing quizzes, tests, and exams honestly and according to my teacher's expectations
  - accurately reporting observations, data, and results in research, labs, and other assigned learning

- ONLY collaborate or share work on assignments, projects, or exams when my teacher gives permission

- NEVER allow unauthorized collaboration (including AI) on assigned learning or share test question information

- ALWAYS use technology responsibly (tools, websites, notes, apps, camera, devices or other resources, including AI)

- ALWAYS remember my responsibility to uphold the Eastview Student Honor Code if asked by a peer to cheat or if tempted on my own to cheat

- LEARN to use appropriate citations for previously published work (documents, web content, AI, video, or audio). I will give credit when I use the ideas, words, or work of others
