Provided through Universal Support Funds

Designed for teams at any stage of implementation, this network builds the knowledge and habits to ensure innovations and evidence-based practices are implemented effectively and sustained over time.

Structured as a three-year experience aligned with the LCAP development cycle, teams will apply initiative and systems analysis as meaningful context for learning and systems improvement by:

- Applying principles of Implementation Science to support effective, consistent, and sustained practices
- Drawing on Improvement Science to study how systems function and where change is needed
- Using data as a tool to inform decisions, guide adaptation, and improve in real time
