Where students landed on the consequence ladder

Each step counts the students who reached it. Two-thirds never received a second referral.

What the data shows

- Violations are concentrated in Grade 8.
- Referrals in Grades 4 through 6 were rare.
- Most students did not repeat. Of the 28 students who received a consequence, 19 received only one.
- Referrals rose in the final third of the year, with May and June the highest months.
- No student was suspended solely for a device policy violation.
- Not enough violations to report at Greenwood Lake Elementary School.
