Flexible Instruction Day (FID) Quick Guide

Overview

AGCS has five approved FIDs that count as school days, meaning they are not required to be made up at a later date. Google Meet meetings will take place and learning assignments are provided for students to complete at home.

Communication

The AGCS administration will inform families and staff of an FID. Teachers and staff will communicate with students throughout the day via Google Meet, email, Seesaw, and/or Schoology.

Attendance

Students will login into their homeroom or first period class at 9:30am via Google Meet. During the virtual homeroom session attendance will be taken. Students will be marked present for the day if they attend the homeroom meeting AND finish their assigned work by the next in-person day of instruction

Connectivity Issues

Families experiencing problems with their internet or other challenges, should email their teacher as soon as they are able to and make arrangements for completing assignments.

Additional Information

For FID expectations, schedules, and FAQs, visit www.agcharter.org

If you have any questions, email your divisional principal or your child's teacher.