What happens on an eLearning Day?

On eLearning Days, students will not report physically to school but will instead work from home. Students will have regular assigned classwork and their teachers will be available electronically during office hours. Students will be required to complete and submit all assignments as well as communicate with their teachers during the emergency eLearning Day.

How will students and parents know if an eLearning Day will take place?

Hampton County School District (HCSD) will communicate school cancellations and the announcement of an eLearning Day through automated phone calls, the district's notification system, district/school websites, social media, and local media.

How will students be informed about assignments for an eLearning Day?

Teachers will deliver content and post their assignments in Microsoft TEAMS. Students will download their assignments to their devices ahead of time at school as part of teachers' emergency plans.

How will students get help on their assignments on an eLearning Day?

All teachers will be available during designated eLearning office hours to provide assistance to students, give feedback on assignments, collaborate, and answer questions.

When will assignments be due?

As students complete their work, they should upload their assignments if Wi-Fi is available. If an internet connection is not available, they will have up to three school days after the last school cancellation to turn in assigned work.

How will eLearning be monitored and counted for attendance?

Teachers will assess the student's work and determine if the student has met the instructional goals for the day.

Students will be counted present when they:

Complete and submit their digital assignments for the eLearning Day following the eLearning procedures
