

Newsletter

Gifted Services - September 2026

CLARITY

One of the biggest myths about giftedness is that gifted learners excel in every subject. In reality, many gifted learners have areas of incredible strength alongside areas that require support and growth. They may read years above grade level but struggle with organization, handwriting, or managing emotions. Every gifted learner has a unique profile, and that's what makes them so interesting!

Rube Goldberg™, The World of Hilarious Invention! Exhibit

Find the fun in failure as you step into the role of illustrator, storyteller and inventor.

The Idea Museum in Mesa
Has the Rube Goldberg exhibit for the Month of September.
For more information visit:
<https://www.ideamuseum.org/exhibit-details/rube-goldberg-the-world-of-hilarious-invention-exhibit>

COMMUNITY

Libraries are filled with curious people, lifelong learners, and endless opportunities to explore new ideas. Encourage your child to ask a librarian for a recommendation on a topic they've never studied before. Curiosity is at the heart of gifted learning.

CONTENT

6th- Rewrites for The Day the Crayons Quit

5th- SEED-Silverquicken

4th - Because of Winn-Dixie book study

3rd - STEM with The Wind and the Willows

CHALLENGE

Choose a new skill you've never tried before. It may be juggling, origami, knitting, or a new card game. Practice for 15 minutes each day for one week. Growth happens when we keep going, even when it's tricky.