		Description of Proposed Work: Renovate the existing screened porch and convert it into a finished office. Construct a new second-floor addition above the existing porch to create a bedroom. Work to include necessary structural framing and supports, new exterior walls, roof framing and roofing, windows, insulation, drywall, flooring, siding, heating, electrical wiring, lighting, switches, and receptacles. Existing porch structure will be reinforced/upgraded as required to support the proposed second-floor addition. The existing screened porch, approximately 12' x 12', will be converted into a finished office, with a new second-floor bedroom constructed above. To support the new structure, the following work is proposed: Install new concrete Sonotube footings/piers below frost depth as required. Install new structural support posts on the concrete piers. Install properly sized structural beams to support the first and second floors. Install new second-floor joists, headers, blocking, and approved structural connectors. Reinforce the existing porch framing as required. Construct new exterior bearing walls for the second-floor addition. Install new roof framing, roof sheathing, underlayment, and roofing. Provide required wall sheathing and structural bracing. Provide a continuous structural load path from the roof and second floor down to the new concrete footings. Connect the new addition to the existing house using approved structural connections and flashing. The proposed concept is to use new Sonotube foundations and structural posts to carry the additional second-floor and roof loads. All work will be performed in accordance with applicable Connecticut State Building Code and Town of West Hartford requirements. 			Ceiling collapse in one of the bedrooms. Possible cause was from leaky roof which caused insulation to absorb the water and created additional weight. Ceiling appears to be homasote that was not screwed in but rather nailed in. All debris was cleaned up prior to inspection.
