Buy American

At Central Bucks, we proudly support domestic agriculture and our local economies by focusing our purchasing power on U.S.-grown and processed ingredients. By prioritizing American farmers and producers for our school meals, we ensure high standards of quality and freshness while proudly keeping our food sourcing close to home.

What's Not on the Menu This School Year?

Just as important as what we serve is what we choose not to. We're continuing to simplify our ingredients by removing certain additives, including artificial dyes and commonly questioned ingredients.

The good news? This isn't a big change for most of our meals—we already used very little of these ingredients. We're simply making sure they're completely out. You may notice small differences in color or appearance, but your students will still enjoy the foods they know and love.

Something's Always Cooking

At Central Bucks, our Limited-Time Offers (LTOs) are designed to bring extra excitement, bold flavors, and fun culinary trends straight to the lunch line throughout the school year. These rotating, special-edition menu items give students something new and unexpected to look forward to every month. Look out for a new LTO every month.

For September, we are kicking off the year with an absolute game-changer (running September 14–18): our brand-new Pesto Chicken Flatbread! This savory creation features tender roast chicken, sweet onions, zucchini, roasted red peppers, and fresh basil, all baked on a warm, pesto-brushed flatbread with bubbling mozzarella cheese and a side of pizza sauce for dipping.
