

Dear Parents,

Weather can be VERY unpredictable. There are often other emergencies that could possibly cause our school to close. Therefore, the state has implemented "eLearning Days" that are a bridge to use to prevent having to make up days when school is out of session. It is my hope that in the situation where eLearning days are used, your experience will be easy to navigate with your 1st grader.

Attached to this letter is your child's eLearning expectations for up to five days. This schedule, along with the scanned documents needed to complete each day's assignments, can also be found on your child's desktop. No internet is needed to open files on a desktop. The icon on the desktop is marked as "eLearning". You will double click the eLearning icon on your child's desktop and simply pull up each day's file and complete the work on notebook paper. If we are out of school one day, complete one day's worth of work. If we are out of school four days, complete four days' worth of work, etc. Also attached to this letter is your child's QR scannable code that logs them in to ClassLink, which in turn takes them to iReady. Your student's password to their computer is taped onto the bottom of their laptop.

Your child has three days to return eLearning work once school has resumed. Failure to turn in eLearning work will result in zeros for each day's subject assignments. This could result in multiple zeros each day. Please take this seriously as eLearning days are not "days off" from school.

On eLearning days, you can always send a message on Parent Square or email if there are any questions or confusions. My email address is mhazel@hcsdsc.org. I will promptly respond to all emails during school hours, between 7:15am and 3:15pm.

Thanks,

Mrs. Hazel
