From the Board of Trustees

Dear Breck supporters and friends,

As we reflect on the 2024–25 school year at Breck, we are filled with gratitude for all the students, families, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends who have demonstrated their love of and commitment to our school’s mission and our bright future ahead.

We take seriously the responsibility of stewarding our beloved school, and within the pages of this annual Report on Philanthropy, you will see donors who have generously supported our mission for decades and many who have made their first gift this past fiscal year. There is no time more important than now for a school like Breck to remain committed to our mission and values and what it means to be an Episcopal school in the context of our world today.

Throughout the course of our school’s history, we’ve had the incredible privilege of working with both families and alumni to lead the future of Breck, recognizing the weight of planning for our future. We are inspired, energized, and take seriously the work that we continue to do through our Future Focus strategic plan and through the planning for future improvements of our campus.

This work can only be done when we all believe in Breck. We are grateful to all of you who have supported us with your time, philanthropy, and leadership, and we look forward to continued partnership year-over-year as we plan for an even better Breck.

In gratitude,

A Joyful Year of Giving, Powered by You

SPECIAL PROJECTS CAME TO LIFE

Donors brought to life our reimagined spaces and programs — from renovations to the ice arena, to building out the Breck Bees program, to improving collaborative furniture, to the creation of the Dean of Leadership role.

LEADERSHIP GIVING REACHED NEW HEIGHTS

More households stepped up as leadership donors compared to the previous year (276 total).

COOKIES SHARED WITH LOVE

Cookiegrams were delivered across campus as a sweet thank you to our faculty and staff.

MORE FAMILIES JOINED IN

Because of you, parent participation in the Breck Fund jumped from 46% to 61% in one year, including 194 first-time donors.

BRECK SPIRIT ACROSS THE MAP

Pairs of Breck socks were mailed to alumni Breck Fund donors across the country, keeping our community connected.

Thank you for being a part of it!

Every cookie, every gift, every donor — it all matters. Thank you for making Breck stronger!

2024–25 Community Giving

Your generosity fuels so much of what makes Breck exceptional. The giving totals below, shown alongside our operating summary, reflect how philanthropy works hand in hand with tuition and additional income sources to sustain our mission and fuel our students' day-to-day experiences.

Uplifting achievement

The Welsh family celebrates excellence in athletics at Breck.

If you want to feel pride in Mustang athletics, take a walk past Anderson Gym and into the Field House. There, you'll find vibrant blue and gold signage prominently displaying cherished Breck sports moments and proudly celebrating the achievements of Breck alums in collegiate and professional athletics.

"There are some really amazing athletes here," says Mary Welsh, who, together with her husband Chris Welsh '90, funded the installation of the signage in spring 2025 (pictured left). "The area of sports has been important for our daughter Sophie [Welsh '25] and a rich part of our family, and it's always been something that we felt like needs to be celebrated more."

When Head of School Natalia R. Hernández and the Welshes came up with the idea for the athletic signage, it felt like the perfect philanthropic legacy to leave with their daughter Sophie, Breck lifer and dedicated athlete, graduating. An athlete through and through, Sophie played both varsity basketball and lacrosse at Breck but dabbled in everything from soccer to swimming to tennis over the years. This year, she will play DIII lacrosse at Claremont McKenna College.

"Breck expects excellence from everybody, and when you leave here, that excellence may manifest itself in different ways, including athletics," Chris, an inductee of Breck's Athletic Hall of Fame as well as a former collegiate athlete himself, says. "At the culmination of Sophie's sports career here, this was a project that really resonated with us."

Mary and Chris have long been philanthropic supporters and champions of Breck's mission — before their daughter even started preschool 13 years ago. Mary, a current Board of Trustees member, attended Breck from kindergarten through eighth grade; Chris, a former Board of Trustees and Alumni Council member, started at Breck in fifth grade and graduated as part of the Class of 1990. The two were also married in the Breck chapel. However, this particular gift recognizing excellence in athletics felt different for their family.

"Breck has given our family so much," says Chris. "So it's not that we're just being philanthropic; we're being thankful for what Breck has provided."

Mary agrees: "Breck has been an important part of our history, and it's helped to shape our daughter into who she is today. [The athletics display] shows the school is proud of their athletes, and I think that's the most important thing."

Total Philanthropy

Total Philanthropy recognizes all contributions given during the 2024–25 academic year, including gifts from parents, faculty, staff, students, alumni, grandparents, parents of alumni, friends, foundations, and corporations. Gifts include support to the Breck Fund, Give Day, restricted gifts, in-kind donations, endowment support, the Blue & Gold Bash, and tribute gifts. The Wilder Bell Giving Society pays homage to Breck's rich past of resilience and tenacity as it recognizes the impact of leadership gifts on Breck's present and future.

Wilder Bell Society

The Wilder Bell (circa 1890) is one of few artifacts remaining of Breck's founding years, symbolizing the school's rich 138-year history of resilience and tenacity. Today, the Wilder Bell hangs just steps away from Breck's Upper School entrance. Each year, two seniors selected by their classmates are chosen to ring the bell before Commencement begins. Maya Trujillo '25 and Wyatt Nicholson '25 are pictured above. This tradition pays homage to all those who have driven Breck to become the nationally-ranked independent school we know and love today.

As we look ahead to Breck's future, we continue to rely on the tenacity and foresight of our community to uphold and nurture the school's mission for all of its students. The Wilder Bell Society seeks to recognize the tremendous impact leadership gifts ($2,500 and up) make on our ability to do so. Thank you for your continued support and generosity.

GAME CHANGERS

Thank you to the Breck community for supporting the 2025 Blue & Gold Bash: Game Changers, highlighting our physical education and athletic departments. At the event, we raised $661,943 and paved the way for every Breck student to reach their highest potential, both on and off the field.

Individual gifts to the Bash are included as part of our Total Philanthropy list.

"My story is just one example of how sports can change the trajectory of a young person's life. Athletics are more than just games—they are real opportunities. Opportunities to develop confidence, resilience, camaraderie, and leadership. Opportunities to uncover talent. Opportunities to advocate for causes I believe in. Opportunities to fail and get back up. And opportunities to open doors that students, like me, might not even know exist.

Had my coaches not had the resources to develop me, had my teammates not had access to these programs, had Breck not instilled a culture of encouragement and exploration—I would not be standing here today." —Jaila Tolbert '15, Breck lifer, former Virginia Tech D1 volleyball player, current sports tech professional, and alumna speaker at the 2025 Bash

Participation matters

Parents from the Class of 2038 achieve the highest percentage of Breck Fund gifts by class. 96% of the Class of 2038 made a gift to the Breck Fund in the 2024-25 fiscal year.

"We choose to donate to the Breck Fund because we see first-hand what goes into trying to create an equitable experience for all of our students. We never want to see cost as a barrier for students to engage in the full Breck experience, and the Breck Fund helps create opportunities for families that might otherwise miss out.

As a faculty member (Upper School Math) and parent, I believe it is important to show my support for the school because I believe in the mission and see that Breck lives up to its stated values every day. My kids are seen and valued for who they are, and I try to do the same for all of my students. The higher the participation, the more committed we are as a community for the continued success of the school."
— Dave Chambers and Carena Crowell-Chambers, parents of Izzy '38 and Isaac '33

“Our family chose to donate to the Breck Fund because we believe deeply in the mission and community of the school. From the very beginning of our time at Breck, we’ve seen firsthand how the Breck Fund specifically enhances the experience of children across all grade levels and all children individually — academically, emotionally, and socially.

The bottom line is that 100% participation sends a powerful message: that our parent community stands united in support of Breck’s mission and the importance of investing in our children’s collective future.

For the Class of 2038, we hope they grow into curious, compassionate, and confident individuals prepared to take on the opportunities and challenges of a rapidly evolving world — and that they will carry forward the spirit of Breck wherever they go and continue to make a positive impact in the world.” — Ben Marks and Allison Schumacher, parents of Jack ‘38

“Our family supports the Breck Fund because Breck has given so much to our child — an education rooted in curiosity, kindness, and confidence, surrounded by teachers who inspire, friends who feel like family, and a community that truly cares.

Striving for 100% parent participation is powerful because it shows that we, as a community, are united in believing in Breck’s mission and investing in our children’s future together.

We hope the Class of 2038 experiences their Breck years as a time of discovery, growth, and joy — and that when they graduate, they carry forward those values as compassionate, confident leaders ready to make a lasting impact in the world.” — Steven Toms and Alicia Luther Toms ‘99, parents of Taylor ‘38

Breck Fund

The Breck Fund is the school's foundational giving priority providing vital resources that bolster every aspect of Breck's exceptional education program and benefit every student. It is also the single most important way you can ensure your gift is used to support our students and faculty within the current year. While tuition covers the basic academic program, the Breck Fund ensures an elevated experience in all academic and extracurricular areas.

We are deeply grateful for our community's support of the Breck Fund. Your gift represents a vote of confidence in the work our faculty and administrators do to support our students each and every day.

This year, we have chosen to list gifts to the Breck Fund by student class year with participation percentage shown in parentheses. All non-parent gifts to the Breck Fund are included in our Total Philanthropy list.

Thank you to the 2024-25 A-Team!

These exceptional Advancement "A-Team" student leaders embodied Breck's spirit of giving through their academic and extracurricular leadership. As part of the A-Team, these students shared their Breck experiences with donors, served as Give Day Ambassadors, led the Tour de Breck tradition, and explored their own philanthropic interests. Thank you for helping advance Breck's mission, A-Team!

Driving success

There are always new and different ways to invest in the Breck community.

When Kim and Stafford Nelson chose Breck for their family in 2004, they were choosing a school for their daughters, Sam '17 and Taylor '20. They may not have realized they were also choosing a community that would continue to welcome them with open arms even after their daughters had graduated.

In 2023, Stafford was searching for something meaningful to do while his wife, Kim, invested her time in various corporate boards and nonprofits after retiring from a career as an executive at General Mills.

"I just started thinking about Breck and the connection that I had here," he remembers. "I had done at least 10 years working with admissions and doing hundreds of tours at Breck, and I realized I just kind of missed the community."

He reached out to Director of Transportation Mark Ryks to see if becoming a bus driver at Breck was a good idea — and even possible. The answer was a resounding yes.

"I have talked to people who I know who have had kids at Breck, and when they find out I'm a bus driver, they're always like, 'You can do that? That's allowed?'" he says. "I love it. I really enjoy the new connection. It gives me a sense of purpose."

For the last two school years, Stafford has been behind the wheel of a Breck bus, building relationships with his riders and their families — in the same way his daughters' longtime bus driver did with them — in addition to attending Breck sporting and community events again. He even inspired fellow Breck alumni parent Eric Shin (Hannah '17, Sam '19, and David '24) to join the transportation team in 2024. (Stafford and Eric are pictured together bottom left outside their buses during the first week of the 2025–26 school year).

Investing in the Breck community is nothing new for Stafford and Kim Nelson, who have long been philanthropic supporters of the school and are even members of the James Lloyd Breck Society, a group of individuals and families who have established a planned estate gift to support Breck.

Working on the transportation team now is just another way for Stafford to participate in and give back to the community that has been so meaningful to his family for the last two decades.

"Breck has always talked about community," he says. "But I have experienced it. And it is the real deal."

James Lloyd Breck Society

Named after James Lloyd Breck, a visionary Episcopal priest in Minnesota, the James Lloyd Breck Society was established in 2004 to recognize individuals who have established a planned gift to support Breck School. These gifts are vital to Breck's long-term financial stability by having a profound impact on academic programs, faculty development, and scholarships. Thank you to all our members.

Continuing a legacy

Breck renames a prestigious faculty chair award in honor of beloved former Headmaster Samuel A. Salas.

The Breck community felt the loss of an outstanding educator when former Headmaster Samuel A. Salas passed away in January. Mr. Salas led the Breck community with strength, grace, humility, and a deep sense of devotion from 1987 until he retired from Breck in 2007.

Mr. Salas had a deep commitment to inclusiveness, service, professional development for faculty, financial aid, and academic innovation. Among the countless accomplishments under his leadership were the introduction of the Lower School modern language program, the Upper School service program, ensuring all faculty had laptop computers, building up the largest financial aid budget in the upper Midwest, and investing in multicultural curriculum development.

Breck has a living representation of Mr. Salas' values through the mosaic in our Chapel of the Holy Spirit as well as in our Salas Commons, renovated in 2013 and dedicated to Mr. Salas for the profound impact he made on our community.

This spring, spearheaded by a number of former Breck Board of Trustees presidents, Breck was honored to rename the Middle School Faculty Chair to be the Samuel A. Salas Endowed Faculty Chair. Because of Mr. Salas' decades-long impact on our school and his commitment to lifelong learning for educators, it is only fitting that this award was renamed in his honor. We are grateful to the donors who helped us ensure that we continue to recognize Mr. Salas' legacy for many years to come.

Mr. Salas' wise and thoughtful leadership left an indelible mark on our school's history, and it will forever be an honor to uphold his legacy.

Endowed Gifts

The Breck Endowment plays a crucial role in ensuring Breck's long term financial stability and supporting our educational programs for future generations. Fueled by generous donations and managed prudently by our Board of Trustees, our endowment is currently valued at $64.6 million. The annual draw from the endowment significantly contributes to the school's operations, providing essential support that covers 6% of our annual operating income. We are grateful to the donors who made a gift to Breck's endowment in the 2024-25 fiscal year.

Alumni Giving by Class Year

Breck alumni have a tradition of being tremendous supporters of the work that happens every day in the classrooms. Generous gifts from alumni help Breck continue to offer an incredible educational experience for our current students. We are grateful to these Breck alumni who donated to Breck in the 2024–25 fiscal year.
