

BUTTERNUT SQUASH

DID YOU KNOW?

- Butternut squash is a winter squash that grows on a trailing vine and is a member of the Cucurbitaceae family along with gourds and pumpkins.
- Butternut squash is medium to large in size and has a bell-like shape with a long neck attached to a bulbous end.
- Butternut Squash has a sweet nutty flavor.
- Butternut squash provides vitamins A, C, and E.

FUN FACT!

Today the farmland where the original Butternut squash was developed is now a golf course aptly named, Butternut Farm Golf Club.

Visit fcsnutrition.com for menus and more info!