

BRUIN

nineteen seventy two

The fall of "71" brought a real change in the environment of NHS. A trimester system was to take the place of the old semester system. NHS gained much, new faces, new ideas, a successful homecoming, a drill team, and the class of "75"

My Generation

Ship of fools
That's what we are.
Seeking truth
We travel afar.

We will go
Where the wind goes.
What we'll find
Nobody does know.

But we'll find
What we're looking for
And after that
We'll seek somemore.

We won't stay
With what is found,
As we look
For unfamiliar ground.

Fools, we're called
By those left behind
In their holes
With unchanging minds.

The Ship of Fools
Will catch the sun
And I know
We have just begun.

Owen K.

SCHOOL BUS

We come into the world alone.
We go away the same.
We're meant to spend the interlude between in closeness
Or so we tell ourselves.
But it's a long way from the morning
to the evening.

Rod McKuen

And here they came.
The new ones that had to find their place. There is no time to slowly be absorbed, to adjust; being here creeps up silently and oh so slowly---until suddenly the beginning is visible only in hindsight.

I think this sport, more than any other, brings out the truth in a man. It shows what he's got. Not only in guts and muscle or strength, but in character. I could look at every guy on that offense or defense, and I could just see what kind of person he was-down inside, even though it may sound silly. You can tell which guys have the strength inside-where it counts. Who were the ones who stayed in that line all season, gutted out every game, even though they were continually up against guys half or twice again their own size? Why does a person do that? Does it get him anything? Materially all he has to account for his work is a sore-as-hell morning after the game, bruises, cuts, and once in a while a hospital bed.

Why did so many guys bear all that pain and work so hard for a bottom position? It's because there's much more to football than first place, even though it's something that's almost never realized or talked about-especially until you've reached the point where you are through playing high school ball.

The only real credit a guy gets for giving his all is his own personal satisfaction and pride. No one ever thanks him for going to daily doubles, practicing before school, in the rain, snow, cold, and heat. No one knows all the little hurts he bears for so long, all the inconveniences, but himself.

HOMECOMING

When was the last time the ASB turned out en masse for anything? This Homecoming was one for the record. Spirit was at a boisterous peak, everyone was hanging loose.

There was pie and pigs; a tug-of-war, that the Frosh won; a serpentine and a bon fire; a dance with SUNSHINE; royalty for all week and a win. The parts weren't great, but they made the whole great. That's the way it was, that week, with the ASB.

G. A. A. ACTIVITIES were a horseback riding clinic and a ski-swap. The horseback riding clinic lasted two weeks and ended with a short trail ride. The ski-swap was a super-success. There were lots of people doing lots of things, like a Miss Ski Bunny contest, ski films, and the swap itself. G. A. A. fall activities ended with the start of the ski season and basketball.

The middle is the transition period. Falling leaves become falling snow becomes falling rain becomes sunshine. It's the time when outside activities aren't as numerous as school activities.

Basketball and skiing share the stage. Everyone is affected by at least one of 'em.

Athletics and ASB keep up the fight, but there's always an olive branch between the two.

Just about everyone works for something different but striving makes kindred spirits. Maybe it's to win, to play that piece of music right, to organize, to out-guess a teacher; no matter, NHS is individuals but it's one.

Now things get longer and longer--and tougher, like 70 minutes of typing, a CWP test, or one of Frau's free lectures on life and sitting out 5 classes a day for a week, for 12 weeks seems forever.

"These years feel like an eternity. There was a beginning, but I can't recall it. We're told there's always an end, even if I can't see it. And I guess I've always believed in things I can't see."

GAA's in its element--snow.
They're either out in it skiing or in out of it playing basketball.

And that means:
TV dinners for breakfast.
Yelling "single" and riding the chair with a 10 year old while your best friend goes up with Mr. America.
Riding through fog for an hour and suddenly breaking into the sunshine and snow.
Making two points--for the other side.
Practicing whenever you can get a gym.
Knowing what it's like to be a team.

Cheerleading is an honor,
A honor meant to share,
Regarded as a priceless gift
to create spirit everywhere.
A person with high standards,
An honor character too,
Someone who puts herself aside
And living to support her school.
But deeper than this it's a feeling,
A way of making friends
Knowing that you're a leader,
Giving where life begins,
Feeling tense and nervous,
Laughing and wanting to win,
Accepting the disappointment of defeat,
Learning to try once again.
Showing the importance of never giving up.
Until a victory's been won,
Being proud of the position you hold,
Caring about your team.

DEBATE--The organized discussion of a resolution, this year, "that the jury system in the United States should be significantly changed." Seven kids turned out for the '71-72' season, 5 debated on the varsity level. On April 1, there was a play-off to decide the tie with Harrington for first place in District 7. See the beginning of the end. Winter fades as spring moves in. A new trimester, baseball, track, senioritis, they're all a part of it. There's a restlessness and stirring that isn't caused by boredom. Suddenly there's so much to do and so little time for the doing.

All the individual events that go into spring trimester are special, each one means something. Concerts, marching rain or shine, sitting on the lawn, elections, plans for next year, solemn ceremonies, banquets, book fines, and graduation.

'71-'72 is over and done. At the beginning it seemed like such a long way to do, but now it seems so short.

How small a grain of sand, a whisp of hair, and man!
How large a grain of time, a whisp of giving, and love.

Remember by finding things within yourself only then will you be able to share them with others.

TRACK

Though small in number, 1972's track squad racked up an impressive number of accomplishments for Newport High.

A new innovation was the girls' track team which succeeded quite well.

Hansen, Gregson, and Waterman finished first, second, and third in their specialities at the district meet in Cheney, qualifying for the State Class A High School Track and Field Competition.

At Seattle, Ray came in fourth in the shot with 52' 11 1/2", and unseated the defending discus champion with a 166' 3" toss.

AUTO SMASH

In an effort to make a significant change in the communities' Environment, the Newport A.S.B. joined with Priest River and Cusick High Schools in leading their respective communities in a massive auto hulk recycling project. The first attempt, a fall project, was launched only to be halted abruptly by freak October snows. The effort was revised in spring and combined with clean-up day resulting in a highly successful operation. Hundreds of hulks, representing tons of scrap were hauled to depository sites with the men from Newport's Operation Help often setting the pace. At the close of school no known hulk that had been discovered, released and roadsided was left to scar the countryside.

HONOR SOCIETY

Every spring those students who have displayed leadership, scholarship, character, and service are tapped into Honor Society. The tapping takes place at an ASB assembly and then a formal initiation takes place at an evening ceremony.

Honor Society is a national organization of outstanding students. Being a member is an important honor.

CARNIVAL

Success and cooperation was never more prevalent than at the 1972 NHS Carnival. The keys were involvement and innovation, and they resulted in making this annual event the best financial endeavour of its kind in years.

Added to the list of attractions this year were such features as a haunted house, a fleet of soothsaying gypsies, and a simulated psychosomatic motion-sickness bin.

A return to grass roots sentiments was evidenced by the country store and county jail. The former showed the popularity of single-price marketing while the latter saw a nostalgic return to vigilante justice. At any rate, their contribution to the night's organized mayhem helped put smiles on faces and frivolity in souls of all who participated.

To top things off, the ticket-selling talents of the senior class vaulted their point total over the large lead built by the juniors and gave the queen's crown to Desireé Mauro. The effort of all the students accounted for one of the biggest raffles ever, and it didn't hurt to be giving away a side of beef in a year when meat prices soared.

Looking back, the 1972 will stand as a landmark to student planning and enthusiasm.

Nothing is more wonderous than a human being when he begins to discover himself.

THREE IN A ROW

The 1972 baseball team surprised the predictors. Following the phenomenal 1971 season, any team was bound to look weak, and prospects for another big year seemed remote.

At first, such opinions seemed justified as the Grizzlies lost three straight contests, including the opening league game. Then a dramatic reversal.

They didn't just defeat opponents they slaughtered them with scores of 7-4, 8-0, 15-2, fourteen games in a row.

On May 27, 1972, Newport High School wrapped up its third consecutive Northeast A League championship, decisively downing Chewelah 16-1.

CLASS MOTTO--It is Not What Lies Ahead or Behind Us That Is Important, Rather,
What Lies Within Us.

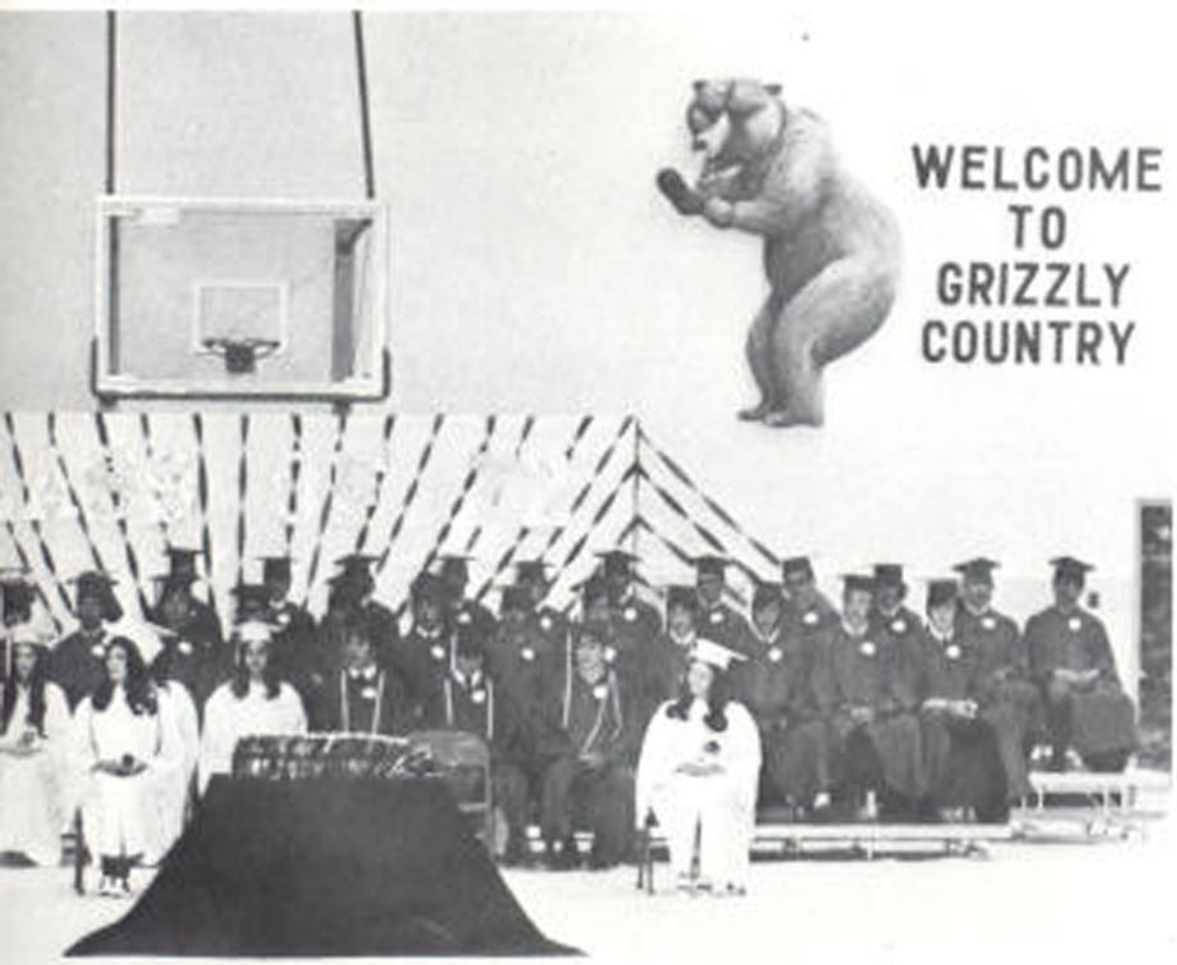

See the footprints in the sand,
traveling from shore to shore,
The tide will wash away those footprints but tomorrow there will be new ones. There always are. Take my hand. We've a long way to go. A lifetime.
