In order that we might comply with the Governor's we should turn off all unnecessary lights. We don't mean that you need to "light your candle" or anything like that, but if a light is not being used, please turn it off.

Each dawn
holds a new hope
for a new plan,
making the start
of each day
the start of new life

URSA

On September 10, 1973 at 1:00 p.m. KUBS FM 91.5 signed on for its first year of broadcasting. This is an educational, interesting, and community oriented station. They have covered election returns, live sportscasts, and interviews. This was made possible by various donations and Jerry Shermen.

CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

Cross-Country Track was a new sport at N.H.S. It is a very exacting race with running 4-5 miles a day for practice and running two and one-half miles at each meet. The team competed in six Northeast A League meets. Participating were Blaine Davis, Scott Rednour, Corey Hunt, Earl Strickler, Matt Stevens, and Mark Rednour.

Mark, a junior, ran to place 5th at District, 7th at the Colville Invitational, and qualified for the State meet at Evergreen High School in Seattle.

Varsity Football at N.H.S. stood for support. Support of the student body for the team by filling two rooter buses to every away game. Though the season was not all we hoped for, the A.S.B. never faltered in backing the team.

Each game won was against a fierce rival in the eyes of our new coach and our seven graduating Seniors.

HOMECOMING "73"

Homecoming at N.H.S. had a new activity added to its already long list, it was the "Great Grizzly Hunt." Each day on KUBS FM a set of clues were given out to seek the whereabouts of the Great Grizzly, which was hidden somewhere in Newport's City limits. On Thursday Jeff Vaughn and Kenny Johnson found the Grizzly, a teddy bear, and won the stereo component set.

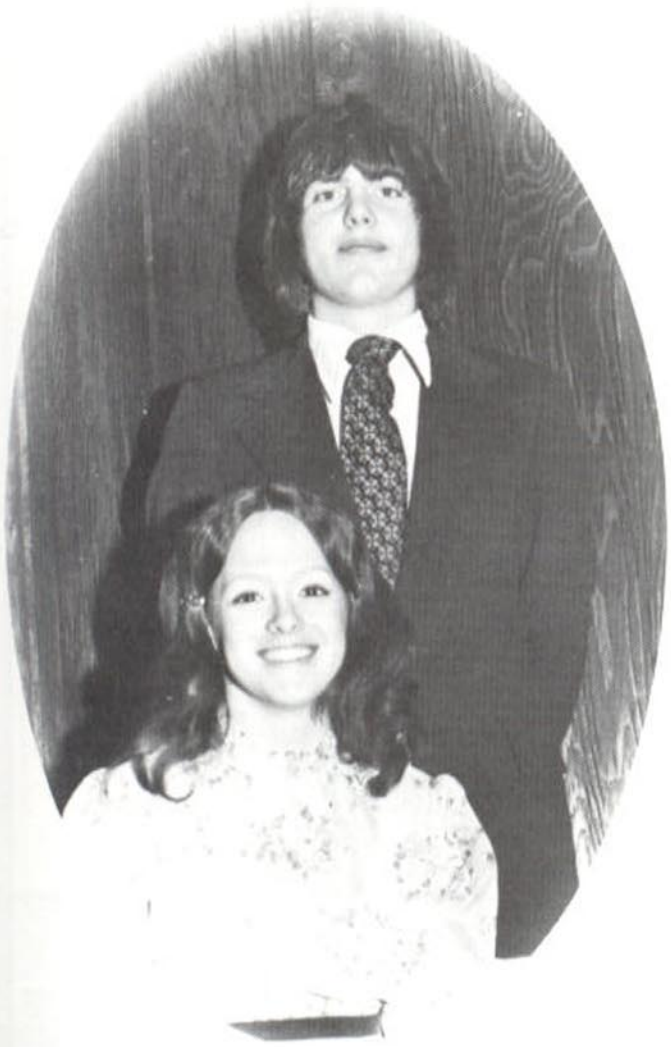

Other activities included in Homecoming week were Slave Auction Day, Slave Work Day, and of course the Bonfire and Serpentine. Saturday night Homecoming week came to an end with a very successful dance.

When he teaches his heart
To find happiness in the little things

But, he's by far more genuine
When he teaches his heart
Not to compare the two.

BEGINNING SKIING

ANCIENT & HONORABLE ORDER OF THE HILL HONKER

The Greater-Lesser North American Hyper-Altitude Hill Honker (Downhillus mogulpecker)

The Honker is a native inhabitant of the upper slopes of Schweitzer Basin in the Idaho Panhandle. It can be sighted from early November to late April moving rapidly up and down the steepest snow covered cliffs in search of moguls which it may overcome in a single flop.

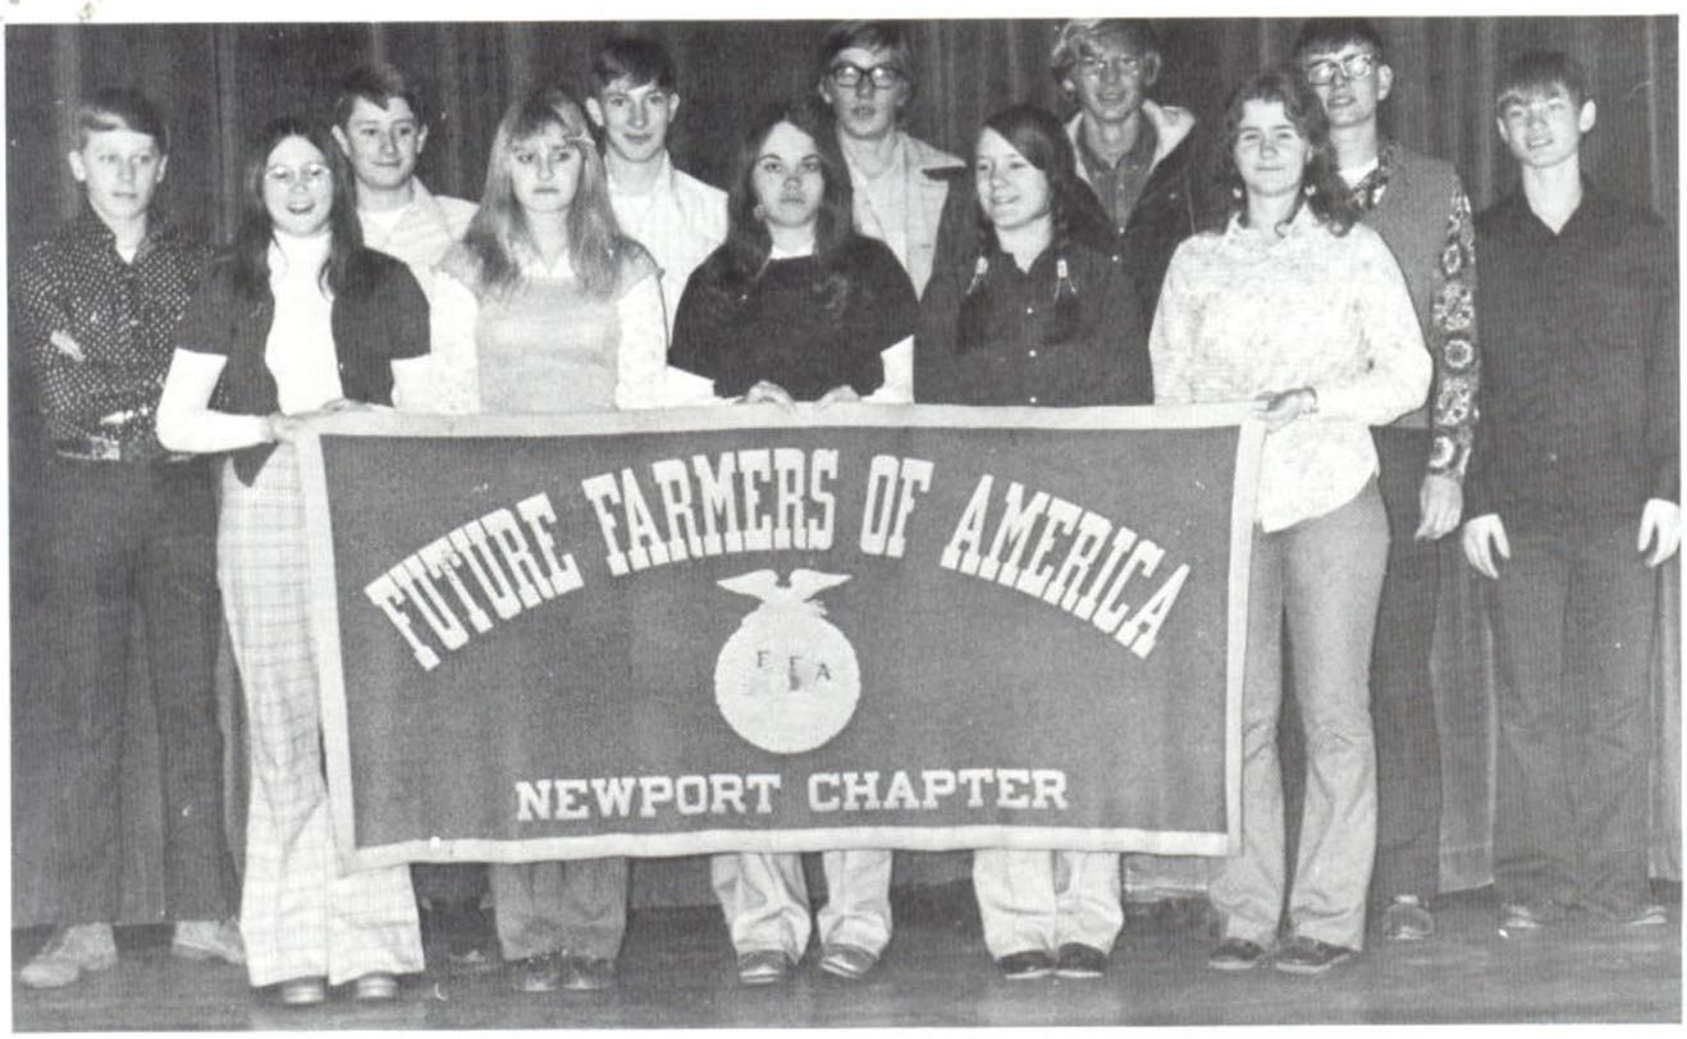

Often sighted on its fat little feet are polished sticks which allow it to abruptly stop, flounder briefly in mid air then burrow head first into unconsolidated snow banks.

The taxonomy of the mogulpecker relates it to the Class Wormington, order Schweitzerian, and it closely resembles in appearance a Colorado variety, the Billus Hasnacuskins. The species molds during the summer months often cooing a soft and mournful call: Sneuuuuu Sneuuuuu.

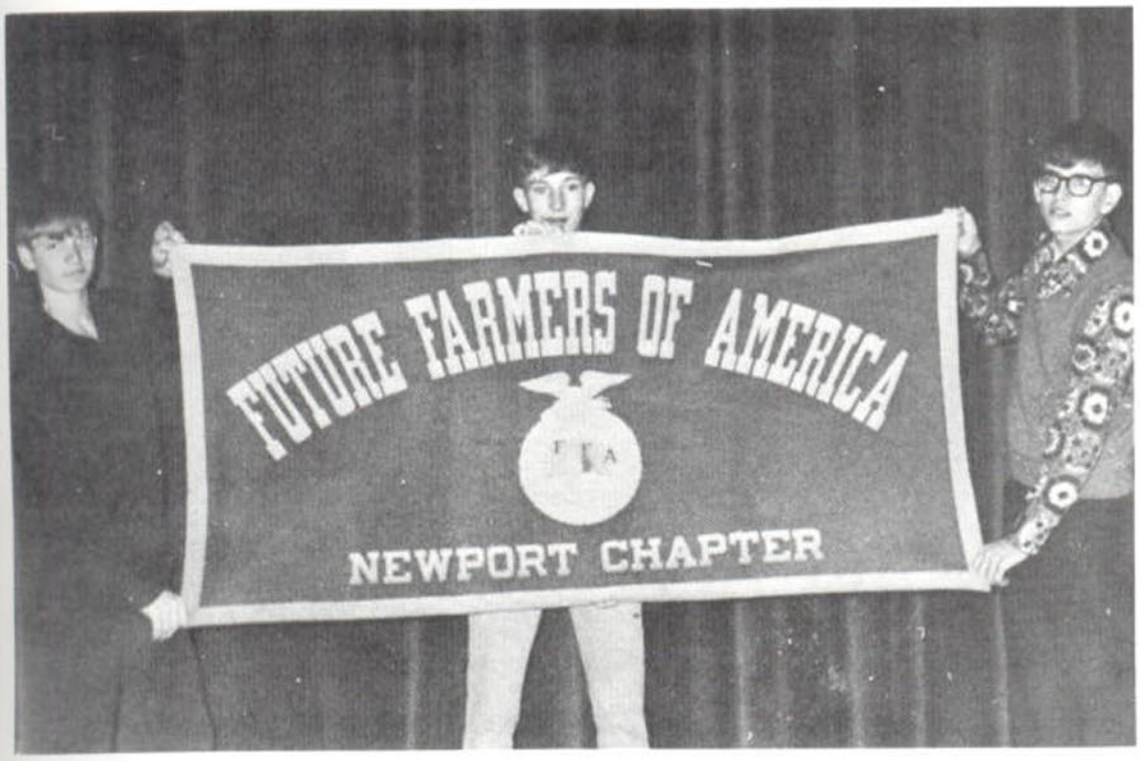

This graceful bird, its number constantly on the increase, has no natural enemies; however its winter activity can be interrupted by work or fracture of leg or body.

Lola Earl, president, is Sub District Treasurer, she has also entered a speech contest.

There will be a Practice session for the Faculty Basketball team tonight at 7:30 P. M. in the Johnson Gymn. This practice will be a closed session to prohibit vital information reaching the opposition concerning intricate offensive and defensive patterns to be used in Friday's basketball game with the Cops.

If I can smile, and by smiling, make one other person happy,
If I can speak, and by speaking, lighten another's load,
If I can touch, and by touching show love,
If I can listen, and by listening, help another hear more clearly,
If I can lend my hands, and by lending, aid another in learning,
Oh Lord, this will make my life worthwhile.

I felt like a loser.
I thought I might redefine
what it means to win.
Then I thought maybe I was

It seemed that to be a winner,
I must play my own game.
If everyone plays his own game,
then there isn't anyone losing.
Can everyone win-
with no one coming in second?
I think it's possible!

When you're happy, share your smile;
Someone else may need your cheer.
When you're brave, show your feeling,
Someone else may conquer fear.

When hope fills your heart, let it shine in your life;
A hopeless person may be encouraged by you.
When yo u've got love, pass it around;
So that others may feel it too.

MR. CRANE

Mr. Crane, a musical comedy staged jointly by the Newport community and the High School music department was enthusiastically received by a packed house. The leads were played by Miller Henry a high school Junior and Mr. Donald Dechenne with a large supporting cast.

JUNE

They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thought.

To understand is to know what to say, and more importantly when to say it.

My life is a constant morning,
a continual awakening to the world around me.
How wonderfully easy the past is swept behind...
to see the present and its possibilities.
