Dear Parent(s)/Legal Guardian(s):

The Hawai'i State Department of Education (Department) remains committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of our students. As part of this commitment, the Department provides education on important topics, including sexual violence prevention (SVP).

The Department understands and recognizes that this is a sensitive subject for many families. To support you in these conversations, the Department is sharing the SVP parent brochure, Let's Talk About Body Safety. This resource is designed to foster open, age-appropriate discussions about personal safety and boundaries in a supportive, caring environment.

To ensure it is accessible to all families, the brochure is available in 15 languages. You can view these translations by scanning the QR code located on the back of the brochure or by requesting a printed copy in your preferred language from your respective school office.

Mahalo for the vital role you play in supporting your child's safety. If you have any questions or need further assistance, please contact the Office of Student Support Services at (808) 305-9822 or via email at osss-svp@k12.hi.us.

Sincerely,

Keith T. Hayashi
Superintendent
