WHAT IS CHILD EVANGELISM FELLOWSHIP OF ADAMS COUNTY?

CEF of Adams County is a non-profit, interdenominational Bible teaching, faith ministry. It is not a church nor a denomination. It is supported by contributions from individuals, businesses, churches and church related groups. Good News Clubs are not sponsored by school districts but by CEF of Adams County. The days and times of clubs are agreed upon by the school administration and CEF of Adams County. There is NO charge to the students who participate. There are no public funds used in the cost of these clubs.

GOOD NEWS CLUB ACTIVITIES

The children will:

- hear a Bible lesson of Bible truths with applications to their lives
- sing gospel songs and choruses
- be challenged to learn a Bible Memory verse
- play a Bible Review Game
- hear a missionary story
- have opportunity to develop friendships in a safe setting

As the children attend the classes, which are held September thru May, they will progress through the Bible in a chronological order and complete it in five years.

Only parents or guardians can enroll their child(ren) in Good News Club by completing the permission slip and returning the slip to the school office.

We look forward to having your child in Good News Club!! If you have any questions, please contact the CEF of Adams County office at 717-677-4797 or at cefadams@gmail.com
