Empowering Our Student

Children Are Like Balloons

by Dan Gauthier

Children are like balloons with a message inside.
They start out small and we inflate them with something of ourselves.
As we pour our lives into them,
they spread sunshine,
give joy,
brighten the days, and
cheer up the sick.
They remind us of being young and that life is fragile.
They celebrate living.

When discouraged, they are like a balloon that deflates.
A simple openness allow us to refill them with hope for the future and feeling that they are special,
and the knowledge that they are loved.

Their enthusiasm is like a balloon carried on the wind with never-ending energy.
They sway and drift, it's then that they need our prayers and loving guidance, without too much pressure
that would cause them to burst.

The time comes, sprinkled with tears and joy, when others are able to read the message we have written on their hearts.
So we let go and with faith we let fate guide our precious balloons.

Not the end...but truly the beginning.

Participation in Title I – ESSA, Eligibility, Program Plan

- ESSA – Every Student Succeeds Act
  - Title I funding is determined according to ESSA regulations

- Federally funded programs offer additional dollars to support schools
  - Title I funds are supplemental and used for schoolwide programs that address the needs of all children in the school, but particularly the needs of low-achieving students and those at risk of not meeting the common core state standards

- Title I Student Eligibility
  - Verified low income data from the state

- McCollum's 90 Day Plan is the Title I Program Plan, reviewed every 90 days, determines how students will be served and is aligned with ESSA
