NICHOLAS SCIME '26

NARDIN ACADEMY ■ XAVIER HOUSE
HARVARD UNIVERSITY ■ 2026 MR. CANISIUS AWARD WINNER

"It's hard to overstate the impact Mrs. Friol has had on me. And I know that sentiment extends to every student who has had the privilege of knowing her. While she's my mentor in Xavier House, it's no coincidence that kids from all over come to visit us each day in our mentor group. Mrs. Friol truly cares about us all. She's there for us when we need someone to talk to, she listens when we complain...and most importantly she's the first person to celebrate us and our accomplishments. This past winter, I looked up into the stands at one of my hockey games and saw Mrs. Friol with her family, cheering us on. That moment says everything about who she is. The relationships she builds, both in and out of the classroom, are ones rooted in genuine care and love."

Department of Mathematics and Computer Science's Mrs. Emily Friol on Scime: "I first met Nick during his sophomore year when I had the privilege of becoming his mentor, and over the past three years I've come to know him in a way that has left a lasting impact on me. Nick's accomplishments are remarkable, competing on both the varsity hockey and baseball teams while earning one of the highest academic averages in the senior class. But what makes him truly special goes far beyond what can be listed on paper. He is humble, kind, and genuinely approachable in a way that draws people to him. It's not an exaggeration to say that I have never met anyone who doesn't like Nick, and that speaks volumes about the way he treats others every single day. Students like Nick remind me why I chose this profession in the first place—he inspires me to be a better teacher, a better mentor, and a better person."

The Ignatian Global Scholars Program (IGS), based in our new Madden Center for Global Learning, inspires students to become global citizens through an immersive two-year experience during their junior and senior years. Participants engage in curriculum, language study, global events, intercultural experiences, co-curricular activities, service, projects, reflection, and evaluation.

HOUSE SYSTEM

The Canisius House System helps students build even stronger bonds and connections with each other and the faculty.

Each student at Canisius High School is part of a House, a smaller family within the larger school community, fostering strong bonds with peers and teachers. Rooted in over 150 years of educational wisdom, our House System develops boys into young men of character, competence, and compassion. It allows each student to be recognized and appreciated as his skills and talents help his House compete for points through academic, athletic, artistic, and spiritual activities.

ACADEMICS

BARON NIEVES '26

ST. BENEDICT SCHOOL ■ JOGUES HOUSE ■ SUNY BUFFALO

"Mr. Cumbo has a way of putting things into perspective and helping you understand the man God is calling you to be. Sophomore year, I never planned on taking his English Honors class, but I am really glad I did. On the first day, he showed us how much time we had already spent at Canisius and how much we had left. At that moment, you really stop and think about your life, where you have been, where you are going, and who you are becoming. And that is exactly what he does. He makes you stop and think, not just about school but about your life. His class was never just about English. He taught us things that went beyond it, lessons that apply to our faith, our lives, and our relationships. It was something different, and every day in that classroom felt like it mattered. Mr. Cumbo is someone who genuinely cares about you and wants to see you succeed. Whether it is in class or walking through the halls, he is always going to ask how you are doing. He is relatable, easy to talk to, and someone who is always there. He makes sure you are on the right track and pushes you to be your best."

English Department member Mr. Paul Cumbo '97 on Nieves: "It's been a gift to journey with Baron through this formative chapter of his path-story. I smile as I recall the odyssey of Socratic rigors in English 10 Honors, climbing rugged Adirondack trails on the senior Wilderness Retreat, and the honest vulnerability of Grad at Grad conversations. He's elicited joy and gratitude from this graying fellow son of Canisius at every juncture, along with plenty of laughter. Baron's courage, integrity, and humility are rooted deeply in a loving heart inclined to serve. Here's a young man who embodies the ethos of Jesuit education."

ELLIOTT DeROSE '26

NARDIN ACADEMY ■ LOYOLA HOUSE ■ AUBURN UNIVERSITY

"Fr. Federico's commitment to his faith, and to the growth of mine, has allowed me to gain the strength to go forth and set the world on fire. Of all the relationships I have built over my four years at Canisius, none has been more impactful to me than the one I share with Fr. Federico. From Head of House to spaghetti dinners, to retreats, Father Fred has guided me in all areas of my life, shaping me as both a gentleman and a faithful servant to God. One of my fondest memories comes from our Mexico immersion trip – an experience that challenged us all in so many ways. Father Fred humbly carried the spiritual needs of an entire town on his back – driven by a love and concern for his neighbor that profoundly touched my soul. From long road trips listening to Sinatra, to getting yelled at for picking the olives out of my puttanesca sauce, to daily talks in Campus Ministry, the laughs and memories I have shared with Father Fred have made my Canisius journey fulfilling and complete."

The thoughts of Director of Campus Ministry Fr. Chuck Frederico, S.J. on DeRose: "From the very beginning of his time at Canisius high school, Elliott has demonstrated a quiet but unmistakable depth of faith. Elliott's actions consistently reflect a sincere desire to live what he believes. Intellectually curious, he engages ideas with depth, yet always with humor. What stands out even more is his care for others – he both listens and responds with compassion. Beyond all that, his laughter is contagious and his sense of humor disarming. His love for family and friends is evident. He approaches every responsibility with a positive attitude. His presence enriches every community he is part of, because he contributes his gift through his heart."

Following the Jesuit tradition of educating and caring for the whole person, students are invited and encouraged to participate in a wide variety of co-curricular activities. There is something for everyone at Canisius!

MATTHEW CARVER '26

ST. MARY SCHOOL, SWORMVILLE ■ GONZAGA HOUSE
VILLANOVA UNIVERSITY

"Ms. Tyrpak-Endres has always been an enormous influence on the person I am, not only in the ways she taught me, but also in the way she made me and my classmates feel. At morning Mass, she greeted everyone with a smile and would always stay after to talk before the day started. She had a way of making class something you looked forward to, while still challenging us to think critically about everything we covered. But her teaching never stopped at the classroom door. Whether we stayed after class or ran into her outside of school, there was always something to take away from the conversation. More than any material she covered, Ms. Tyrpak-Endres taught us how to be Men for and With Others, showing us what it looks like to move through the world with respect, honesty, and care for the people around you."

Religious Studies Department member Ms. Andrea Tyrpak-Endres on Carver: "Matthew Carver is a fine and diligent student and a dedicated athlete. He works hard in all his pursuits in the classroom, on the ice or on the field. He loves to tinker and is energized by figuring out how things work and how to improve upon those that do not work so well. But beyond this, Matthew is a good man. He has seamlessly grown to become a young man of character, compassion and kindness. He is both humble and generous with his time and talents. He is unbelievably optimistic and enthusiastic and most happy when he is doing something for someone in need, whether that need is big or small. He truly leads by example with all his positive qualities."

CAMPUS MINISTRY / SERVICE

Through our service program, each Canisius student volunteers at least 100 hours over four years, learning that service experiences are as valuable as classroom time.

From freshman service days to extended immersion experiences in our Companions Program, the focus on regular service fosters a desire to help others and instills a lifelong commitment to justice.

Since its beginning in 2008, over 1100 Canisius students have participated in a Companions Immersion Trip. Recent immersion trips have taken Canisius throughout the United States and to different parts of the world:

- Belize
- Cincinnati, OH

DAVID BARCZAK '26

ORCHARD PARK MIDDLE SCHOOL ■ ARRUE HOUSE
MERCYHURST UNIVERSITY

"In my four years I have made friendships that will last a lifetime. Most of them are people I've met playing baseball, hockey and golf at Canisius. The standard that is held for Canisius athletes is like no other. We are being pushed to our limits constantly, which has helped me develop tremendous amounts of discipline – and humility. Mr. Belsito was the adult leader in my small group on Kairos and soon after he became my coach. I'm proud to say I feel that I have grown with respect to my character and maturity because of what I have been taught by mentors and coaches in my four years. I will continue to say this time and time again: Coming to Canisius was by far the best decision that I have made in my lifetime."

Coach Sam Belsito's thoughts on Barczak: "David Barczak is a strong leader amongst his classmates and teammates. His character and morals are elite, while his work ethic and grit are superior as well. David has the respect from many and is never afraid to speak his mind. His ability to get his message across without offending anyone is mature beyond his years. All of these qualities will serve David well in the future. He is for sure a true Crusader and Man for Others." He's been a joy to work with."

COLE FREDERICK '26

ORCHARD PARK MIDDLE SCHOOL ■ LOYOLA HOUSE
UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

"Mr. Zera is one of the first people I met at Canisius, and his impact has helped transform me into the person I am today. His guidance, kindness and determination have all been characteristics that I aspire to have myself. Whether learning in his classroom freshman year, to playing for him on his basketball team, Mr. Zera has always inspired and motivated me to become a better version of myself. In the classroom, Mr. Zera has taught me to always push myself and to strive for academic excellence. On the court, Mr. Zera has shown me the work ethic and determination that is needed to excel in sports, but also in life. I am truly blessed to have met Mr. Zera at Canisius, and I am honored to call him a teacher, coach, and most importantly a mentor."

Mr. Joseph Zera '01 on Frederick: "I taught Cole in Geometry Honors and coached him for two years on the JV basketball team, so I got to see him in a couple different settings. In class, he was steady and dependable. He took his work seriously, didn't cut corners, and you could trust that he would follow through. On the basketball court, he was the same way. He didn't try to force anything or draw attention to himself. He was coachable, reliable, and willing to do whatever the team needed on any given day. What stands out most is that Cole never seemed motivated by recognition. He's humble, respectful, and easy to work with. There's a maturity to the way he carries himself that makes him someone people trust right away. Cole is one of those students who represents what it means to be a 'Man for Others' without having to say it. He's earned respect here simply by how he shows up every day. It's been a pleasure having him in class and coaching him, and I know he'll continue to build on these same qualities after Canisius."
