Boyer's Buzz

We are starting to get into a rhythm and getting into the meat of the individual curriculums. We had our first week of homework help and that will return after Labor Day. Please continue to monitor your student's academic progress from Power School and reach out to any teacher if you have a question. Next Friday is our first midterm!

With our first midterm coming next Friday, that also means we have our first incentive event. KIS will be having a cookout next Friday where lunches will be extended and students who earn the incentive will get some ice cream and be able to go outside and have some fun. The way students can earn all of the fun is to have NO MISSING ASSIGNMENTS!

I will remind everyone next week as well, but students are out Monday, Labor Day and the Tuesday after for a teacher work day. Have a great weekend!

Student Service "Healthy Social Boundries"

5th and 4th Grade Parents,

This week Mrs. Gulley, school counselor, met with our 5th and 4th grade students to introduce a lesson on "Healthy Social Boundaries." Like any skill--whether math, language arts, science or social studies--social skills develop through practice and reflection.

Understanding Social Drama

Social challenges often arise when friendships or group dynamics become complicated. These situations typically occur when:

- Someone shares information that wasn't theirs to share
- Friends take opposing sides in disagreements
- One person tries to control friendships or social groups (though everyone has the right to choose their own friendships)
- Playful behavior crosses the line into disruptive conduct--school environments require different standards than home settings
- Students make comments about others' appearance or clothing choices
- Students seek attention through unexpected classroom behavior that may distract others
- Ongoing disrespectful actions, such as eye-rolling, side conversations, or excluding peers from activities

Key Takeaways

During the lesson, students learned important phrases to establish and maintain healthy boundaries:

- * "Please don't put me in the middle."
- * "I'm not a puppet-I make my own choices."
- * "I need some personal time, please."

We encourage you to ask your student about these concepts and how he/she can apply them to their daily interactions. Thanks for your support.
