MITES Info Session & Student Panel – Sept 24, 5PM...

Dear Y.E.S., I Can Scholar,

Congratulations on your success in aligning yourself with the Y.E.S., I Can Scholar's Creed. Our team is incredibly proud of your achievements, and as we move forward, we know you will continue to exceed our expectations!

One of the major benefits of participating in our program is gaining access to admissions and scholarship opportunities through our collaborations with higher educational institutions, specifically regarding their pre-college programs.

We are excited to confirm that on Thursday, September 24, 2026, at 5:00 PM EST, we will host a virtual presentation featuring dual speakers:

- Reimi Hicks, Associate Director of Recruitment & Admissions for MIT's MITES program
- Kelci Keddo, Y.E.S., I Can's senior high school scholar, who is currently enrolled in the MITES Semester Program.

Their presentations will focus on the student perspective of the program and the prerequisites for admission. Please note that for Y.E.S., I Can scholars looking to apply for the MITES 2027 programs, are required to first connect with the Y.E.S., I Can Team before initiating an application. It is essential to emphasize that competitive candidates for MITES programs not only have exceptionally strong academic records but also demonstrate strong community involvement or commitment (which we will provide examples of), and demonstrate a passion for STEM.

Because of the heavy time commitment and discipline required to succeed on this journey, parental support is vital. Therefore, we require your parents to join you for this presentation.

If you and your parents are committed to attending, please RSVP (ambyese@gmail.com) at your earliest convenience. Upon receiving your RSVP, we will forward the link to join the virtual presentation.

Warm regards,

The Y.E.S., I Can Team
