

Tutoring Resources

PPSC Tutoring for PPSC classes only (not CSU-P or Western classes)

1. Click here for more information and to schedule an in-person meeting. Or follow this click path: Pikespeak.edu> Academics> Tutoring
2. For Online Tutoring: “NetTutor is live and already embedded into your Desire to Learn (D2L) class shell. Access from your specific class shell, by clicking the ‘Student Resources’ tab, and then selecting ‘Online Tutoring’.”

Other Resources

1. PPSC Helpful Videos for Math

- a. Click on the links below or follow this click path: Pikespeak.edu> Admissions> Orientation> Student Video Resources> Student Success
 - i. Math Note Taking Tips
 - ii. Math Test Review Tips

2. Khan Academy - Has many college ‘courses’ (especially College Math courses) that will allow you to relearn topics and to complete practice questions and/or quizzes. It’s FREE and you can also practice for the SAT on the site.

- a. Click or go to <https://www.khanacademy.org/>
- b. Click Sign up and create a free account
- c. Click Explore and select the subject you want help in (for math select Math: High school & college) (for SAT prep select ‘Test prep’)
 - i. For most College ‘courses’, look for “AP/College...”
 - ii. For College Algebra, the class is not alphabetical, so look toward the bottom of the math courses list.

3. Modern States - Has college ‘courses’ ONLY. The site will allow you to relearn topics and to complete practice questions and/or quizzes. It’s FREE and there is a possibility that completing a ‘course’ will allow you to take the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) test and earn college credits for passing the test.

- a. Click or go to: <https://modernstates.org/>
- b. Click Sign up and create a free account
- c. Click Courses and select the course you need help with
- d. To test for CLEP, you must see your Counselor first.