My extensive board and committee experience has equipped me with the specific strategic, financial, and oversight skills needed to effectively serve on the Iowa City Community Schools School Board. As Board President for a historical house museum, I partnered directly with the museum director to build sustainable yearly budgets and identify new, vital revenue streams. I also led strategic planning meetings to launch and support key museum initiatives. This experience taught me how to align financial realities with ambitious organizational goals. Similarly, my time on the Board of Directors for the Junior League of Columbus honed my abilities in project oversight and community engagement. I actively oversaw multiple fundraising initiatives, developed actionable strategies to support our community projects, and worked deliberately toward making the League a more inclusive organization. Beyond these roles, my service on national professional committees and within academic medical settings has given me a broad perspective on complex systems, collaborative problem-solving, and institutional governance. I am eager to bring this background in fiscal stewardship, strategic planning, and inclusive leadership to the district.

Is there anything else you would like to share with the board to get to know you better?

As an individual who is visually impaired, I bring vital lived experience with disability to the board, reinforcing my dedication to accessibility and inclusion for all students and staff. My lifelong passion for public education is deeply rooted in my early career serving as a community health worker and program coordinator for an after-school program in San Francisco's largest housing project. These foundational experiences reinforced my firm belief that a free, high-quality public education is essential to creating equitable opportunities and sustaining a vibrant, democratic society. While my background and values drive my commitment, my ultimate motivation is simple: I want to serve. I offer a unique personal perspective, proven leadership experience, and an unwavering commitment to ensuring Iowa City schools deliver the highest quality education to our entire community.
