

Cashmere High School Daily Bulletin

Friday, September 11th, 2026

Happy Birthday: Brenda Carillo-Esquivel, & Silas Kane and over the weekend to Yarel Velazquez-Inzunza, Chloe Niederstadt, & Mr. Valeri

Schedule: Regular Lunch: Hot dog with Chili or Chilli Haystack

Important Reminders

DONUT CHALLENGE WINNERS!

The results are in! Congratulations to the classes that reached 100% completion first in each size category! Mrs. Gemeinhart, Mr. Bremer, Mr. Valeri, Mrs. Satterfield, & Mr. Yousey's classes Your donuts will be delivered to your classrooms shortly!

Football Game Tonight

The Bulldogs are on the road Tonight at Royal!
 Theme: CAMO! Come out and support our Dawgs!

College, Military, & Career Visits Here @ CHS

Navy Recruiter: Questions about enlisting in the Navy? Stop by the Navy recruiter's table Thursday, September 17th during lunch.

College Recruiters Coming to CHS: Spots are limited! Sign up on the counseling office window.

- Grand Canyon University: Tuesday, September 15th at 10:30 a.m.
-

Upcoming Meetings

Key Club: First meeting is Tuesday, September 15th at lunch in Mrs. Gemeinhart's room. Interested in helping your community and getting involved? Come check it out — treats will be provided!

FBLA: Interested in Future Business Leaders of America? Attend an organizational meeting Tuesday, September 15th during lunch in Mr. Loftus' room. There will be popsicles!

Jostens Senior Meeting: Next Wednesday, September 16th at 9:25 a.m. in the Commons. Seniors, your year is here! Jostens will cover senior gear, caps and gowns, graduation essentials, and more!

HOSA: Interested in a career in healthcare? Come check out our brand-new HOSA club! The first meeting is Thursday, September 17th at lunch in Miss Story's Room. Learn about healthcare careers, HOSA competitions, and fun opportunities. SNACKS & PRIZES!

Community Service Opportunities

 Blood Drive: September 17th from 10:00 a.m.–2:45 p.m. Donors receive one hour of community service and a Hello Kitty plush!  Students under 18 need a parent permission form, available in the office or Mr. Thomas's room. Sign up through the Red Cross website or scan a hallway QR code.

 Team Okanogan Animal Rescue: Rescue Rocks Fundraiser at the Leavenworth Festhalle. Friday, September 18th: Set-up. Saturday, September 19th: Morning set-up or evening clean-up. Scan the QR code on the Career Center window to sign up!

Today's Events

 Chelan County Fair

 V Volleyball — Yakima SunDome Tournament | 9:00 a.m.

 V Football — @ Royal Bus Departs: 3:15 p.m. | Game: 7:00 p.m.

Saturday, September 12th

 Chelan County Fair

 JV/V Cross Country — @ Manson
Bus Departs: 10:00 a.m. | Race: 12:30 p.m.

Sunday, September 13th

 Chelan County Fair

In Remembrance of 9/11

The Man in the Red Bandana

Good morning. As we pause today to remember the events of September 11th, I want to share the story of a 24-year-old named Welles Crowther. For those of you in high school today, 9/11 is a chapter in a history book. But for those of us who lived through it, we remember the confusion, the fear, and the heroism that followed.

When the South Tower of the World Trade Center was struck, the 78th-floor sky lobby was plunged into chaos, smoke, and darkness. Survivors who were trapped and injured described feeling like there was no way out.

And then, out of the thick, blinding smoke, a young man appeared. He wasn't panicking; he moved with calm authority. Over his nose and mouth, he wore a red bandana to filter the ash. It was a simple handkerchief his father had given him when he was a boy, telling him to 'always have something on you that could help someone else'.

One of the survivors, Ling Young, later recalled how he came out of nowhere, saying, 'I found the stairs. Follow me'. He carried a badly injured woman on his back, leading a group down 17 flights of stairs to clear air.

But Welles didn't keep going down to safety. He turned around and went back up into the burning tower. Survivor Judy Wein remembered his clear voice cutting through the panic, telling them: 'Everyone who can stand, stand now. If you can help others, do so'.

He turned a site of trauma into a mission of survival. Welles Crowther saved as many as 18 lives that morning before losing his own when the tower collapsed.

When we say 'Never Forget,' we aren't just remembering the tragedy. We are remembering the helpers. We are remembering that character isn't built in a moment of crisis—it is revealed there. You don't need to be a superhero to help someone in the dark. Today, let's honor the 'Man in the Red Bandana,' and all those we lost, by having the courage to look out for one another.

"At this time, we join millions across the country in pausing to remember the nearly 3,000 innocent lives lost on September 11, 2001—the victims, the first responders who ran toward danger, and all the families forever changed by that morning.

As we reflect on their memory, the courage of everyday heroes, and the resilience shown in the days that followed, please bow your heads and join me in a moment of silence."

"Remember, to give anything less than your best is to sacrifice the gift." — Steve Prefontaine

Have a great day, Cashmere High School!

GO DAWGS! 🧡💜