ANDERSON ISLAND ELEMENTARY EAGLE NEWS

Welcome Back, Eagles!

What a great way to start the 2026–2027 school year!

It was wonderful having all of our Eagles back at Anderson Island Elementary today. Our students did an outstanding job getting settled, reconnecting with one another, and working hard throughout the day to learn our Eagle routines and expectations. There was a lot of excitement in the building, and it was great to see our classrooms full again.

I also really enjoyed getting the chance to catch up with many of our families during Success Conferences this week. Those conversations and connections are an important part of what makes AIE such a special place.

As we begin the year, our staff has also been working hard to develop a new School Improvement Plan that will help shape our work at Anderson Island Elementary over the next three years. As that work continues, we want our families and community members to be part of the conversation. School improvement at AIE is about more than one program, one initiative, or one measure of success. It is about continuing to strengthen how we support student learning, how our school systems work, and the culture and community we create together. We want to continue building on what makes Anderson Island Elementary great while looking for meaningful ways to get even better.

In the coming weeks, we will share opportunities for families and community members to provide input and help shape that work. Your perspective matters, and we want your voice included.

It was a great first day, Eagles. I'm excited for another year of learning, growing, and continuing to make AIE better together as we remain Anchored in Excellence throughout 2026–2027.
