Our September focus across all of our classrooms is centered around our monthly character trait, Being Respectful. Respect is a foundational habit that helps children build strong relationships, navigate challenges, and feel valued for who they are. At school, students practice respect by actively listening when others are speaking, honoring personal boundaries, taking care of shared spaces and materials, and using polite language. At home, families can strengthen these habits by inviting kids to help with chores, establishing uninterrupted time during conversations where everyone takes turns talking, and encouraging siblings to use kind words, even during disagreements. By modeling and reinforcing respect consistently in both environments, we give our children a clear, unified foundation for how to treat themselves and others with dignity.

Parent Teacher Conferences

Tomorrow, your child's teacher will send an email about parent-teacher conferences scheduled for September 24th and 25th. The email will explain that you will access the sign-up link through the PowerSchool Mobile App and MyPowerHub parent portal. The sign-up link is located in the newsfeed of both applications.

The following link will take you to the MyPowerHub support site, which has a quick tutorial on signing up for conferences.
