Health Screenings and Services from the Hunterdon County Health Department

The Hunterdon County Health Department's Public Health Nursing Division provides health screenings, education, resources, and support to Hunterdon County residents. Services are available to help residents stay healthy, identify potential health concerns, and connect with appropriate health care and community resources.

If you or a family member needs health care services, has questions about your health, or is having difficulty accessing care, contact the Hunterdon County Health Department.

Whether you have health insurance, are uninsured or underinsured, or simply need help finding the right resources, our Public Health Nursing staff can provide information, support, and connections to care. Some services are available to all residents, while others are available based on eligibility.
