When should I be worried about my student's grades?

Reach out early if you notice:

- Any grade below 70% in a class
- Missing assignments showing in PowerSchool
- A sudden drop from a B/A to a C or lower
- Low quiz or test scores even if homework is complete
- "I don't know" or "nothing" when asked about assignments
- Grades not improving after two weeks of effort/support
- Your student seems overwhelmed, avoidant, or discouraged

Effective Study Strategies

Distribute	Distributed or spaced practice: Distribute studying across multiple sessions rather than massing it in one session.
Interleaving	Interleaving: Mix up the content of what you are studying rather than studying just one type of content.
Chunking	Chunking: Group ideas together into meaningful chunks of information.
Make	Elaboration: Make meaningful associations with what you are studying.
Practice	Retrieval practice: Practice recalling and using information.
Overlearning	Overlearning: Keep studying well after it feels like the material is mastered.

Helpful questions for students

1. Families can help by asking: “What’s your plan?” instead of “Did you finish your homework?”
2. “How are you keeping track of your assignments and deadlines?”
3. “Who at school do you feel comfortable going to when you need help?” Encourage them to connect with that adult.

CRJS Family Bulletin

The CRJS family bulletin is a communication for current CRJS families updated on Friday when school is in session. It includes school news, event information, community updates, and more. Please read it carefully to stay up to date on the latest school information.

Week of September 16

Thank you to the parents who joined us for our first 'Coffee and Chat with the Principal.' It was a wonderful opportunity to connect and discuss the important ways we can collaborate to support our students. During our time together, we focused on upcoming events such as Latino/a/e Heritage Month and Homecoming, which sparked valuable conversations about how we can work together to create an event-filled year that will be awesome for our students.

As we look ahead, Sunday marks the beginning of Latino/a/e Heritage Month. To celebrate, we will be holding a special event every Friday at 2:10pm, featuring a Spanish Examen followed by a small cultural celebration. Throughout the next thirty days, students will also learn about different Spanish speaking countries, enriching their understanding of the diverse cultures that make up our community. A special thank you to the parents who volunteered to provide Latin American snacks on Fridays. Your contributions will make these celebrations even more meaningful.

Our next family event is just around the corner - Curriculum Night on September 19 from 5:30pm to 7:00pm. We truly value your partnership in your student's education, and this evening is an excellent opportunity to experience what it is like to be taught by our incredible faculty. Teachers will share course information, explain the curriculum, and answer any questions you may have about the upcoming year. Your participation is key to ensuring the success of your student, and we look forward to seeing you there. RSVP HERE by September 18.

This week concluded with a school assembly where students were informed about some important upcoming changes as they prepare to start work. Each student received a paper copy of their current academic progress report, providing insight into their academic standing.

Beginning the week of September 16, work will commence, and transportation times will adjust accordingly. School hours will remain from 7:45am to 3:08pm, but if your student takes
