

Welcome to 4th Grade!

I am so excited to be teaching 4th grade this year! Our daily schedule will consist of 3 main cores and enrichment. Core I will be our math core, Core II will be reading, and Core III will be writing and social studies/science. We will have library time every Thursday this year starting the second week of school.

Reading, grammar, and writing assignments will be presented in packets. Reading and writing packets will be due weekly and math assignments will be due daily. Daily assignments that are not completed in class must be taken home as homework the day that they are assigned and returned to school the following school day.

Homework packets are sent home every Thursday and the previous homework packet needs to be signed by an adult and turned in each Thursday. The focus of the weekly homework packet is math fact practice, cursive, and reading fluency. New reading packets are assigned every Monday. Every Monday students will receive a new weekly reading packet and the previous reading packet is collected. This packet will be completed in class each week. If students are unable to complete daily work it needs to be completed as homework and returned the next school day. A new math lesson is assigned every day and daily math is homework if it is not completed in class.

As 4th graders, students will be writing 5 paragraph essays over the course of three weeks. Writing lessons are assigned on the first day of each week and are due at the end of each reading unit. Writing must be completed in class or as homework in order to be prepared for the following class day.

Google Classroom and Clever.com are great resources for parents and students to find material covered in class and all of the websites that we use in class. Clever, HMH Into Reading, Big Ideas Math, IXL, Google Classroom, XtraMath, and Google Suites will be the main websites/platforms we will be working with daily.

I am looking forward to a very exciting and successful year with all of you,

Mrs. Johnson
