They are important

I think they would all be helpful

Those are the things that are most important

Most important

Because communication is key creates an healthy environment.

To feel in partnership with the school.

It's apart of my village

I've observed some parents need support from home.

Will help house hold

Important

Parent engagement is critical to student success.

Just think it could help

Parents would like to know how their kids are doing and what can be done to increase their learning as they move up. Also it is good to know what areas that they struggle in.

Kids coming off summer break

It's important to me

It starts at home

Relates most to me and my family

When we work together it makes everything better.

Very important

Providing more information for the parents

Because it's important for teacher and parents to communicate

I want to know what is going on with my student

I believe they are valuable when raising kids

Communication and feedback are critical to so that parents are best informed of how to help their child academically.

Improvement of engagement with parents

They are all vital for the educational need for the child and the parent.

I would like to be more interactive with counselors and my child

I'm a big supporter in the school and always here ! Love to be involved

Staying engaged

Further educate teachers and provide resources.

These topics seem to address buy-in from parents and guardians.

I'd like for us to work as a team for my child.

That's all the things I feel need to be worked on

Keep us engaged and up to date with today's way of teaching

To further keep students on track after school hours

Family Engagement Budget
