Post Doc Week 2026

Audio	Video
[Hilansi] Postdoc appreciation week is a celebration, like every year, third week of	Post docs in a classroom seating around tables as faculty discuss mentoring
September, we celebrate achievements of postdocs. We	Group of postdocs seated around a conference room chatting and eating breakfast as others select food from a buffet organize multiple workshops or events, and we do a lot of like social events	Woman at a podium discussing writing scientific papers as a group of postdocs seated at tables listen and do networking. All the postdocs, we have like PhDs. So basically it's like a transition, you know, towards like becoming either	Panel of faculty, seated at a long table at the front of a lecture hall with post docs listening in the audience.
an independent researcher then having like their own lab or maybe the postdoc can go into like industries.	Faculty member standing on the floor of an auditorium talking about building engaging presentations to a group of postdocs Postdocs are very essential, like, you know, building blocks of the future, of the science or research	Faculty addressing a group seated around individual tables in a classroom community. So we should, like, just always support each other, network and just enjoy science together,	Woman in a brown flora top standing beside a sign promoting the schedule for National Postdoc Appreciation week. Text: Hilansi Rawat, P H D President, Postdoc Association so that we can enhance the research of this institute	Faculty panel seated at a table as postdocs listen in the audience or like the scientific community.	Faculty member in an auditorium talking to a group