Rosemead School District Schools Earn PBIS Platinum Recognition for Excellence in Positive Behavior Support

Rosemead, California: is proud to celebrate a remarkable achievement as all five of its schools—Encinita Elementary School, Mildred B. Janson Elementary School, Muscatel Middle School, Savannah Elementary School, and Emma W. Shuey Elementary School—have earned PBIS Platinum recognition for their outstanding implementation of Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS).

This districtwide accomplishment reflects the commitment of educators, staff, students, and families to creating safe, supportive, inclusive, and welcoming learning environments where every student is encouraged to succeed.

PBIS is a proactive framework that promotes positive behavior by establishing clear expectations, recognizing students for demonstrating those expectations, and using data to create supportive systems that address student needs. The Platinum level represents a high degree of implementation, consistency, and sustainability of PBIS practices.

“We are incredibly proud to see all five of our schools recognized with PBIS Platinum honors. This achievement reflects the unwavering commitment of our educators, staff, administrators, students, and families to fostering positive, respectful, and supportive school communities. As the Board of Trustees, we are proud to support practices that ensure every student feels a sense of belonging and has the opportunity to thrive. This recognition is a wonderful reflection of the heart and dedication that define the Rosemead School District,” shared Board President Nancy Armenta.

“Having all five of our schools recognized at the Platinum level is an extraordinary accomplishment and a testament to the dedication of our entire school community,” said Dr. Philip D’Agostino, Superintendent of the Rosemead School District. “Our schools are committed to elevating every student by creating environments where students feel valued, respected, supported, and empowered to reach their full potential. This recognition belongs to the teachers, staff, administrators, students, and families who make positive school culture a priority every day.”

The district’s five schools have each embraced PBIS in ways that reflect their unique school communities while maintaining a shared commitment to positive relationships, high expectations, student belonging, and academic and personal success.

The recognition highlights the collective efforts of:

- Encinita Elementary School
- Mildred B. Janson Elementary School
- Muscatel Middle School
- Savannah Elementary School
- Emma W. Shuey Elementary School

The district is especially proud that this achievement encompasses every school in Rosemead School District, demonstrating a shared vision for student well-being and positive school culture across the TK–8 educational experience.

“PBIS is more than a program—it is a reflection of how we intentionally build relationships and create a culture of belonging,” said Dr. D’Agostino. “We are grateful to our staff for going above and beyond each day to ensure that every child has the opportunity to learn, grow, and thrive.”

The Rosemead School District congratulates all five schools and extends its appreciation to the students, families, educators, classified professionals, administrators, and community partners whose collective efforts continue to strengthen the district’s schools.
