1. Narrative description of the Prop 28 arts education program(s) funded. (2500 character limit).

During the 2025-26 school year, Central Unified School District utilized Proposition 28: Arts and Music in Schools (AMS) funds to expand equitable access to high quality visual and performing arts education for students across the district. Each school developed and implemented a Proposition 28 site plan aligned with state requirements to strengthen and expand arts education opportunities based on local student needs. In accordance with Proposition 28 requirements, funds supported 10 full time certificated arts educators, including dance teachers serving elementary, middle, and high schools, elementary art teachers serving 14 elementary schools, and a Transitional Kindergarten music teacher providing instruction across multiple elementary school sites. Funding also supported 6 classified employees who assisted in delivering visual and performing arts programs. Proposition 28 funds were also invested in expanding visual and performing arts curriculum, professional development for VAPA teachers, musical instruments, new pottery equipment, instructional supplies, musical instruments, and transportation to expand student participation in arts instruction, performances, festivals, exhibitions, and other educational experiences. These investments strengthened districtwide visual and performing arts programs while increasing equitable access to standards-based instruction in dance, music, visual arts theater, and related arts disciplines. Through strategic investments in personnel, curriculum, instructional resources, and professional learning, Central Unified continued to enrich student learning, creativity, collaboration, and artistic expression while expanding access to comprehensive arts education across the district.
